Claffin Club of Newtonville Welcomed Honor Men in Service

The Claffin Club of the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church gave a welcome Home Banquet to the returned service men last Thursday evening, January 29th. About 150 sat down to well laden and beautifully decorated tables, which had been commodiously arranged in the lecture room.

The returned boys of the club, church and Sunday school were the guests of honor and were seated together. Not all of the 50 on the honor roll could be present, but a large proportion was able to attend and enjoy the evening.

Great pains were taken to make the occasion dignified and fitting, full of the spirit of appreciation and welcome home, yet free, easy, and natural. The efforts made were rewarded, as all present can testify.

Promptly at 6.45 the dinner committee announced, "dinner is served." The 150 men found their names on the place cards and were soon seated. Rising, all joined in the "Star Spangled Banner," after which Mr. George W. Taylor, the toast master, called upon the pastor, Rev. Dr. Charles R. Ross, who asked the divine blessing at the close of which the company stood with bowed heads in silence as a tribute of respect to the memory of Corporal Wesley E. Rich and private Norman H. Hyslop, who died in service and private J. William Smith, who was killed in action in France. In the hush, taps were sounded. After another reverent pause the men were seated and operations began.

At the head guest table were Mr. W. H. Lowery, president of the club; Mr. George W. Taylor, toast master; Mr. John Kendrick Bangs, speaker of the evening and the pastor, Dr. Ross. This group was buttressed right and left by service men.

At each place was a song card. Between the courses Mr. Ralph Somers led the jolly throng in singing the popular airs. By the results he got, the men, though having an abundance to eat, were not too full for utterance.

The ladies quickly and quietly brought on the courses: Fruit cocktail, oyster patties, celery, olives, biscuit; roast turkey, cranberry sauce, mashed potatoes, squash; ice cream, cake and coffee. There was no question about the fierceness of the attack. The veterans of Belleau Wood or Chateau Thierry were hardly "in it" with the banqueters.

When the battle of mastication was over, Mr. Taylor addressing the returned boys spoke some fitting words of appreciation and gave them a hearty welcome home. He then facetiously introduced Mr. Bangs urging the hearers to pay close attention to the speaker, so that when he had finished they would have all in a nut shell. Mr. Bangs at the mention of nut shell felt his head as he arose and said, "Ladies and gentlemen, returned service men and (turning to Mr. Taylor) 'Fellow Nut.' The laughter which followed matched that which arose at Mr. Taylor's mention of the nut shell, but it took an international humorist to match "Our George." That was but one of many occasions during the evening when the men were unable to control their risibilities.

Mr. Bangs spoke on "The Lights and Shadows of the World War." He paid a high tribute to our service men. He made every man present feel proud of our American youth. He denounced Bolshevism in every form here and abroad. He cried out against the organized propaganda, against England which certain forces are now promoting on American soil. He showed the wisdom of standing by our Allies now with whom we fought so successfully for world lib-

A GREAT SUCCESS

Newton Elks' Bazaar Attracted Crowds of People All Last Week

The Elks Bazaar held in Elks Hall last week was most successful. One approached the hall through a narrow entry which was gaily decorated with flags of every description.

The booths themselves were striking in color. Among the most conspicuous were the Green Booth, the Doll Booth, the Yellow Booth, the Blue Booth, the Red Booth, the Purple Booth and the White Booth, while the Candy Booth, as always, was one of the most popular. Mr. John J. Doherty was chairman of the Bazaar committee, Mr. George M. Cox, ticket distribution chairman, Mr. Henry W. Crowell, chairman of the transportation committee, Mr. George F. Tracy, chairman of the hall decoration and planning committee, Mr. Thomas J. Sullivan, and Mr. Bancroft L. Goodwin, chairman of the donation committee, Mr. J. Edward Callanan, chairman of the souvenir program committee, Mr. William Hopkins, chairman of the refreshment committee, Mr. Oswald J. McCourt, chairman of the amusement committee, Hon. Edwin O. Childs, chairman of the reception committee, Mr. George P. Flood, chairman of the advertising committee and of the booth and novelty committee.

Among the women to whose efforts the success of the bazaar was in no small measure due were Mrs. Willard L. Sampson, chairman of the whole, Assisting her were Mrs. George P. Flood, chairman of the Green Booth, Miss Georgia M. Winslow, chairman of the Doll Booth, Mrs. Margaret E. Brennan, chairman of the Yellow Booth, Mrs. Mattie Barwise, chairman of the Blue Booth, Miss M. M. Shields, chairman of the Red Booth, Mrs. A. W. Fairweather, chairman of the Purple Booth, Mrs. James P. Burns, chairman of the White Booth, Miss Frances M. Cahill, treasurer, Mrs. Walter T. Hanigan, chairman of the Candy Table.

THE CIVIC CLUB

Has Secretary Langtry and Attorney-General Allen as Guests

Two high state officials were guests of the Civic Club of Newton at its annual meeting held Tuesday evening at the Newton Clubhouse. They were Secretary of the Commonwealth, Hon. Albert P. Langtry and Attorney General J. Weston Allen of this city.

The attendance at this unique club, was unusually small, but those present enjoyed the excellent menu set forth by Steward Piper, the good music which enlivened the feast, and heard both sides of what may be called the "red" movement in this country.

Mr. Langtry has spoken many times in and around Boston on the Bolshevistic movement and most everybody knows his views on this subject. He gave first a most pessimistic picture of the present conditions in Russia and then followed with some interesting facts and figures of the extent of this propaganda in this country. It may astonish many of our good people to learn that there are 30,000 Bolsheviks in Massachusetts and while we do not have the largest number in any one state, yet the fact remains that we do have here the largest number per capita of any state. Mr. Langtry, in closing expressed his conviction that America was able to resist this world wide movement and would still stand for law and order.

Mr. Allen was late in arriving from

THE BOY SCOUTS

Norumbega Council Preparing for Drive Coming Next Week

A few days ago one of a group of men waiting for the train at the Newton station said: "I see that Life is to have a Boy Scout number. I had an interesting experience with one of those youngsters coming up from Providence recently. There was a slight accident and several people were cut and bruised. There was no doctor at hand and no one seemed to know what to do until a boy about thirteen years old stepped up saying, 'I think I can help; I'm a Boy Scout.' 'Sure enough he did; took hold and gave first aid, so that when the doctor arrived he said just the right thing had been done.'"

"I can match that," remarked another of the group, "you know I am a concrete engineer. While building a dam in the western part of the state, a boom broke, breaking a man's arm. A Scout put it into a splint long before we could get a doctor and when he came he said just what your's did—that the kid had done a first-rate job."

"But here is something nearer home than that" broke in a third man. "I have a boy who is a scout and has been hiking and camping with his troop. Just now we are without a maid and when my wife got the grip last week, the boy insisted upon her going to bed and he got all the meals. You see he had learned to cook while out camping."

POLICEMEN AS ASSESSORS

Aldermen Question the Advisability of Establishing Such a Policy

The aldermen had some discussion at the regular meeting Monday night over the desirability of employing policemen to serve as assistant assessors during the coming year. Mayor Childs had nominated William Kiley, Edward P. O'Neill, Michael J. Keating, Michael J. Carroll, Richard L. Bannon, Nicholas Veduccio, John J. Monaghan, William M. Riley, Patrick J. Burke, Bartlett Cullen, Thomas J. Burke and Edward A. Moan for these positions and before confirmation, several aldermen questioned the policy which this would inaugurate. Alderman Young said he had been informed that the Assessors had suggested this method in order that the listing of the polls, this year, might be done more quickly in view of the fact that an extra $3 would be collected this year from the city for the soldiers' bonus, and the bills ought to be issued as soon as possible. Some of the present assistant assessors were quite old and others could not now afford to give the time necessary for the $5 a day pay. City Solicitor Bishop was called in and said there was no legal objection to this plan. The matter was discussed by Aldermen Jewell, Allen, McAuslan and Clement and was finally referred to a committee composed of Aldermen Nichols, Carter and Rogers.

President Harriman was home ill and Vice President Forknall presided in his stead. Aldermen Goodwin and Blake were also absent.

At the hearing on the petition of the Texas Co. to locate an oil filling station corner of Lexington street and Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale, Messrs. Oakley, A. Leslie Harwood, Jr. and Jesse A. Leonard appeared in favor. The Company proposed to take down the old Ford building at this point and establish a good looking station.

No one appeared at Edison pole hearings on Beaumont avenue and Waban Hill road, North, and on the proposed sewer in Waban avenue. Mayor Childs sent in requests for $306.13 for Workmen's Compensation account, for $13,729.37 for school salaries, $250 for plans to improve the old church building, and $675 for protection of Child life, as recommended by the Board of Health.

Newton Classical High School

Monday morning, Feb. 2, the Boys' Debating Club resumed their regular meetings, which have been postponed of late on account of the city government lectures which have taken up most every Monday for the past month. It was decided at this meeting to arrange a debate with Everett, who has offered the club an opportunity to debate with them in the near future. Among other measures passed upon was the appointment of an entertainment committee, which will make plans for a gym. Dance to be given sometime next month. Because of the fact that there have been no debates for a long time, it was decided to hold an impromptu one, that morning. Six speakers argued the question of "Daylight-Saving," each speaker giving off-hand information, as the time allowed.

The Alumni—Newton H. S. Track Meet was run off with a great deal of success on last Saturday night. Although the Alumni had the upper hand because of the older members which were present, the undergraduates put up a good fight and showed the way to victory in two or three events. The Alumni won by a margin of 19 points.

The summary:—

The Hockey Team has had several hard battles during the past week, but has yet to suffer a defeat other than the one Cambridge handed the Newton fellows, two or three weeks ago. Melrose fell in her contest 7-1. This game was accompanied by a great deal of slugging and rough stick work, but nothing dangerous occurred. The playing of most of the team was mediocre. In the game with Belmont on Thursday of last week, Newton once more piled up 7 points to Belmont's one and played exceptionally fine hockey. On Saturday, Noble & Greenough were bitterly defeated 11-0, and before the game was over, Newton was winning with her substitute team. Macomber, Harris and Crosby were the best men that day, together with Coady who pushed the puck into the net for 4 scores during the game. On Wednesday, Feb. 4, Arlington will meet Newton in the last outdoor league contest of the year. Following this date, the remainder of the league games will be scheduled for the Ice Pavilion in Cambridge.

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY

Our Part in Americanization

That 1231 residents of Newton, above the age of ten can neither read nor write English and that this is the very lowest estimate, may well arouse the more fortunate to forward steps. According to Charles F. Towne, we in America have been too busy expanding ourselves to consider the immigrant in terms other than muscle. Yet the foreigner has much to bring. We turn with reverence to the poetry of Dante, the glorious sculpture of Pheidias, the music of Tchaikovsky but in their compatriots living in this city, we see little culture or education—because we lack a common medium for expression and a sufficiently sympathetic interpretation. The war has made us realize the need for unifying our many races and we attempt to hasten Americanize. The teaching of English either through classes or through the homes is of course an essential step. A few such classes have been started in this city. The books and some of the teachers have been provided by the school department. In one village forty young Russians organized themselves and came asking for books and maps in order to have evening classes. The need is great, vary with each racial group, the general statistics for illiteracy among the Southern Italians being 54 per cent, while that of the Finns is one, so that we must study the racial background of each group in order to treat the problem intelligently. We need this understanding also to encourage the immigrant in the development of all the talents, crafts and ideals for good that he may bring, in harmony with the best in America. A series of booklists prepared by the library will appear on "Americanization"—some containing books particularly helpful in their interpretation of life in the homelands of the immigrants. Encouraged to incorporate with their ideals the best in ours and in their love and loyalty for America, naturally the newcomers turn to American citizens for examples. Thus for each of us there is an individual responsibility. The more we learn of the methods of Americanization and realize the great gifts the foreigner has to bring as well as the possibilities and obligations of our own government, the more quickly shall we welcome and understand the immigrant.

THE FLORIST SHOP

"The Florist Shop" is a delightful one-act play with a truly human touch mingling both pathos and humor. It was given Saturday night by the Eliot Guild at the Hunnewell Club.

The principal character, Maude, is an assistant in the florist shop who takes a deep interest in all who enter the shop sometimes sending flowers to those in need without enclosing any name, sometimes giving advice to the bewildered.

Through her advice and clever management, Mr. Jackson, who has been engaged for fifteen years to Miss Wells without setting the date of the wedding, is at last prevailed upon to do so, and a happy marriage results.

The parts were acted with sympathy and understanding. Mrs. Edward B. Botsford, took the part of Maude, Mrs. Frank A. Day, Jr., the part of Miss Wells, Miss Georgia Campbell the part of Mr. Jackson, Miss Ruth Litchfield, the part of Henry, and Miss Gwendolyn Currier, the part of Slovisky.

As a part of the entertainment, Miss Grace Pack gave several readings, and the Horwood orchestra played for dancing.

BOOST YOUR CITY AND TOWN

BOOST YOUR city, boost YOUR friend.
Boost the lodge that YOU attend.
Boost the street on which YOU'RE dwelling.
Boost the goods that YOU are selling.
Boost the people round about YOU.
They can get along without you.
But success will quickly find them if they know that you're behind them.

Boost for every new improvement.
Boost the man for whom YOU labor.
Boost the stranger and the neighbor.

So sings the Detroit Free Press in a little ditty which has the merit of possessing both truth and a certain amount of poetry.

AMERICAN LEGION NEWS

The Post will conduct a dance at the Armory on Monday night, February 16th. Chairman "Joe" Campbell of the Entertainment Committee is in charge. Further details will be announced later.

At the meeting of the Post, which will be held next Monday, February 9th, President Henry J. Harriman of the Board of Aldermen will speak in regard to the proposed Memorial to the Service Men of Newton. This is a matter which should be of great interest to every member and it is the wish of Commander Weeks that every effort be made to attend.

Michael W. Murray has been appointed Post Insurance Officer, and has at his disposal all the latest literature, etc., and will be glad to assist any member who wishes to consult him with reference to War Risk Insurance, allotments, and any other matters of this nature.

Heywood S. French has been appointed Post Rehabilitation Officer, and with his committee of seven, is acting in conjunction with the Newton Branch of the Red Cross in handling the cases of any wounded or disabled veterans in the city.

Adjutant Harry Strandquist has recently tendered his resignation, owing to the fact that he was leaving the State, and his going will be the cause of regret to everyone in the Post, because, aside from being a hard working and conscientious officer, he was one of the most popular members.

Under the provisions of the Constitution, the Executive Committee has appointed A. R. Stubbs to the post of Adjutant, and has also appointed Henry R. Viets to represent Ward 7 on the Executive Committee.

Under the direction of A. Page Brown, Athletic Officer, the Hockey Team is getting in shape for the game with Malden this week. The use of the rink at the Erac Burn Club has been placed at the disposal of the "puck chasers" and they are working hard to develop into a fast aggregation.

The week of Feb. 15th has been designated "Make friends with the Alien" Week and the Churches and Schools throughout the city are being asked to cooperate in this work by holding appropriate ceremonies.

The Adjutant has received 100 tickets for the monster Athletic Meet to be held at the East Armory, Boston, Feb. 23rd, under the auspices of the Legion. These tickets will be on sale at the meeting next Monday. Owing to the small number of tickets on hand members are urged to place their orders early, as it will be a case of "first come, first served."

B. M. BURKE ENLARGES GRAF-OLXA DEPT.

Owing to the surprising growth in the Columbia Grafonola and record business Mr. B. M. Burke decided to enlarge this department by taking into his concern Mr. Joseph H. Gildea as a partner.

Mr. Gildea is the organist and director at the Church of Our Lady of this city. Previous to that he occupied the same position at St. Mary's, Lynn. While there he had the distinction of training the St. Cecilia Choral Society of that city, which performed in concert with the world's greatest artists, among whom were Farrar, Galli-Curci, Barrientos, McCormack and Paderewski.

Mr. Gildea is a graduate of High School of Our Lady, Boston College and Boston Normal School. For the past two years he has been an instructor in the Boston Continuation School, which position he is resigning to take charge of the Grafonola department in Mr. Burke's store at 295 Centre street, Newton.

"Yes, you may drink Ginger Ale but it must be White House"
Kiddies, as well as grownups, like the smooth mellowness of White House Ginger Ale. They can safely have their fill, for White House is not astringent, but stimulates the stomach to a healthy action. SMITH COLLEGE DRIVE

The Smith College Alumnae of Newton are making plans for a very active campaign. A well-attended meeting of the Newton Highlands Alumnae met last Friday at the home of Miss Marion Dorr on Lake avenue. After the business meeting in which many plans for raising money were discussed, tea, and the famous Smith College muffins were served.

It was decided to hold a Jumble Shop next Friday and Saturday afternoons at 51 Lincoln street, Newton Highlands. Those in charge are as follows: Miss Marion Dorr, chairman for Newton Highlands; Mrs. Albert S. Hutchinson, chairman for Newton, in charge of the children's dresses; Mrs. Donald D. McKay, assistant chairman for Newton, in charge of the tea room; Mrs. Marsden Griswold, in charge of food table; Mrs. B. Walter Godsoe, in charge of Children's Grabs; Mrs. Harvey F. Hatch, in charge of Arts and Crafts and Fancy Articles; Miss Bessie D. Jones, in charge of Potted Plants; Mrs. John H. Locke, in charge of the Jumble Table.

The Smith College Alumnae of Waban, fourteen in number, have also held a meeting, and are to hold a bridge next Tuesday at the home of Mrs. E. E. Conway, Winsor road.

Dr. H. H. Powers' lectures in Channing Church, Newton, on different phases of the European situation, continue to be well attended, while the Alumnae of Newton are hoping for a large audience at the concert in Hunnewell Hall, next Sunday afternoon.

THE PLAYERS

The Players are giving this week in Players' Hall, West Newton, their 78th series of plays in this city. George Cohan's well known play "Seven Keys to Bald Pate" is being presented to audiences which fill the hall to overflowing. Four performances are being given, on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings, with the last one coming tonight.

The cast includes Miss Caroline L. Freeman, Miss Hope T. Parks, Miss Dorothy Speare, Mrs. Pitt F. Drew, A. L. Wakefield, W. V. M. Fawcett, Geoffrey Baker, W. V. V. Marsh, Philip W. Cary, Prescott Warren, L. D. G. Bentley, Senator Thomas Weston.

Mr. Frank E. Fowle is acting manager, Mr. Frederic T. Parks, stage manager, with Mrs. Warner Marshall as assistant.

When t'he Pipes Freeze

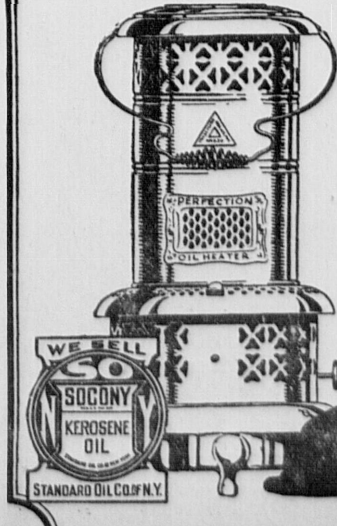

—or in any other cold-weather emergency—call on the Perfection Oil Heater. It is always reliable. It warms up the cold spots—acts as a willing helper to your furnace—and will often carry the whole burden when heating systems break down.

The Perfection is clean, safe, odorless, convenient. In bathroom, nursery or bed-room, it brings heat to the spot—and just the amount desired. It is very economical—gives glowing warmth for ten hours on a gallon of kerosene. Easily filled and re-wicked. Creates no ashes, soot or dust. Over 8,000,000 in use.

Use SoCo's kerosene for best results.

a previous engagement at the Revere Chamber of Commerce, and spoke only a few minutes. He was of the opinion that deportation was not the correct method of solving the matter, for as he pertinently said, that while you may deport one of ten thousand people, you cannot deport an idea, and where you cut off one objectionable head, ten would grow in its place. He believed that education was the best remedy. He pointed out that the capitalist who was cutting his 300 per cent dividends, as well as the laborer who was receiving fabulously high wages for short hours of work, were equally responsible for the present condition of unrest. He also criticized all those who were grumbling about the prohibition amendment to the national constitution, as opening the way for others to criticize other fundamental laws of the country.

President Fred M. Blanchard presided and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year, Ex-Alderman Edward P. Bosson, president; Messrs. Walter H. Barker, Sumner Clement and Loren D. Towle, members of the executive committee and J. C. Brimblecom, secretary-treasurer.

THE MASQUERADE

Only he who has had the privilege of attending one, fully realizes the huge amount of fun that lies in a masquerade. The ludicrous costumes, the uncouth actions of the wearers, and the imperceptible contrasts, such as the fat lady dancing with the dwarf, all contribute in filling the minds of those present with nothing but pure joy and wholesome merriment.

On Saturday, January the thirty-first, the boys of the Fessenden School and many young girls from the nearby communities, together with several guests and parents, enjoyed one of these merry events in the school gymnasium. It started about seven-thirty, with a grand march, and the last notes from the tired but willing orchestra were not heard until ten-thirty.

After the grand march, the dancing began, and continued, with frequent outbursts of unrestrained laughter, until the unmasking, which occurred about eight o'clock. It was then that a would-be elephant, in its hurry to make its double identification known, twisted itself into a double bow-knot, and had to be tenderly withdrawn from the scene by means of its trunk. It was then, also, that two clowns, who had been chasing agilely around the room and falling over everything in general, surprised all by turning out to be Mr. Fessenden and Mr. Williams, the headmaster and registrar, respectively, of the Fessenden School.

At nine o'clock, all boys below the fifth form quietly but enviously retired, leaving the floor solely to the fifth and sixth formers, who enjoyed another hour and half of dancing before the party finally broke up.

THE SAILOR'S HAVEN

Sunday night Mr. Stanton H. King spoke for the first time in Grace Church of the work of the Sailor's Haven. He told something of his own boyhood, of how he had run away to sea when he was twelve years old, and of how he had known hunger, and home sickness and longing for companionship. In those days, he said, the saloon was the only place where a sailor received a welcome.

In the early nineties the Sailor's Haven was opened. Ships of all kinds and descriptions from every port in the world came into Charlestown. In four years after the Haven was opened only one bar-room remained out of the nine which were there when it was opened. Mr. King himself lived at the Haven, and made it his business to make friends with the people in the neighborhood, and to see that no advantage was taken of the sailor when on shore. He was so successful in this that men and women of all nationalities and creeds came to the Haven, and the Catholic priest was one of his firmest friends.

When the war broke out, Mr. King was appointed "chantie," by Uncle Sam. Every Wednesday night during the war concerts and dances were held for the men in the harbor. Mr. King called attention to the fact that Boston is unlike any other port in that the Navy Yard is so situated that all the men, both merchantmen and enlisted men go through it, while in New York or Philadelphia, the Navy Yard is at some distance.

The distinctive characteristic of the Haven since it started has always been its homelike atmosphere. This is in no small measure due to the presence of women. There are 125 women who come to the Haven, conduct dancing classes, play games with the men, and in every way seek to make them feel at home.

According to Mr. King, "cocoon and cookies, singing and dancing are good religion," but he added, "We keep a hand on the rudder."

"The Sailor's Haven," said Mr. King, "exists not simply to make the men have a good time, but to lead them to a higher life. The church is a recruiting station to put on the whole armor of God."

In conclusion, he told of the deplorable condition of the forecastle of many of the ships now afloat, and begged all who had any influence with the Legislature to have these conditions bettered.

Admission to the bazaar was free but a small fee was charged for dancing.

Saturday evening, Eleanor Weston, the little daughter of Senator Thomas Weston of Valentine street, West Newton, was awarded the automobile. Mr. George E. Flood won $50 for selling the greatest number of tickets, and Mr. George E. Stuart won a French Bull Dog.

THE PLAYERS

On account of the storm the performances of "Seven Keys to Baldpate," scheduled for last night and tonight, were cancelled and extra performances will be given next Monday and Tuesday evenings at which tickets for last night and tonight will be honored.

Endurance Nearing Limit. Madge's twin sister is much more serious minded than she and often scolds her for the tomboyish things she does. One day after one of these sisterly lectures Madge turned on her with: "My, but I wish I could get untwinned."

the settlement houses in Boston told me a Boy Scout story that illustrates another point about the Boy Scouts", was the contribution of another of the group. "My friend said that one day he wanted some medicine and asked one of his class of boys to go to a drug store several blocks away and get it. When the boy returned, it was found that the medicine was in liquid instead of powdered form and he went back again. This time the druggist gave him what was wanted and my friend offered the boy fifteen cents for his trouble. Now mind you, he was a poor boy with little spare change but he refused to take the money. He thanked my friend and explained by saying, 'I'm a Scout and Scouts can't take money for doing a good turn.'"

These simple little instances thus related are not unusual; hundreds like them might be given. But they serve to emphasize certain characteristics of the Boy Scouts. The training they receive does make them helpful and efficient and as in the case of the little Boston boy, loyal to principle. The last anecdote was particularly timely for next week is "Good Turn Week." During which the Boy Scouts ask every one to do a good turn. Their law calls for a good turn a day and they will celebrate the tenth anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America after this part of their creed.

The Boy Scouts of Newton are part of Norumbega Council, taking in besides this city the towns of Needham and Wellesley. There are 14 troops registered, and two more are in process of organization. The boys thus banded together number over 400 and counting the scout masters and other officials, the organization in the council has between 450 and 500 members.

Mr. James A. Stafford is president of the council, Mr. John H. Eddy, treasurer; Mr. James C. Irwin, scout commissioner. There is a scout executive, Mr. G. W. Talbot, who devotes all his time to the work and has an office in Newtonville. In addition there is the council, composed of many of the leading citizens of the municipalities named, scout committees for each troop, deputy commissioners and scout masters, the whole forming an efficient and widespread organization to promote the welfare of the boys and to help make them good citizens when they grow up.

During the past year, some 700 boys have belonged to Norumbega troops, about 200 having passed on because of their age. Boys may become scouts at 12. As the spring approaches the number of recruits will grow rapidly, the boys looking forward eagerly to the out-door sports which Scouting emphasizes when the weather will permit. A typical indoor meeting program is something like this:

First, the salute to the colors and the repeating in unison of the Scout Oath—"On my honor I will do my best: To do my duty to God and my country; and to obey the Scout Law; to help other people at all times; to keep myself physically clean, mentally awake and morally straight." Then follows the scout law, inculcating obedience, courtesy, loyalty, self respect, honor, faithfulness, cheerfulness, kindness to animals and doing a good turn every day. A drill and setting up exercises take about twenty minutes; instruction in knot-tying, signaling and the many other things a scout must master to progress, half an hour; and games another half hour. There are often entertainments, pictures and talks by men on subjects appealing to boys.

For out-door work there are hikes, camp-fires, camping out parties and sports calling for agility, quick-wits and skill. If one has never seen these sports one would find the afternoon of the annual rally at Claffen Field of much interest, for among other things one would see the boys build a fire without matches, make and break camp, wig-wag, scale walls and do many other things that boys who are not scouts are ignorant of.

But it is not all play. The Scouts feel that they have a part in the life of the community. In the Victory Loan campaign, Norumbega scouts sold 1820 bonds, of a value of $241,400. The council put 309 scouts along the line of the Y-D parade to assist in policing the streets. They have assisted in every activity by distributing literature.

The coming year promises to be an active one for Scouting in Newton. The Radio Club has been organized with two sections and arrangements have been made for practice in rifle shooting under competent direction and safe conditions. It is expected that a log cabin will be built at Dover for over-night hikes. The successful patrol leaders' school will be repeated and there will be several drills for all the troops in the West Newton Armory.

Next week, the people of Newton will be asked by the scout committees of the several villages to contribute to the support of this great work for our boys. That the response will be generous there is no doubt for as one man put it: "I would rather give to helping make a boy into a good citizen than I would pay for trying to remake a man who had proved a bad one."

DEATH OF MISS WARE

Miss Harriet Ware, long a resident of Milton, and in whose honor the Harriet Ware Hall of Milton Academy was named, died on Wednesday at 160 Dudley road, Newton Centre, where she was spending the winter with her niece, Miss Mary P. Winsor, as had been her custom for the past few years. Miss Ware, who was in her 86th year, had been an invalid since about her 80th year, up to which time she had been in vigorous health. Always interested in the welfare of others, Miss Ware as a young woman of twenty-three, taught Negroes in a school at Port Royal Island, in Civil War days. In later years she became an active member of the board of trustees of Milton Academy and served in like capacity for the Convalescent Home of the Milton Hospital and for the Dorchester Home for Girls. At the Unitarian Church in Milton, she long was a teacher in the Sunday school.

pool table, on Bridge street, of the Telephone Co. and Edison Co. for joint poles on Charlesbank road, of Frank W. Hollowell to cross Suffolk road with a wire, of George Ross for 3rd class automobile license and of Greenwood, McLeod Co. for 2nd class automobile license were granted.

Augusta A. Fitch filed notice of a claim for personal injuries and C. H. Bennett petitioned for the removal of trucking from Beacon street.

On recommendation of committees, claims of Michael Barry for $720, Mortimer F. Reardon for $75, James F. Munroe for $20 and building line damages on Centre street for $1500 were approved, a joint pole location on Albemarle road was granted the Edison and Telephone Cos., attachments on Jewett and Walnut streets granted the Edison Co. and attachments on Summer street granted the Telephone Co.

$250 was voted for plans to improve the old church building, $7850 for purchase of equipment by the Street Dept., $2500 to maintain the new Forestry building on Crafts street, curbing assessments were levied on Centre street, $306.13 voted for Workmen's Compensation, $3850.22 granted Water Dept. deficits in 1919, and hearings assigned on widening of Beacon street, Waban, on rounding corner of Jefferson street and on taking land for drain off Oak avenue.

Alderman Whidden presented the report of the Committee on War Memorial, recommending in brief, the erection of a building in front of and facing north of the Technical High School with an artistic memorial in the center of the court thus formed by the Technical High, Classical High and the proposed new building. $1000 was voted for more detailed plans on these lines, and the committee authorized to add to its membership.

Alderman Whidden also presented a request for $1650 for making changes in the old church building to accommodate the Newton Post of the American Legion. Alderman Allen made some inquiries in regard to the cost of maintenance and the matter was then referred to the Finance committee.

The Finance committee reported an order for $59,160.86 for school teachers' salaries, stating that this amount completed the salary budget for the schools, except an item of $4000 for a head janitor. The school committee had been given everything they had asked for in the way of salary increases except the 25 per cent recommended by the Finance committee of last year in the proposed increased rate of pay. In other words the School committee had been granted sufficient money to pay women teachers $450 more than in 1919 and men teachers $750 more.

Alderman Whidden started to discuss the leave to withdraw report of a majority of the License committee on the petition of Ann H. Bacon to use an existing building on Pine Ridge road for a garage. Alderman Hollis shut off debate by asking that the matter be sent back to the License committee.

Appointments of Charles E. Gibson and Alfred E. Alvord for 3 years, James Kingman and Vernon B. Swett for 2 years and George R. Pulsifer for 1 year as members of the Planning Board, and of Walter B. Randlett as Inspector of Petroleum, as Forest warden and of Charles Benyon as Supt. of Mott Suppression, were unanimously confirmed.

The Public Works committee reported that it was inexpedient to take any steps this year to improve Cold Spring Swamp and gave Frank J. Croft leave to withdraw on using part of Commonwealth avenue, near Norumbega park for business purposes.

PROF. BLAKESLEE'S LECTURE

In spite of the storm yesterday afternoon, Prof. George H. Blakeslee lectured on Mexico to an interested group of Community Club Currents Events Class. He showed samples of the propaganda which is being circulated through this country calculated to incite hostile feeling towards both Mexico and the United States. He stated that much that is printed in the newspapers today regarding the Mexican situation is propaganda rather than genuine news, so that it is difficult to get a knowledge of the real conditions.

Mr. E. J. Harrington of Newton Centre, as representative salesman-manager of Waban and adjacent territory, has begun a selling campaign of electrical household appliances and has been most courteously received. Because it is a new, growing community, Mr. Harrington finds Waban is outdistancing older localities, in freely using modern electrical devices.

THE WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION

Central Congregational Church, Newtonville

A proposed amendment to the constitution, plans for entertaining small children that their mothers may attend the meetings, some notable additions to the monthly pledges, enthusiasm over a widely increased membership, a gratifying treasurer's report, and suggestions of many good things to come kept up a lively interest at the meeting of the Woman's Association of Central Church last Wednesday. The new scheme for raising Miss Kinney's salary by monthly payments is meeting with great success. Many are participating who have never had a part and others have greatly increased their pledges. After the business meeting, Mrs. Mills, principal of Schaffner School, Cleveland, O., gave a very interesting account of the work of that school in training young women, especially those of foreign birth, to work among the immigrants. The address was illustrated by stereopticon slides which demonstrated the great work which this institution is now accomplishing and the broad plans for enlarging its opportunities as rapidly as possible.

The Collection of "Slow" Telephone Accounts

THE PURPOSE OF THIS ANNOUNCEMENT is to show that it is desirable to save the time and labor that is expended in collecting bills that remain unpaid after the lapse of a reasonable period of time.

BILLS ARE DUE when rendered on the first day of each month, and while most telephone accounts are paid promptly, there are a number of "slow" accounts that require labor, time and expense that might better be devoted to other work that is more directly in the interest of the public's telephone service.

WE BELIEVE that this method of bringing the matter to the attention of the public, this frank and open discussion of our aims, is all that is necessary to secure proper understanding and co-operation.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by DOROTHY DRAKE

Horace Mann School

There is a Better Writing Campaign going on in the eighth grade of this school. Many attractive posters have been made to make the campaign more effective.

On Tuesday morning, February 3, the seventh grade started cooking lessons under the direction of Miss Seavey, for the rest of the year. They hope to be as successful as the eighth grade.

On Friday of last week an orchestra rehearsal was held in the hall as usual. Another violin was added, making a total of ten instruments.

The fifth grade enjoyed a Reflectoscope lesson on "Washington, D. C." given by Bertha Trussell and Gertrude Davis, both members of the eighth grade class.

Miss Stopp, the seventh grade teacher, is ill with a severe cold. We hope she will soon recover and join us again in our school work.

On account of the school schedule being changed the eighth grade boys have manual training on Thursday instead of Tuesday.

Bigelow School

Mr. Flynn's room is having a series of geographical and historical debates on Fridays.

The girls of Eighth Grade are taking sewing instead of cooking lessons this quarter, alternating with the girls of Seventh Grade.

A new violinist has joined the School Orchestra.

Miss Saunders is back from her vacation and has taken up her work as director of Nature Study. Miss Saunders' vacation comes in the winter because the summer is the busiest season in her department.

Last Friday at recess, the boys under the direction of Mr. Chase and Mr. Flynn, went over into the new playground and had a snow fight. The victorious side held possession of the field, after three times driving their opponents back to Arlington street.

School spirit ran high; there were no casualties. Three times, without the protection of an effective barrage the enemy charged from Arlington street.

Fessenden School

The new building, started by Mr. Fessenden last summer, is now well under way and will probably be ready for occupation sometime during the Spring term. The windows are now in, the walls plastered, and radiators installed, which are now steaming away in full blast, much to the gratification and comfort of the workmen.

Due to the changeable weather which has infested Fessenden for the past two weeks, several scheduled hockey games have had to be postponed, work on the big rink, which was erected last fall to accommodate the large number of skaters not interested in hockey, has had to be discontinued, and a great deal of fun on the hill and elsewhere has had to be partially given up. Better weather is expected for the future, however, and the prospects for hockey are exceedingly good.

In a hard fought contest with the Rivers School, last week, the Fessenden senior hockey team finally came out on top, when "War Horse" Ransom pushed the winning goal thru the opposing "goal-keeper's" legs for a close score of 2-1. "Yake" Knowles, although he played a good game at times, was responsible for Rivers' loan goal. Roaming aimlessly around by the enemy's net, when he should have been guarding his own goal, he allowed the opposing wing to fly unhindered up the ice and score a shot.

While the yells of the seniors were still ringing thru the walls of the Allen gym, the Fessenden junior basketball team met defeat at the hands of the Allen team by a score of 11-4. The seniors had fought thru extra time for a 14-4 tie and were quite jubilant over their success; but when the news of the junior defeat came to their ears, it somewhat sobered them and caused them to resolve that the next game with Allen would have a different result.

SEE THE CENSUS MAN

The time for the enumeration of the census of Newton ends on Saturday, Feb. 7, the time having been extended until every man, woman, and child in this city had been registered by the enumerator.

Supervisor John J. Sullivan, Concord, begs to call the attention of the people of Newton to the fact that it is a Federal offence punishable by fine for any inhabitant of a community to neglect to perform his duty in registering with the census taker, the fact that he has been living in the city or town on January 1, 1920. It is the belief of the Supervisor that many persons in this city have neglected to comply with the law regarding the census, and it is hoped that each person who is in doubt about his or her enumeration will at once write to Mr. Sullivan, who will take up the matter with them.

Great difficulty has been experienced in the hotels, lodging houses, and boarding house districts. In hundreds of instances the occupants themselves have been absent when the enumerator called, and they have not filled out the blanks left by the census taker so that they could be got on a return call.

Few persons realize that the law makes it an obligation to comply with the census requirements under penalty of $100 fine. Incidentally it is apparent that lodging house keepers, and hotel and apartment house proprietors do not realize that they are subject to a $500 fine for not having their patrons and tenants listed. But the imposition of a fine provided by the Federal Law should not be necessary to wake up the people of Newton. The civic pride should prompt them to make a full return. It costs nothing save perhaps the slightest annoyance.

His address will deal with what has been learned, and what has not, about the relation between the people in this world and those in the spirit life.

—A new arrangement went into effect last Sunday in regard to the choir of Trinity Church. Mr. Howard Cooney, formerly vice-president of the Emergency Fleet Corporation made a most interesting address on "The Man behind the Ship," or Building the Force that Built the Fleet." He dwelt especially on the human factor in that great achievement; and told how 788,000 men were mobilized, organized, and the morale created which built the ships faster than the submarines could sink them.

—The Girls' Friendly Society of Trinity Church, Newton Centre, gave on Wednesday evening in the Parish House, "A Pageant of Girlhood." There were two groups of tableaux; the first representing the girls of the olden days; Miriam, who stood for patriotism; The Blessed Virgin, purity; Eustochium, application; Iphigenia, obedience; Joan of Arc, courage, and Priscilla, thrift; the same qualities for the girl of today were typified by the Red Cross Nurse, the Society Girl; the Student, the Girl Scout, the Factory Girl and the Business Girl.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

With the recurrence of the influenza, the attention of the public is again attracted to possibilities of infection and wise people are scrutinizing food establishments to see if the rules of sanitation are observed. The Consumer's League of Massachusetts which has many members in Newton, has for a number of years given special attention to bakeries and restaurants and its Food Committee, Mrs. M. A. Crockett of Cambridge, Chairman, has recently published a white list, containing the names of places meeting the approval of the League. The standards of the committee are high and its activities have done much to improve general conditions as well as to enlist the interest of other organizations, such as women's clubs and community centers. Notable among the latter is the group of Jewish Welfare centers which has appointed an energetic committee to co-operate with the League in inspecting the Jewish food establishments in Greater Boston. In a recent issue of the leading Jewish paper, Dr. Abraham Myerson of Tufts Medical School, has a spirited article in which he scathingly denounces the carelessness of some bakers and more customers as to the unsanitary handling of bread. The various centers are leading in a campaign to improve conditions, and their example may well be followed by other organizations which have been far too indifferent as to the manner in which the staff of life had been made a source of infection.

The League would be glad to have a large number attend the hearings on the Food Bill which are to be held at the State House, Room 443 at 10.30 A.M. next Monday, where the reasons for more and better inspection of commercial food handlers will be brought out. At present there are grave dangers which might be remedied and the public should understand them and demand action to protect the consumers.

State Federation Mid-Winter Meeting

Wednesday, February 11, City Hall, Broadway, Revere. Morning session opens at ten o'clock. After a greeting by the Mayor of Revere and by the hostess president and the response by Mrs. George Minot Baker, the morning will be devoted to a consideration of the Legislative matters endorsed by the Federation executive board. Speakers, Mrs. Charles Leslie May, chairman of the Legislative department; Mr. Edward T. Hartmann; Mr. B. Loring Young, Mr. Nathaniel F. Forsyth; Major Plummer, commissioner of Police in Washington, D.C. At the afternoon session there will be addresses by Miss George A. Bacon on "This is I see it" and by Bishop Edwin T. Hughes on "American Patriotism." Luncheon will be served in three of the neighboring churches at 60 cents per plate. Tickets may be secured by sending money and stamped addressed envelope to Mrs. S. R. Cutler, 43 Cushman avenue, Revere, before Tuesday, February 10.

Newton Federation

An afternoon of great interest is promised for the midwinter meeting of the Newton Federation on February 25. This meeting will be held at 2 P.M. in the lecture hall of the Technical High School in Newtonville. An unusual and striking program has been arranged by Miss Mary Lawrence, whose Biblical pageants have won much favorable comment. A series of tableaux will be shown representing the life of the Prophet Elijah. Further notice will be given regarding the cast, which is to be made up from Federation members and other women, including some of foreign birth. The costumes are historically correct, and very beautiful. The tableaux will be interspersed with music from the Oratorio "Elijah." The musical part of the program has been placed in professional hands, and will be in keeping with the beauty and dignity of the story. The second in the course of lectures being given under the joint auspices of the Newton Federation and the Welfare Bureau occurs on Monday, February 8, at 3 o'clock. Mr. Stockton Raymond will speak on the question, "What is a Good Citizen?" Mrs. Raymond will preside.

Local Announcements

The Waban Woman's Club on the afternoon of February 9 will have a musicale under the direction of Mrs. Archie C. Burnett.

On February 9 the Christian Era Study Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Nathaniel L. Grant, 206 Melrose street, Auburndale. The program consists of a presentation of Henry Vth by Miss Morgenthaler and Mrs. Dunton.

The Travel Class meets with Mrs. Frederick Waring of Davis street, West Newton, February 9.

The Newton Parliamentary Law Club will meet on Tuesday morning at 10.30 at the home of Mrs. Tripp, 45 Boyd street.

In Lincoln Hall at 2.30 on Tuesday, February 10, the Dramatics committee of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands is in charge of the program. Three plays will be presented: "Oh, Joy Son," in which Miss Susan Hills, Mrs. Seward Johnson, Mrs. Floyd Reeves, Mrs. Robert Hubbard, Mrs. Edwin Drowne and Mrs. Charles Hawkes will take part; "Will O' the Wisp" with Miss Hazel Sands; Mrs. J. D. Waterhouse, Mrs. Charlton Miller and Mrs. Arthur Logan as the cast; and "Marriages are made in Heaven and Elsewhere," in which Mrs. L. W. Oakes, Mrs. James Kingman, Mrs. Charles Keeler and Mrs. Robert Chapin take the parts.

The performance will be repeated on Thursday evening, February 12, at 8 P.M. in Lincoln Hall. On Wednesday, February 11, at 2.30, the club will hold a whist party at the home of Mrs. Harry Cook, the proceeds from which will go to the Philanthropic Fund.

"Children's Day" of the Auburndale Woman's Club will be held on Tuesday afternoon, February 10th, in the Methodist Parish House. Punch and Judy Show and Sleigh of Hand by Mr. Joseph Yarrick of Boston. Valentine Tea will be served by the Junior. Children of club members are guests, and those not having children of their own may invite one child as guest.

The Hospitality Committee of the Auburndale Woman's Club will give a Valentine Party, whist and dance in Norumbega Hall, Saturday evening, Feb. 14, at 8 o'clock. Tickets can be procured from the members of the committee. Proceeds to go towards linen fund for the club.

Mr. Guy Maier has been secured for the program of the Social Science Club next Wednesday morning. He will play informally and tell of his experiences in entertaining the doughboys in France. Guests may be invited.

Thursday, February 12, at 10 o'clock Mrs. W. C. Crawford will lecture upon Current Events before the Newton Centre Woman's Club.

Professor John P. Marshall of Boston University will lecture before the Community Club on Thursday, February 12, at 2.30, on "The Appreciation of Music." The chorus will render an interesting number, "The Snow" by Sir Edward Elgar with 1st and 2nd violin obligato, which it has spent much time upon working up.

The regular meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club on Friday, February 13, takes the form of a luncheon and entertainment and sale, beginning at one o'clock. Among the attractions there will be a demonstration lecture by a beauty specialist, who will have a select line of toilet preparations on sale. There will also be homemade food and candy, and a program of music and readings. Afternoon tea will be served.

Local Happenings

The Newton Mothers' Club held a successful Bridge Party at the Brae Burn Country Club on Monday afternoon, there being forty-nine tables. Mrs. Henry Patrick, who was chairman of arrangements, took occasion to tell those present something of the philanthropic activities of the club since its beginning for which this annual party is held. A small plant adorned each table and was given to the person carrying off the highest score. Refreshments were served. Those assisting Mrs. Patrick in the arrangements were: Mrs. Norman Bingham, Mrs. Hoyt, Mrs. Chapman and Mrs. Frederick T. Walsh.

Mrs. Louis H. Marshall was hostess for the meeting of the Newton Highlands Monday Club on Feb. 2nd. Mrs. C. H. Keeler concluded the work of the club on "The Holyland." Mrs. Godsoe, Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Luitwiler contributed items regarding what is at present going on in Palestine.

At the meeting of the Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls on Monday evening Miss Burdette of Newton Centre spoke of the work of the Girl Scouts with the result that a committee was appointed to consider the formation of a Troop in the village. Mrs. Herbert S. S. Rogers gave a most interesting talk on "Speeding the Spoken Word," which was illustrated by films showing the whole work of installing a telephone system. Refreshments were served during the social hour.

The members of the Auburndale Review Club had a delightful morning on Tuesday at the Missionary Home with Mrs. Thomas B. Scott as hostess. It was the opening meeting of the club on the subject of National Heroes. Mrs. Dixie, chairman for the day with Mrs. J. F. Rider and Mrs. C. A. Katelle, her assistants. Miss Florence Brodman read a copy of Chopin's overtures.

The Fortnightly of Newton Centre announces a musical by Miss Dai Buell, pianist, as the programme for "Gentlemen's Night," Wednesday evening, February 11th, at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. E. W. Varney, hostess, and Mrs. E. D. Robinson is chairman of the refreshment committee.

On Wednesday morning the Social Science Club held its regular monthly business meeting, after which Mr. Drowne gave a short statement of the moving picture man's position relative to the problems involved in giving the public what it wants. He feels that efforts on the part of those interested in clean performances have been largely destructive rather than constructive. He believes the present bill before the legislature providing for a State board of Censorship will not accomplish what is hoped, that it will become a political tool and that nine persons will be unable to set up a standard which can be maintained. He cited various films which have been forbidden in one district which have been allowed in others. A much better way, in his opinion, is to deal with the problem locally. The majority of the managers are anxious to cater to the public and to give them the sort of shows which they desire. He cited the situation in Somerville where he is receiving complete co-operation on the part of the women of the city with the result of shows of high and unquestioned standard. His plans relative to the local picture house were explained and he asked the support and proffered hearty co-operation upon his own part in anything which the club desires.

Household Service Conference

Considerable interest was shown by the women of Newton in the conference on Household Service arranged by the Civics and Social Service committee of the Newton Federation at the Technical High school hall on Friday of last week. Mrs. Irving O. Palmer was in the chair. The Community Kitchen was first considered. Mrs. Bertram Williams of Cambridge told of the co-operative plan being carried out there, one similar to that which has been so successful in Evanston, Illinois. Their first move was to sell cooked food at the schools on two days a week, which the children could take home. The promoters even advised to depend at first upon the revenue from this rather than from dinners sent to the homes. This has met with such a response that they soon were obliged to have it on sale every day and will in a short time add another school. The patrons pay $2 to join the association in order to have the privilege of buying and they bring their own containers. The kind of container used for the dinners is made of aluminum with glass interior constructed upon the thermos plan as is also the outer container, which holds the whole dinner. The inner ones are very good looking and are intended to be placed upon the table as serving dishes and to be returned without washing, thus eliminating not only the cooking dishes, but a part of those used on the table as well. All that it is necessary for the housewife to do is to set the table beforehand and to clear and wash the table dishes afterwards. The container cost in the beginning $35, but the next order will be $40. Patrons are requested to own theirs, but as a matter of fact in Cambridge many rent them, the rent paid being applied towards the purchase price later on, if desired. The dinners are sent out about five o'clock and should keep hot for two hours and they have had little complaint on this score. The fee for joining is $25. When the container is owned dinners are served at 75 cents a plate. The charge when rented is 90 cents for three or more per week, an occasional dinner is $1 and a single one is $1.25, this is for each person.

The Brookline plan was explained by one of the managers, who stated that his is distinctly a business proposition, although they had also in mind the desire to make living easier for the housewives. They had established themselves in the midst of the apartment house district thinking that the bulk of their patronage would come from those people, but they had found their assistance had been most homes on the side streets and in the neighboring districts of Newton. Their plan permits of more individual choice of menus than that offered by Cambridge.

Mrs. Aubrey Hilliard told of what is being done by the Civic Federation in supplying the people of Boston with non-resident helpers. They are home to make of home-making a profession, and to provide efficient and reliable helpers who will come in for a certain number of hours a day and perform all that is usually done by a resident maid or maids. They have succeeded in securing a good class of helpers and have not been able to supply all the demands for assistance indicating that a vital need is being provided for in a most satisfactory way.

Mrs. George H. Haynes of Worcester told what has been done in her city along similar lines. Two things were in the minds of the group of women there in starting this work, first, to make use of labor now idle, women now married who once had lived and second, to put it where it is sorely needed. They emphasize the business-like character of the movement and have laid down some definite rules. The Bureau in Providence is now practically self-supporting and that in Worcester they hope will be in a short time. It was started in November. From 80 to 90 employers have registered and from 60 to 70 employees. Both speakers felt that the result of this work is going to make the home more systematic.

Mrs. McDonald of Newton Centre briefly of the business of home-making as a profession and it must not be forgotten that besides being a business, it is also an art. There was a large exhibition of practical labor-saving articles including electric and gas appliances and smaller things which may add to the efficiency and speed of accomplishing one's work. This exhibit was in charge of the Home Economics committee of the Newton Community Club.

Mrs. Robert Gorton, a former President of the Newton Parliamentary Law Club and West Newton Women's Educational Club, has just been elected president of the Fathers' and Mothers' Club of Boston. Mrs. Arthur B. Munroe, Mrs. Fred B. Young of Newtonville, and Mrs. Henry K. Burrison of West Newton have been elected directors. This organization maintains a home at Reading. Here anaemic children, delicate and undernourished of all faiths, are enabled to win back health. The work is under the highest medical supervision. It is purely a labor of love, for no endowment stands back of the Fathers' and Mothers' Club. It depends for its maintenance on such voluntary contributions as yours. We urge those interested in child welfare to send donations to the treasurer, Mr. George G. S. Perkins, 50 Oliver street, Boston.

NEWTON FREE LIBRARYA Process of Education

"Americanization is a process of education, of mutual understanding, of growing together. If the present Americanization movement is to succeed in unifying the best ideals and wisdom of the foreigner with the best of ours, it must be upheld by each individual rather than a progressivist minority. A training class for Americanization workers, was started last week at the Technical High School. It is one of Newton's first steps towards recognizing those among us of foreign birth and education. If Americanization be a process of 'growing together' and one of education in order to gain mutual understanding every citizen must more thoroughly appreciate the background of these newcomers. If we but skim the pages of their history, literature and art, their wonder and beauty holds us as we realize that we are studying the bases for world culture. With greater sympathy we can welcome these strangers, when we have seen the only in imagination the homelands they have left because of their faith in this 'promised land'. From a pale abstraction the immigrant problem becomes 'just the personal problem of a great many very lovable men and women and boys and girls who are all about us and need friends'. They bring us rich gifts but we shall fail to keep these unless we express a sympathetic understanding or in turn give them a chance to catch our vision.

ROBERT E. GREEN

Former Newton Boy Succumbs to Pneumonia at Naval Hospital in California

Word was received here on Tuesday of the death at the Naval Hospital at Mare Island, Calif., of Robert E. Green, for many years a resident of Newton. He was a petty officer on the U. S. S. Stanbury of the Pacific destroyer squadron and succumbed to a brief attack of pneumonia.

Mr. Green was thirty-one years old and was educated in the public schools of Newton and Watertown. He engaged in business as a broker's clerk but gave it up to enlist in the Navy. After a cruise around the world he went west and filled an executive position in the offices of the Union Pacific Railway at Rawlins, Wyoming.

When the United States entered the war he enlisted again in the Navy as a first-class boatswain's mate and saw active service on submarine chasers. He had nearly completed the term of his enlistment at the time of his death. A year ago he visited friends in this city when the sub chaser to which he was detailed returned to New York.

He is survived by his mother, a half sister, Miss Dorothy Yerxa of Rawlins, two sisters, Mrs. Frank W. Hill of Newton and Mrs. Joseph Heinlein of Waltham, and a brother, Fred C. Green of Watertown. His body was taken to the home of his mother in Rawlins where his funeral will be held tomorrow.

NEWTON MUSIC SCHOOL

The West Newton Music School announces a concert at Players' Hall, West Newton, on Friday, February 27, at 8 o'clock, for the benefit of Dorothy Greeley, Contralto. Miss Greeley will be assisted by Miss Irene Forte, violinist, Miss Edith Spinazzola, pianist, and the School's orchestra. Community singing of popular and patriotic songs will precede and follow the program.

The Music School is very grateful for the support the public of the Newtons is giving it, and it takes this way of enabling its many contributors and friends to see something of the work it is doing, both in giving talented pupils their fundamental training and opportunities for development of their talent, and in the simpler work which it believes fully as valuable.

THE INFLUENZA

To the Editor of the Newton Graphic: There seems to be so much confusion in regard to the present outbreak of Influenza; a confusion which is increased by the reports in the daily papers; that it seems proper to make a plain statement as to Influenza in its various forms.

For several hundred years the world has been afflicted with epidemics which have been known by various names, although many of them appear to have borne a resemblance to each other, the chief difference being the prominence of certain symptoms.

Within the past 70 odd years there have been periodic outbreaks of influenza but they have been called—"Influenza"—"Russian influenza"—"grippe"—"Spanish influenza" and "flu," etc.

In 1889, we had the "grippe", a form of influenza characterized as headache, backache, severe pains, fever and prostration. This form was very contagious but as a rule, not very fatal, the fatality being among those in the extremes of life and the weak. In Massachusetts the fatality was about 12 per 10,000 of the population.

In 1916, there was another outbreak which was very similar. We all remember the outbreak of "flu" in 1918 with its high mortality which took off the strong and well: in Newton 60 per cent of the deaths were in persons between 20 and 40 years of age.

As nearly as can be made out from a study of the reports of the present outbreak, the type which is appearing now, resembles that of 1889 and 1916 rather than that of 1918.

It is impossible to tell yet the age grouping of the fatal cases, but it is safe to say that it is not the same as 1918. In one group of over 1200 cases among men of military age, there were no deaths, whereas if the disease had been of the type of 1918, the deaths would have been in the neighborhood of 60.

To sum up, it appears that the grippe of 1889 and the "flu" of 1918 were different manifestations of the same disease; that the type which we are now having resembles the former and not the latter; and, while no one should neglect to call a physician if he feels ill, he should not allow himself to become unduly alarmed over his condition.

The majority of cases in Newton up to the present time have been short and sharp, lasting about a week and then leaving the patient rather weak. At the present writing no cases resembling the 1918 type have been reported and there have been no deaths. FRANCIS GEO. CURTIS, M. D., Chairman, Newton Board of Health.

LET OUR DEAD REMAIN

Hearts which grieve for patriot soldiers,
Let them rest in warrior-grave;
Rise to heights they scaled sublimely;
Emulate your sons so brave.

Left in France they live forever;
Buried here, we count them dead;
There, they speak with stirring accents;
Here, the willows weep o'erhead.

Tender are the hands of Frenchmen
Wreathing graves with flowers of life;
Rev'rent bow the heads of strangers
O'er your loss in war's red strife.

Brothers' bond between the nations,
Holding fast far distant lands,
Warrior spirit live eternal,
Gripping all with unseen hands.

Leave them, then, to live forever;
Grant them tongues which never cease;
Hov'ring o'er their fields of triumph,
Let them cry their worldwide peace.

LECTURE ON LABRADOR

One of the most romantic tales of modern phantasmagoria, has been the story of Dr. Wilfred Grenfell's work in the Labrador coast settlements. It has so many elements of adventure and daring that the reports of these workers on their occasional visits are like a thrilling serial that left off the last time in some exciting place.

The great number of people who have been interested in this story of heroism, have a chance to hear the latest developments at the lecture to be given Sunday evening, February 8, at Central Church, Newtonville. At that time Dr. H. L. Paddon, an eminent English surgeon, who has had charge of two of Dr. Grenfell's most Northern hospitals, will tell his thrilling story of fighting the epidemic, working among the fishing fleet, and his trips through the vast interior of Labrador to work among the hunters and trappers of that remote and mysterious country. The lecture is arranged by the New England Grenfell Association. It is illustrated by stereopticon.

WALDORF THEATRE—At the Waldorf Theatre, Waltham, this Friday and Saturday as an added attraction to the big picture and vaudeville bill will appear the Million Dollar Comedy "A Day's Pleasure" featuring Charlie Chaplin. Other feature pictures include Mae Murray in the "A. B. C. of Love" and "Snub" Pollard in "All It Up" surrounded by a big company of vaudeville stars. Mae Murray brings all her veracity and charm in "The A. B. C. of Love," a picture that has been styled a "dramatic romance." In "The A. B. C. of Love," Miss Murray portrays the role of an orphan as innocent and ignorant as she is beautiful. A playwright marries her and finds her adorable in her rustic country setting, but when he takes her to the city and compares her with the worldly Diana, the star of his plays, the little maid suffers by comparison.

COPELEY THEATRE—"Bunt Pulls the Strings," already announced to have been the attraction at the Copley Theatre was necessarily postponed owing to the pronounced success of G. Bernard Shaw's "Man and Superman," which Henry Jewett's Company has been playing so excellently. This Scotch play of Graham Moffat, which has been the success at the Copley last season where it enjoyed a prosperous run. In the present revival six of the characters will be played by the same people into whose hands they were entrusted at the previous production, namely Miss Newcombe, Miss Roach, Mr. Clive, Mr. Wingfield, Mr. Matthews and Mr. Leslie, whose return as a member of Mr. Jewett's company has been a source of gratification to the patrons of this house.

—The "Get-Together" Club of the Louis Fabian Bachrach, Inc., held one of the prettiest "Leap Year Parties" that has been given this season. In the "Barnyard" of the club, a well appreciated concert was arranged by the committee. The program was as follows: Mr. A. Troiani, violin solo; Miss Dorothy Smith, vocal solo; Miss Louise Smith, dance of the nations; Mr. J. J. Crowley, vocal solo; Miss Grace C. Korian, cornet solo; Mr. Leonard Wilson, Mr. Joseph Giffex, sketch; accompanist, Mr. Raymond Sikes. The committee in charge of the party were Miss Gladys Thompson, Miss Helen Gaw, Miss Alice Lamph, Mr. Raymond Sikes, Mr. Wilfred Morin and Mr. John Rochefort. Music was furnished by the Bagnell Orchestra of Boston.

BASKET BALL

A very fast and interesting game was played on the local Y. M. C. A. court Wednesday night against the speedy Dean Academy five. The Newton team was badly handicapped without the services of three of the regulars who were laid up sick, but the new men played well and held the score down well. Newton led at the end of the first period, and got off to a good start in the second half leading by several points, but owing to lack of training on the part of the substitutes were overhauled in the last few minutes of play and the game went to Dean by 33 to 30.

Saturday night the team will go to Gloucester, for a return game, and next Wednesday night the strong Lowell team comes to Newton for a game. The regulars will be back in the game by that time and a good fast game is looked for as Lowell is represented by a fast outfit this season.

The Newton Y. M. C. A. Reserves won the preliminary game Wednesday from the Grant Class of Watertown.

UNUSUAL ENTERTAINMENT

Channing Alliance Interests a Large Audience With Shawls

Under the auspices of the ways and means committee of the Channing Alliance, a very novel and interesting entertainment was held at Channing Church on Wednesday afternoon.

The program opened with the singing of "Miss Nancy's Gown" by the Alliance Choir under the leadership of Mrs. Fred A. Wetherbee accompanied by Mrs. Carl E. Wilm, pianist, and Miss Katherine Stone, violinist. The members of the choir wore old-fashioned gowns, kerchiefs, powdered hair, and the tiny hats of 1850. Those who sang were Mrs. Fred A. Wetherbee, Mrs. Harry Lutz, Miss Hattie Henry, Mrs. E. W. Crawford, Mrs. C. W. Helzer, Miss Katherine Howard, Mrs. Joseph Palmer, Mrs. J. A. Rogers, Miss Dorothy Drake, Mrs. Ernest L. Foley, Mrs. Ernest L. Foley also sang a popular song of a decade ago called "The Old Plaid Shawl."

At the close of the singing, Mrs. Harry Lutz, President of the Alliance, introduced Mrs. William R. Rand of Newton Centre, the speaker of the afternoon. Mrs. Rand began by reciting a poem called "Rummaging in the Attic." She followed this by a history of the shawl.

Shawls, she said, were mentioned as far back as Ezekiel. She told how the famous Cashmere shawls of India were made, explaining that they were made from the long-haired goat, not from camel's hair as was popularly supposed. She explained, too, the differences between loom and handmade shawls. Some shawls were known as "patch work" shawls because they were made of little pieces put together on the wrong side.

She distinguished between French shawls and those of India, and told of the shawls of China, and of the Paisley shawls. The latter were made in Paisley, Scotland, where in 1820 they were the principal industry of the town.

In 1820, shawls were used on all occasions. The Prince of Wales had a wonderful collection, with patterns of birds and animals. Queen Victoria wore shawls on all public occasions. The pine tree pattern was one of the most famous. This originally came from the Orient and was of religious significance.

In 1806 shawls of silk and mohair were used. It was the fashion to have dress and shawl match. In 1849 a Philadelphia belle is described as wearing shawls of various materials to match her gowns. It was the niece of President Buchanan who made lace mantillas popular.

Shawls remained popular from 1820 to about 1875, when they suddenly went out of fashion, and the shawl strap—that most useful article—was superseded by the dress suit case.

At the close of Mrs. Rand's talk, a group of ladies put on the shawls which had been brought for classification and walked about among the audience while Mrs. Rand described the shawls.

Among the most interesting of the shawls shown were a white embroidered crepe shawl worn by Miss Henry's grandmother at her wedding, a French cashmere of wonderfully fine texture with a cream center and embroidered border, two hundred years old, belonging to Mrs. Edward S. Wheeler, a black Chantilly lace shawl belonging to Mrs. Henry W. Kendall, and a very valuable cashmere shawl with a genuine Delhi border and the artist's signature in the center of the shawl belonging to Mrs. Fred Wetherbee's mother.

The program concluded with a social hour, tea being served by Mrs. A. W. B. Huff, and Mrs. C. S. Emmons.

Of Boy Scout Movement Observed by Norumbega District

A meeting of the Boy Scouts of Newton was held last Sunday evening in St. John's Episcopal Church, Newtonville. It was the tenth anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America. The boys entered the church in marching order while the choir sang "Onward Christian Soldier." All stood while allegiance was pledged to the flag. And the flag was received by the Rector of the church, and placed beside the altar.

The opening service, read by the Rev. P. M. Wood, rector of the Church of the Messiah, Auburndale, was followed by stirring hymns led by the choir. The boys certainly know how to sing. There were brief addresses by James C. Irwin, Scout Commissioner, and J. A. Stafford, the newly elected President of Norumbega Council.

The sermon, preached by the rector, was on "The Value of a Good Name." "The most precious possession boy or man can have is a good name. Character is what counts. Why do we venerate Abraham Lincoln whose birthday is celebrated each year at this time? It is not because he was once President of these United States. It is not because he was once commander of our Army and Navy. It is because he kept his honesty, his integrity, his name blameless." The Rector then asked the boys to ask themselves, "What does my name stand for in home, school, and Boy Scout Organization?" "And what is the value of your name in terms of Loyalty? You are loyal to your Flag, and you are loyal to your Country. But you must also be loyal to Christ and to God, knowing that the greatest asset in the world today is truly Christian Citizenship."

The service closed with an anthem by the choir, and the familiar hymn, "We March, We March to Victory." prizes are paid, including one of $50 and two of $25 each, every day. There is no fee of any sort charged for the right to compete. The winning best last line, names of successful competitors, etc., are printed in the Post one week from the date upon which the Limerick appears.

AMERICAN LEGION

Interesting Notes of What Newton Post 48 is Doing

The meeting last Monday was one of the most interesting that the Post has held for several months. Although the attendance was rather small, it was attributed to the fact that street-car transportation from the south side of the city was at a stand-still, which made it practically impossible for those living in that section to be present.

President Harriman of the Board of Aldermen delivered an interesting talk on the proposed Memorial to the Service Men of the city, and if the tentative plans which he presented to the members are carried out, Newton will have as fitting a testimonial to her soldiers, sailors, and marines as any community in the State. While no definite decision has yet been reached in the matter, the plan which seems most practical is the erection of a building on the land adjoining the south side of the Technical High School in Newtonville. This structure would be equipped with a large auditorium, quarters for the various veteran associations in the city, swimming pool, etc., and would be open at all times for the benefit of those for which it is intended. In addition to the building, a decorative memorial would be erected in the courtyard to be constructed in front of the Technical High School, the beauty of which would be enhanced by the construction of pools, which could easily be accomplished by diverting the small brook that runs through the land at this point. This plan is merely in the preliminary stages, President Harriman made clear, but it has met with the approval of the Mayor, the Board of Aldermen, the Newton Post, and several representative citizens. The cost of this project, under the pres-

ENTERTAIN CHINESE

Men's Club of Eliot Church is Host for Party of Chinamen

The Eliot Men's Club of Eliot Church gave a most interesting entertainment Wednesday evening at the Church when they had as their guests the Chinese students from the Chinese Mission in Boston. About thirty were present.

In the center of the room had been arranged small tables at which the hosts and their guests sat in an informal and friendly way, while at the side were other chairs. The plan was that those at the side should change seats with those in the center and thus all have an opportunity of meeting the guests.

The speakers of the evening were introduced by Mr. Harry W. Fitts, president of the club. The address of welcome on the part of the church was given by the Rev. H. Grant Person, pastor of the church. He spoke particularly of the points of similarity between the two great nations, China and the United States, and the friendly relations that have existed between the two especially since the Boxer Indemnity. He said that to work in harmony with people it is often only necessary to know them, and that it was one of the purposes of this gathering to get better acquainted.

After Dr. Person's address the Rev. G. Henry Ewing gave an address in Mandarin Chinese which, judging from the faces of the Chinese guests, was much enjoyed.

Following him, the Rev. Edward Payson Drew of Auburndale who spent a year in one of the colleges in China spoke. He spoke of what the coming of these young men to America might mean for the future of China, of what they might bring back with them in the way of scientific knowledge and

THE STORM

Newton Not Yet Recovered From the Severe Weather of Last Week

The worst snowstorm for over a score of years began last week Thursday morning and lasted over Friday, and Newton has not yet entirely recovered its normal condition after a week of hard work. The snow was so compact and yet drifted so badly that traffic on the streets ceased almost entirely. Persons who ventured out with automobiles and trucks, were forced in most instances to abandon them. The extent to which automobiles have superseded horses was very noticeable, and horse owners were in great demand. Store keepers could not deliver supplies except by means of boys and sleds and the streets were almost deserted, and even at the present time, travel is wholly confined to the street railway tracks which have been opened. The huge piles of snow in Nonantum square were not removed until Wednesday and the business centers of other villages were equally congested with snow. The removal of ashes had to be entirely abandoned, as every available man was used by the Street Department in the more important work of opening up the streets.

The fire department met the situation by placing its equipment on pumps and by commandeering enough horses from the Street Department to ensure enough motive power in case of need. The city was fortunate in having but one fire during the worst period of congestion, that of Saturday morning, and by using the street railway tracks, the apparatus was able to make fairly good time in responding to the alarm. The local street railway was forced to abandon operation on most of its lines, but did manage to keep up its service between Newton and Waltham by way of West Newton and between Newton and Newton Lower Falls. One track on Commonwealth avenue between Auburndale and Lake street was opened afterwards, but at the present writing, nothing is moving over the Bemis line from Newton, over the Crafts street line, the Upper Falls, and Newton Centre lines. The Boston & Worcester road has also stopped functioning.

Schools were closed on Thursday and Friday on account of the storm and were not opened on Monday on account of the difficulty in transportation.

Physicians were forced to visit their patients on Thursday and Friday on foot, milkmen had great difficulty in supplying their customers and ordinary business was at a standstill. The Boston & Albany railroad, barring the usual difficulty with switches at the South Station, gave splendid service, particularly when compared with the absolute cessation of suburban traffic on the New Haven lines. The local trains have run regularly and nearly on time.

The Boston Elevated also gave excellent service and handled its traffic as if it was almost normal. The Street Department which consists of the Highway, Sewer and Forestry divisions, has had a force of 200 men, 100 horses, two trucks, 20 sidewalk plows, eight horse-drawn road scrapers and two motor-driven scrapers clearing away the snow.

Together with all the available men in the three divisions of the Street Department, about 20 high school boys volunteered their services. About two-thirds of the roads and sidewalks are now passable and about two-thirds of the snow has been removed from Nonantum square.

While the Street Department management has had several complaints regarding the snow, the people in general have been very courteous and patient.

THE ELKS BAZAAR

The final scenes in the recent Elks Bazaar took place on Tuesday night in the Elks Lodge room, where quite a crowd gathered to learn the final results of the various contests and the auction of the goods remaining unsold.

The prize winners were announced as follows:

Green Booth—Ladies' bag, W. L. Gannon, thermos bottle, Etta Soules, medicine chest, Frank W. Niles, rug, W. E. Earle, table runner, Katherine Sullivan, cut glass vase, J. Cavanaugh, $5, gold piece, George Goodwin, ladies shoes, P. A. Murray, electric lamp, W. L. Cavanaugh.

Purple Booth—Safety razor, A. W. Fairweather, $5-gold piece, Ellen Mullen, candy jar, Matt Ricane, carving set, R. A. Vachon, cut glass sets, J. Conroy, Mat Raine, 100 cigars, Elias Fienberg, barrel flour, Mrs. J. Waters, chocolate set, Thos. F. Swift.

Candy Booth—Five-pound box, Emma Menge, one pound boxes, one each to Anna Adams, Harry Spelman, Alice M. Martin, Mrs. Susan Sampson and John McLeod.

Mr. John Flood was the auctioneer and under his skillful guidance, good prices were obtained for the articles put under his hammer.

BOYS' DEPARTMENT Y. M. C. A.

It would be hard to find a more interested group of boys than that which goes under the name Debating Club. This organization includes 15 younger boys who have a vital interest in argumentation and are willing and ready to spend such time and energy in study and preparation as may seem necessary to give them a working knowledge of the subjects under discussion. Care has been taken to present to them for debate only such topics as the average member of the group may grasp and from which may be drawn a lesson that will be of service to the boys in later life.

At first the boys were often very nervous and sometimes forgot what they intended to say. Now, however, there is a vast change, for the boys have acquired freedom of speech and ability to express their ideas in debate with other members of the club. A public debate is one of the events to which the boys are looking forward.

It has been suggested that a toboggan slide be erected on the hill in back of the Y. M. C. A. building. During the past few days a toboggan slide was not necessary, for the heavy snow followed by rain made a crust that formed natural slides which have been enjoyed by many boys and girls. Sleds, skis, and most every kind of a conveyance have been used in negotiating the hill. Some even claimed that the best sport of all was to make the trip down the hill with no visible means of conveyance; this method of course being very hard on the boys' clothing but very enjoyable nevertheless.

It is a pleasure to note that the improvements in the Boys' Department have not gone unappreciated. During the past few months the equipment has been repaired and added to in such a way as to give the boys a department of which they can be justly proud. The boys, on the other hand, have used their games in increased numbers and it is hoped that this advance will be continued.

MR. H. C. WOOD HONORED

Mr. Harvey C. Wood was the guest of honor last Monday evening at an old-fashioned social held by Newton Lodge, No. 92 I. O. O. F. in the lodge hall at West Newton. Mr. Wood has just completed 25 years' continuous service as recording secretary of the lodge and his friends took this occasion to pay a deserved tribute to his faithfulness and interest. During the evening, Mayor Edwin O. Childs presented Mr. Wood with a purse of gold.

There was also a most enjoyable entertainment given by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Perkins, violin and piano; Mr. White, violin; Edna Banks, in vocal selections, and Mr. Robert Van Buskirk, in monologue. Refreshments and dancing followed the musical program.

The affair was in the efficient hands of a committee composed of Messrs. Burt M. Rich, Elmer B. Wilcox, Henry Buck, Charles M. Potter and A. A. Wilson. About 150 were present.

LECTURE ON LABRADOR

Dr. H. L. Paddon, an eminent English surgeon who has had charge of two of Dr. Grenfell's most northern posts in Labrador, gave a most illuminating talk Sunday evening at Central Church, Newtonville, on conditions in Labrador.

He told of the wonderful natural resources of the land especially in regard to timber, and prophesied a time when, with the aid of capital and modern machinery, the land would be very productive. He spoke of the great range in climate; while, in winter, the thermometer often registers 50 below zero, in summer it may go as high as 107 above zero. In the summer time, therefore, it is possible to raise garden products.

The principal industries of the country are, however, fishing and hunting. The speaker showed some splendid types of hunters, and told of their courage, endurance, and manliness.

In our recent war, he said, these people proved themselves true patriots. Long before conscription came, every able bodied man had enlisted.

Consumption and influenza have made sad havoc among these people, because of the great uncertainty of their food supply, their lack of knowledge, and their isolation. Two years ago, the Spanish influenza wiped out whole villages. Hundreds of little children were left to be cared for by those scarcely able to care for themselves.

The speaker closed with a plea for help to establish an orphanage where these little ones can be taken care of and given a chance in the world.

CONDITIONS IN SERBIA

At a meeting held Sunday evening at the home of Mrs. Frank H. Stewart on Montvale road, Newton Centre, Sergeant Ruth Farnum spoke in behalf of Serbia.

She appealed to the women of America to help Serbia, calling attention to the fact that she is a nation which has been steadfast in its loyalty to the Christian faith, although menaced by the Turks for centuries. As Belgium protected the allies, and made it possible for them to gather themselves together, so Serbia by her splendid stand prevented Germany from passing through her country unhindered and harassing England through operations in India.

Other meetings were to have been held in the home of Mrs. Henry I. Harriman, Centre street, Newton, and at the Neighborhood Club, West Newton, but, owing to the weather condition, these had to be given up. Plans are, however, being made for a campaign in the Newtons in behalf of Serbia early in March.

PERKINS—BAILEY

Miss Leah Bailey, daughter of Mrs. Charles J. Bailey of Surrey road, Newton, was quietly married last Saturday night to Mr. Frank Ellsworth Perkins of Hollis street, Newton, at the home of the bride.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. Grant Person; D.D., of Eliot Church, assisted by the Rev. Laurens MacLure of Grace Church.

The best man was Mr. William B. Clarkson of Schenectady, N. Y. The bride was attended by her sister Miss Eva Bailey and Miss Irene M. Kimball of Clifton, Mass. The ushers were Mr. H. Esmond Bailey, brother of the bride from Brookline, Mr. Walter E. Hills, brother-in-law of the bride from Newton Centre, and Mr. Arthur F. Knight of Brookline.

The bride wore a gown of white satin, embroidered, and trimmed with chiffon and rose point lace, a tulle veil, with orange blossoms.

A reception at the home of the bride followed the ceremony. The house was tastefully decorated with palms, smilax, pink roses, pink carnations, and pink potted plants. A three-piece orchestra furnished the music.

After the middle of April, Mr. and Mrs. Perkins will be at home at 42 Hollis street, Newton.

Gifts of the Nations

The word Americanization to some implies only the on-sided process of teaching the foreigners our language, laws and modes of living. They forget that American traditions are merely a consummation of the gifts of earlier immigrants. To be sure as the nation has grown new ideals have developed but the United States is too cosmopolitan to ever attain fixed racial characteristics and thus it is well to look to the contributions the present newcomers may make.

In a middle western town about the size of Newton, a class called the "gifts of the nations," was formed to show the native born Americans a little of the background of their new friends, as well as the difficulties encountered by the immigrant when he first arrives in this strange land. The speakers in this class represented widely varying nationalities—Italian, Russian, Greek, and Syrian. As yet there is no such class in Newton, though a strong plea has been made for a more sympathetic, intelligent understanding of our foreign neighbors. Through the medium of books, however, each individual can formulate for himself a vivid picture of the homelands of the immigrants, their music and art, their first days in America and the differing ideals they represent. Last week the library suggested books covering the subject of general racial backgrounds and others describing the vivid country of Italy, the poetry of Dante, the fire and heroism of Garibaldi and his associates.

Newton's first real Americanization work is being done in Upper Falls among some young Russians who on their own initiative, engaged a small hall and started classes in English which are now being aided by the city. The club is social as well as educational so that if one passes in the evening he can hear a chorus of wonderful Russian songs. In the library there is music by a number of Russian composers—several of Tchaikovsky's symphonies (VY-477), the pianoforte works of Moszkowski (VZP-M353), or the "Songs of the Russian people" (VY54-S333). The land, people and government are described by Alexinsky in "Modern Russia" (G54-A38), Jarintzoff's "Russia the country of extremes" (G54-J28), "White nights and other impressions," by Ruhl (G54-R85), "The birth of Russian democracy," or Rappoport's "Home life in Russia" (G54-718). One feels perhaps most keenly the intensity of life in that bleak land through reading the novels and plays of Andreiev, Dostoevski, Gorky, Tolstoy, and Turgenyev.

As there are Polish settlements in certain parts of the city, their life and history are generally outlined in the following books are of importance. Brandes, Georg. Poland, a study of the land, people, and literature.

Gardner, M. M. Poland a study in national idealism. ZY55-G17
Holme, Charles. Peasant art in Russia. WS54-H73
Little, F. D. Sketches in Poland. G55-L72
Orvis, J. S. Brief history of Poland. F55-W73
Reynold, Rothay. My Slav friends. G54-R33m
Winter, N. O. Poland of today and yesterday. F55-W73

Selma Lagerlof makes very real the life of Scandinavia in her stories while Jonas Lie further describes it in "Weird tales from northern seas."

FATHER AND SON BANQUET

On Monday evening 123 men, young men and boys sat down in the Congressional vestry to a splendid dinner. The occasion was the first annual Father and Son Banquet, arranged by the Men's Bible Class, a committee composed of Mrs. Ufford, chairman, Mrs. E. J. Winslow, and Mrs. A. L. Cummings prepared and had served a memorably good and plentiful repast. Led by an orchestra composed of Messrs. Leonard, Keyes, Hennessey and Davis, and under the direction of Bryant Nichols, many old and new popular songs were sung with keen enjoyment and vigor. Dr. Drew, as toastmaster, presented Mr. H. O. Cook, who responded to the toast, "Our Sons," and Theodore Grant, who responded to the toast, "Our Fathers." Then "Tommy" Woods, guard of the famous Harvard 1919 football team, told of the trip of that team to the Pacific Coast. Finally Mr. G. H. Roehrig, City-wide Boys' secretary of the Boston Y. M. C. A. (coming at the last moment on account of the illness of the announced speaker, Mr. Damon) gave a ringing address emphasizing the responsibility of the father in the training of the boy, and the challenge that the present-day world offers to American youth. The committee in charge consisted of Bryant Nichols, chairman, Dr. E. U. Ufford, E. E. Savory, and A. S. Kimball.

UNABLE TO HOLD ANNUAL DANCE

The fifth annual dance of the "Les Amis Unis" (United Friends), the popular little social club of Newton which was originally scheduled to be held at Temple Hall, Newtonville, on Thursday, February 5th, 1920 was cancelled due to the severe storm on that day. It was then postponed to the following Thursday, but the members of the club deemed it advisable not to hold it on this date due to the tie-up in railroad transportation and to the uncertain weather conditions and wish to inform their friends that the dance will not take place until the early part of April.

COPLEY THEATRE—"The Liars" by Henry Arthur Jones will be the play which Henry Jewett's Repertory company is to revive at the Copley Theatre the coming week. This comedy written by Mr. Jones in 1897 is in four acts and has stood the test of time as few plays have. It belongs in a class that is bound to live because of its many admirable qualities.

Here is the way a critic has described "The Liars": "It has a varied assortment of clearly drawn and amusing characters; it has a well-sustained, well-developed plot, which has the interest of the audience; it has dialogue which conforms both to the demands of colloquialism and literary distinction, and which bubbles with wit; it has moments of mirth, of passion, and of the most estimable moral sentiment."

Here is the way a critic has described "The Liars": "It has a varied assortment of clearly drawn and amusing characters; it has a well-sustained, well-developed plot, which has the interest of the audience; it has dialogue which conforms both to the demands of colloquialism and literary distinction, and which bubbles with wit; it has moments of mirth, of passion, and of the most estimable moral sentiment."

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

A handicap billiard tournament will be started this week at the Y. M. C. A. The entries so far include J. S. Norris, Dr. A. B. McCormick, on scratch; E. E. Grant, handicap 20 points; J. Salter, Newton Kimball, Bert Transue, R. Kennedy, R. Cunningham, and Phillip Horne, handicap 30 points. Entries will be received up to Saturday, February 14th. New cushions and new equipment make the tables very satisfactory to play on, and an interesting tournament is expected. The J. E. Came Company has presented a billiard cue for a prize.

The speaker at the Fellowship Club on Monday, February 15th, will be Dr. Howard Moore who will give an illustrated talk on his work over seas. Supper at 6.30 as usual.

The dormitory rooms have all been taken for the past three months and there has been a waiting list. Many men have been directed to private boarding houses. Sometimes all we can do for a young man coming in late at night is to give him a blanket and allow him to sleep on one of the settees. An additional story of 29 rooms would enable us to take care of all who come. Who will help make this improvement possible?

PLAY POSTPONED

"The Poor Little Rich Girl" which was to have been given last Saturday at Bray Hall, Newton Centre, has been postponed to Saturday, February 28th on account of bad traffic. It will be given at Bray Hall at 2 o'clock, and at 7.45 on February 28th in aid of the French Orphans. The play is unusual in its clever imaginative treatment, and is full of interesting incidents which appeal to young and old alike. After the evening performance, Johnson's orchestra will play for dancing.

WILBUR THEATRE—Messrs. Lee and J. J. Shubert will present Rachel Crothers' comedy, "39 East," with Henry Hull and Constance Binney and a brilliant supporting company, at the Wilbur Theatre, Boston, beginning Monday, February 16th, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday. This comedy was seen all last season at the Broadhurst and Maxine Elliott Theatres. A new comedy by Rachel Crothers, the authoress of "Old Lady 31," "The Three of Us," "A Man's World," and "A Little Journey," is a matter of unusual interest in the theatrical world. The Messrs. Shubert brought together a particularly fine cast for this Rachel Crothers' comedy. "39 East" is a springtime love story of New York of the present time. Miss Crothers' comedy is in three acts and narrates the story of a young girl from the West who comes to New York to make her fortune. She takes up quarters at a fashionable boarding house, "39 East," where only the "best people" resort. There are very many quaint and unusual characters in the comedy.

"Yes, you may drink Ginger Ale but it must be White House"

Kiddies, as well as grownups, like the smooth mellowness of White House Ginger Ale. They can safely have their fill, for White House is not astringent, but stimulates the stomach to a healthy action. (Physicians are perfectly safe in recommending it.) Every step in the manufacture of White House—from importing the pure ginger root to the final bottling—is under the direct supervision of the experts in our factory, who are alert to maintain the purity of White House Ginger Ale.

EDITORIAL

We trust that everyone has had plenty of charity the past week for all who serve the public in any capacity in which transportation is a factor. Our street department, our street railways, steam railroads, letter carriers, and many others have had to meet and overcome unusual difficulties and they all should have our sympathy and not our criticism. We print in another a communication in regard to street railway service, not because we agree with the writer, but merely because he has conformed to our conditions in regard to publishing communications. Nonantum is no harder hit than Upper Falls or Thompsonville, and there should be a larger measure of charity in days like the present.

Mayor Childs is to be commended and the city is to be congratulated on the appointment of ex-alderman Joseph W. Bartlett as city solicitor in place of Mr. Bishop, who has gone on the Superior Court bench. Mr. Bartlett has all the qualifications to make a first class city solicitor.

The great storm has clearly brought to our attention the extent to which automobiles and trucks have superseded the horse in matters of transportation. There were quite a number of persons who would have gladly cried out the past few days, "My kingdom for a horse."

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The 1920 Legislature is beginning the session, the committees are holding hearings on many subjects and leave to withdraw reports are being sent in to both branches.

Newton is not interested in many special matters this year, although there are a number of general bills which will affect the city in one way or another.

Ex-Alderman Joseph W. Bartlett, who is to be named as City Solicitor next Monday, has been representing the city this week at the hearings on bills authorizing the city to establish building zones, one of which under the present amendment to the constitution, the other seeking to make that constitutional amendment more effective. Alderman Nichols also appeared with Mr. Bartlett and it is said that Newton representatives made a most favorable impression on the committee.

Mr. R. L. Brigham favored the bill of the Abundant Good Government Club, for the establishment of public forums throughout the state by the Commonwealth, but was unable to get a favorable report on the matter.

Mr. H. C. Lythgoe of Newtonville, director of the division of the State Health Department appeared this week opposing a bill to limit the cold storage of eggs and fish to six months. Mr. Lythgoe said that cold storage eggs could be kept in fine condition for three years and were as good as eggs but one year.

Some of the bills before this Legislature are almost a crime.

One bill was heard the other day which would pay each Massachusetts man in the Federal service during the late war, the sum of $3 per day. The representative (from Boston of course) who advocated this remarkable bill of legislation frankly told the committee that he didn't know (and evidently didn't care) how much this would cost the state, but later it was stated that there were 230,000 men in service, and for periods ranging from six months to two years. Taking one year as an average, a rough calculation shows that these figures call for about $207,000,000, a mere bagatelle of course to a representative from Boston.

Former city solicitor Elias B. Bishop op was formally qualified as a justice of the Superior court of this state on Wednesday and will begin his duties next Monday.

COMMUNITY CLUB

Never has the chorus of the Community Club shown to better advantage than it did at the meeting yesterday afternoon in its rendering of "The Snow" by Sir Edward Elgar and it deserves the highest commendation for its successful performance of a difficult work. The address of the afternoon was given by Prof. John P. Marshall of Boston University upon "The Appreciation of Music."

Prof. Marshall stated that the appreciation of music is quite another matter from the appreciation of a beautiful picture, in that music passes so quickly, while one can go back again and again to a picture. This very fact makes a knowledge of musical compositions necessary before hearing them in order to appreciate them to the full. But to have this knowledge and to appreciate music generally one does not need to be a musician. The study of serious music he likened to the study of Shakespeare.

After explaining different forms of music he commented upon the development of community music within the last five years, saying that it is bound to play a very important part in the future of the world. His observation has shown that the idea of community music has not taken as well in the East as it has in the West and by way of illustration, he told of attending a moving picture show in the West where a half-hour was devoted to community singing and how, when the time was up, everyone wanted to go on, with the result that the show itself was put aside. He also stressed it as a factor in Americanization work, not merely of the foreign-born, but for those of native birth as well. Prof. Marshall expressed regret that more music is not taught in the elementary schools.

At the business meeting which followed the lecture, Mrs. George L. Parker gave a report of the State Federation meeting at Revere, and presented the legislative matters endorsed there for action by the club. The bill for Maternity Care and that for Health Education were both endorsed, but the club decided to take no action on that for State Censorship of Moving Pictures.

DR. POWERS' LECTURE

The third in the series of lectures given by Dr. H. H. Powers for the benefit of the Smith College Alumnae was held Thursday evening at Channing Church. Dr. Powers spoke in part as follows:

The Turk has gained his power through his great military power and his ability to hold together in contrast to the hopelessly divided condition of Christendom. As a man, he is of kindly disposition, and a good neighbor, but he regards all other nationalities as inferior to himself, and as rightly his prey. This is a part of his religion.

That the Turk who has no conception of statesmanship has been in possession of the most important city in the world is the irony of fate. Constantinople controls the greatest land route in the world, namely that from England to India. She also controls a seaport three times greater in importance than the port of New York. The products of Southern Russia, of the Balkan Peninsula, and of Asia Minor go through her hands.

Secondly it is the only port which is impregnable. The nation which controls Constantinople will certainly have the supremacy in Europe. It is this fact that has been the cause of so many wars, no nation of Europe being willing to let another nation control Constantinople. The question of what should be done with Constantinople should have been decided a year and a half ago. Then the power of the allied nations was at its height; every month of delay has weakened this power.

Thirdly, Constantinople is the only passageway in the world which has no substitute. Owing to geographical conditions, it is impossible to go around Constantinople. When Constantinople is closed, the trade of the world is paralyzed.

As to what should be done with Turkey, Dr. Powers said that there is no such thing as a settlement of the Near East on Territorial lines, since the Turks, the Kurds, the Greeks, and the Armenians are hopelessly intermingled.

Constantinople should be an open port, the common property of all nations, its fortifications razed to the ground. To keep this an open port, however, will require a policeman at the gateway, and the real question is who will be that policeman. The United States, Greece, and England, have each been considered, but the question is far from being settled.

Dr. Powers closed with rather a pessimistic note in which he failed to find a lasting peace possible with conditions as they are at present.

KILLS TREE PESTS

Doctor Woodpecker Is Nature's Chief Wood Surgeon.

In Everlasting Conflict With Millions of Dangerous Enemies That Would Destroy the Life of the Sturdy Forest Monarchs.

If half a thousand disease germs should suddenly begin eating into the life tissues of your body, you would surely need a doctor, writes F. E. Brimmer in the Farm Journal. Yet more than 500 species of insects prey upon the oak tree, and still we wonder at its strength and vigor. So much, indeed, that "sturdy as an oak" has become an advertising slogan.

The sturdy oak owes much of its long life to Doctor Woodpecker, nature's skilled wood surgeon. One borer would kill a tree single-handed if left at his deadly work long enough; so will a few beetles. A single mother beetle will produce nearly 500,000 young destroyers in a summer of uninterrupted activity. Weevils only stunt the growth of the tree and leave it full of holes, an easy victim to other destroyers. Saw flies, caterpillars, ants and moths are among the hosts of tree pests that damage the outer part of the trees. Against all these the tree is defenseless, except for the busy surgeon. A hungry bird of any other kind cannot help the tree, for the pests are hidden beneath the bark or far under the surface.

Just as plagues and epidemics wiped out whole villages of people in the middle ages, so if left to their enemies it would be only a few decades before all forests would be murdered—nothing but dead, grub-bored stumps and fallen trunks left. To prevent this terrible condition nature sends a physician regularly to each patient. Sometimes Doctor Woodpecker has been known to spend as many as three days operating on one very bad case, constantly using to advantage his tree-surgery tools. Generally his incision is only as deep as the thickness of the bark. Often he slides his spearbill between seams or crevices and draws out the worm, leaving no mark or scar on the bark to show where he did it. At other times his cuttings may be deep galleries tunnels or caverns.

A great deal of the drumming that we hear is only for sounding purposes—much like a man taps the wall with a hammer to find a studding. When Doctor Woodpecker has discovered a diseased part he directs a rapid fire of rattling beats upon the spot with his pickaxe bill, raining his hammer-like blows with automatic and astonishing precision, until his prey is brought to light. Then he thrusts in his barbed bill and, with a sudden backward jerk, brings forth the deadly grub.

Early Aviation Flight.

One may be reasonably surprised that interest in aviation has not sooner revived, as a curiosity of the past, the legend of Alexander the Great and his youthful ascent in a small car drawn by griffons. The legend was widely current in the middle ages, and many who heard it doubtless believed that Alexander's "gryphoplane," as a modern headline writer cheerfully calls it, had attained an altitude which would make the record ascension of modern aviation seem like a childish experiment. Griffons, as those who know their "Alice in Wonderland" will remember, were odd birds, and Alexander, an adventurous boy of twelve, was said to have harnessed two of them to a basket of rushes and been carried to a height of 917,654 feet, returning to meet a protesting parent, who asked him "how long he expected to keep up his infantile tricks."—Christian Science Monitor.

Signing Treaties.

Signatures on treaties have become easy to arrange now that the system of alphabetical order is followed, but formerly the fight for precedence was a cause of grievous difficulty. The order in which names appeared on treaties used to be determined by the status of the realms concerned. But this device involved such interminable disputes that other systems were suggested, and as long ago as 1718, at the signature of the quadruple alliance, each Power signed first the copy which was to remain in its possession. At Aix-la-Chapelle, in 1748, the contracting parties each signed one copy for each of the others. Finally the present plan of alphabetical order (according to the French alphabet) was adopted.

Steel Pipe Industry.

Very few persons realize the varied applications of the prosaic steel or iron pipe. It has been used for many years as a conduit for water, sewage, steam or gas, but at the present time pipe enters into the construction of such varied products as agricultural implements, automobiles, architectural ironwork and grill work, building columns, refrigerating machinery, dry-kiln apparatus, elevator cars, wheelbarrows, work benches, ornamental gates, elevator grain spouts, safety ladders, warship masts, lighting and high-tension poles, electric wiring, railway signal apparatus, sprinkler systems and signal towers.

As the variety of uses for tubular products increased and the cost of making steel diminished, there has been a change also in material. Fifty years ago nearly all the screw-joint pipe was made of wrought iron.

LED IN "ART PRESERVATIVE"

Conclusive Proof That the Koreans Were the First to Perceive Value of Movable Type.

Fifty pieces of movable type bearing the Chinese characters, being part of the first font of movable type ever made, were shown in the last week in the Museum of Natural History, in New York. England has the other half of the font, which was cast in Seoul, Korea, in 1403, some years before the discoveries of Forster, Gutenberg and the other early type-makers in Europe. It seems, thus, that to the Koreans belongs the distinction of having invented and first produced separate type characters in metal.

Each type is cylindrically concave on the under side, in order to make it cling more firmly to the bed of beeswax which constituted the "form." When the type had been firmly and evenly embedded in the wax the printer, sitting cross-legged before the form, covered the type with ink applied with a soft brush. Then the paper was laid lightly on the form and a piece of felt was brushed gently over the paper with one hand, after which the other removed the printed page. It was possible to strike off as many as 1,500 impressions a day in this way.

Thrown aside as useless, the font lay as rubbish on the floor of the government printing office at Seoul during the Japanese invasion of 1902-07, and so lay unnoticed and escaped being carried off into Japan. Later, however, the types were collected and the font again made up and used for printing.

Although this font was the first to be made of movable metal type, various methods of printing had already been in vogue for centuries. Dr. Berthold Laufer, anthropologist and orientalist, has recently drawn up an excellent reference summary of the important dates in the history of printing. As early as 175 A. D. texts of the Chinese classics were engraved on stone tablets, and impressions were taken on paper by rubbing. In 593 classical books were printed by means of wooden blocks, block-printing on a smaller scale having already been practiced. In 764 Japan adopted block-printing, and in the tenth century there were discovered in Fayum, Egypt, block-printed books in Arabic.

To Explore Earth's Interior.

Our knowledge of the earth from actual contact is confined to a thin layer of only a few hundred feet, and what exists deeper down is a subject for speculation. The idea of exploring further by a bore-hole some ten times as deep as any yet attempted was again brought up in the late presidential address of Hon. Sir Charles A. Parsons to the British association. He proposed in 1901 the sinking of such a shaft to a depth of 12 miles, and estimated that it would require eighty-five years of time and cost $27,000,000—an outlay about equal to that for one first-class battleship. Since then Prof. F. D. Adams has concluded that a depth of 15 miles could be reached in limestone before the rock would give trouble by being crushed, and in granite about 30 miles could be reached. Such a shaft might throw much light on the earth's internal constitution—especially as related to very heavy minerals. In Italy, bore-holes sunk to moderate depths in a volcanic district discharge great volumes of high pressure steam, and this is being utilized to generate about 10,000 horsepower by turbines.

Differing Types of Marble.

In its tests of 52 different types of marbles, the United States bureau of standards has found the compressive strength of the dry material to range between 7,550 and 50,250 pounds per square inch. Wet specimens were usually somewhat weaker, and in a few instances loss of strength from soaking was as great as 25 per cent. After 30 freezings and thawings, most specimens were much weakened, though some were little affected, while a few were actually strengthened. The electrical resistance varies so greatly that care is necessary in selecting material for switchboard. Marbles expand irregularly on heating, and part of the increase is permanent.

Belated Profiteer.

In Montana there is an old Indian brave who appears each year with quantities of a certain luscious berry which grows wild in great profusion and which is highly esteemed by thrifty housewives for canning. For many years his price has been five cents per quart. This season the same Indian came with the same berries which had been growing wild in the same profusion, but he calmly announced his price as 25 cents a quart. Asked why the increase, he shrugged his shoulders and said: "Heap big war some place." Then he added: "Me just hear about um," as though to apologize for not having increased his price sooner.

"So-and-So and Daughter."

It is a welcome sight to see the words "and daughter" as the suffix to the name over a shop, says the London News. It is a sign of the times of women's interest in business and their recognition as responsible helpmates. In the west end there is more than one emporium of feminine attire under the ownership of So-and-So and Daughter—or daughters—and I know of another which belongs officially to father and daughters; but I have never yet come across a shop under the joint ownership of husband and wife, yet we know of countless small businesses in which the wife of the owner does a goodly share of the work.

ent plan would be shared jointly by the city and public subscription, and would be under supervision of a Board of Trustees.

The dance to be conducted by the Post at the Armory next Monday night is causing considerable interest among the members, and it appears as though there would be a record crowd in the hall. Having the best floor in the city, and being accessible to trains and cars, it is hoped that the members will support the affair, and attend. At Smith's Jazz Orchestra has been engaged, and Mr. Smith promises to leave no stone unturned to make the evening a pleasant one for all.

It is hoped that the Post will soon be able to hold meetings in the old Congregational Church in West Newton. The city is soon to appropriate sufficient funds to put the church in shape for meetings and small socials. It will also be equipped in such a manner that men may "drop in" at night, and spend a pleasant hour.

On next Tuesday, February 17, as part of the Post's plan to observe "Make friends with the Alien" week, there will be a public meeting in the Newton High School Hall at 8 P. M. Among the speakers will be Lieutenant Governor Channing Cox, State Commander Logan, and Henry J. (Sailor) Ryan of the State Americanization Committee. One of the features of the meeting will be the presentation by a French army officer, in behalf of the French government of a Memorial Certificate to the next of kin of those who gave their lives in the service. It is hoped that all members who can do so will be present that night, and that any other citizens who wish, would show their interest in the matter by being in attendance.

It was voted at the meeting Monday night to delegate one man to attend meetings of the Board of Aldermen, in order that when matters of interest to the community and the Post arise, the Post will have first hand knowledge of the matter. Incidentally, when matters pertaining to the Post come up for discussion, the Post through this representative will be in position to assist the Board as far as possible.

There are still a large number of ex-Servicemen in Newton, who have not yet become members of any Post of the American Legion. In many cases, it is mere neglect and these men are urged to become members at once, either of this Post or some other post. The chief thing is to JOIN. If the wives, sisters, mothers, sweethearts and "occasionals" would take up this matter with any non-member who should be enrolled, perhaps the ranks of the Legion would be increased.

A CRY FROM NONANTUM

Newton, February 12, 1920.
Editor of The Newton Graphic:
A large number of residents of Newton, were formerly of the opinion that the local street railways had a two-fold purpose, namely, to afford convenience to the public, and to secure dividends for the stockholders in these companies. Many of us, however, have reached the conclusion that the public does not enter into the consideration of the street railway managements, if present conditions are to be taken as a criterion. Although a week has elapsed since the recent snow-storm, the Bemis line is still not in operation from Newton to Bemis, and the Needham line is also out of action. If heavy drifts had to be contended with, there would be some excuse, but on the Bemis line at least, this condition does not exist. Perhaps the company has a good reason for its failure to make any apparent effort to resume traffic on this section, but there was no such cessation of service in former winters when equally severe conditions had to be contended with. It would seem that there is no great anxiety on the part of the Middlesex & Boston Company to relieve the inconvenience occasioned to Nonantum residents and workers. With increased fares, we are receiving decreased service.

Yours respectfully,
EDWARD A. MURPHY,
Nonantum.

DIES SUDDENLY

Mr. Manley U. Adams, a well known resident of Temple street, West Newton was taken ill Tuesday afternoon in the South Station, Boston and died before the ambulance which was summoned could reach him.

Mr. Adams was 74 years of age, a native of Boston and had lived in Newton for the past 25 years. He was connected with many industrial enterprises, being treasurer of the Winthrop Manufacturing Company and the Fisher Manufacturing Company of Fisherville, and until recently with the Cabot Manufacturing Company. Mrs. Ham's husband, Mr. Christian Ham, died of the influenza ten days before the death of Mrs. Putnam.

—The West Newton Mothers' Club held its first banquet last week Tuesday night at the West Newton Neighborhood House. The decorations were pink and white, sweet peas and candles. Music was furnished by the West Newton Music School. Mayor Childs, who was unable to be present sent regrets and expressed his interest in the club. Mrs. Percival F. Howe and Mrs. Sidney B. Thomas read a story each reading half. In all a very pleasant evening was spent. About forty-two were present.

—A peculiar incident took place Monday morning, when a horse attached to a pump, standing in front of the Caroline block on Washington street, became frightened at a passing train and dashed down the street towards the City Hall. Some one tried to stop the animal opposite the Post Office and only succeeded in sheering it off towards the huge piles of snow opposite the Unitarian Church. As the pump struck this snow, it was turned over, the twist of the shafts, also throwing the horse and both horse and pump made a complete revolution onto the railway track. The horse regained its footing and with the pump on its side ran a little farther down the street before it was finally stopped.

READ FUND LECTURE

The third in the course of lectures this season under the auspices of the Read Fund took place Monday evening at the Hunnewell Club. The speaker was Mr. B. R. Baumgardt, and the subject, "The Rhine and the Army of Occupation."

The speaker began by giving a short summary of the war, in which he regretted the signing of the armistice, saying that had this not been done the Allies would have been in Berlin within thirty days and a lasting peace made possible.

He then showed pictures of the River Rhine, from its rise in Switzerland to below Cologne. In connection with Switzerland, he showed a picture of a Swiss town meeting, and spoke of the feeling almost of conservation with which the Swiss regard national affairs.

He dwelt upon the historic aspect of the Rhine naming the different conquerors who in the last two thousand years had crossed it. He especially called attention to Charlemagne and his work. Although illiterate, Charlemagne did much for the cause of education founding the scholastic system. He told many interesting legends connected with him, among them of the return of Charlemagne each year to bless the vineyards of the Rhine which he had planted.

Taking his audience on a trip down the Rhine, he then showed the famous castles which line the banks, reciting many of the poems and legends connected with them. The part that the Rhine played in the opera of Wagner was especially emphasized, and many pictures illustrative of the

The cathedrals of the Rhine and the fortresses now in the hands of the Americans were also shown, also some of the favorite castles of the Hohenzollerns.

The lecture concluded with a very
moonlight. In spite of the weather, the hall was very well filled.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

"Miss Georgie A. Bacon from Massachusetts for General Federation President" is the slogan adopted by the State Federation in its campaign for her election to that important position. To further her interests and to make her better known to the present workers in the clubs, a luncheon in her honor was arranged at Hotel Vendome by the executive board of the State Federation for Friday of last week. In spite of the blizzard and the tied-up conditions of traffic, both trolleys and trains, over one hundred attended.

Glimpses of her life, both as a girl and as a woman, and of the numerous positions of trust she has held in club, federation and public circles were thrown upon the "screen" in the after-luncheon exercises. High tribute was paid to her ability as a presiding officer, particularly whenever difficult sessions of the General Federation have been assigned to her while a vice-president, to her genius for detail, to her service upon the finance committee and especially to her work this present year as director of Thrift for the General Federation.
Other points brought out as to her fitness for the office were: Her good carrying voice, her ability to say something which can be carried away, her tact and her breadth of vision. In presenting Miss Bacon as a candidate Massachusetts feels that she is putting forward a woman amply qualified to fill the important office and one who has already demonstrated her fitness for it.

Much interest in the coming Biennial at Des Moines was stimulated by this luncheon and it is absolutely necessary for Massachusetts to send a large delegation. If we are to elect our candidate, A tentative itinerary is announced in the February Bulletin: Leave Boston Monday, June 14, arriving in Des Moines on Tuesday afternoon and remaining there until the evening of June 23rd. Return via Chicago with a day of sightseeing there and another day at Niagara, reaching Boston Saturday, the 26th.
No definite figures for the expense can be given until the railroads have been returned to private control, but it is thought that it will range from $150-$175, not including meals in Des Moines. The clubs should begin to plan about their delegates very soon and put the matter upon a business basis that Massachusetts may have a full quota.

State Federation

Tuesday, February 17, 10:30 A. M.
Woman's Club House, Dorchester. An extremely important joint conference of the Civic and Social and Industrial Conditions departments, to which all club women are cordially invited. Mrs. Irving O. Palmer and Mrs. Schuyler E. Herron will speak on Thrift. Mrs. Claude U. Gilson on "What Women Need in Citizenship and Education." O. F. Lewis, secretary of the Prison Association of New York, comes especially to make an address on "A Plan for the Reduction of Juvenile Delinquency by Community Effort." There will also be an address on "Britain and America Reconstructed," by Harry Foster Burns.
There will be a box luncheon with coffee and sale between the morning and afternoon sessions.

An evening Legislative conference will be held on the same date at 7:45 in Central Hall, Central square, East
Boston, by invitation of the Home Club. Club women and their husbands are cordially invited.

lecture by Mrs. Clarence Kingsley on Racial Backgrounds. Rev. J. Edgar
Park will preside.

Wednesday, February 25, 2:30 P. M.

Mid-winter meeting of the Federation at Technical High School hall, Newtonville. A unique program is being arranged under the direction of Miss Mary Lawrence, consisting of a series of tableaux representing scenes from the life of Elijah, interspersed with music from the oratorio. Those taking part in the tableaux will be our own Newton women, including some of foreign birth, while the music is in professional hands, the best talent available being selected. Remember the date, February 25, and let no other engagement prevent attendance.

Local Announcements

February 14th, the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club meets with Miss Albert J. Crombie of Colababus street, when Miss Marion White will be in charge of the review of
"As You Like It."

Miss Mary E. Hyde will be the hostess for the meeting of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. on Monday, February 16. Mrs. W. T. Logan will consider the works of Vincente Blasco Ibanez.

"New Occasions teach New Duties" is the subject of the address to be given by Mr. Frank W. Wright, deputy commissioner of education, before the Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls next Monday evening. Mrs. Clifford H. Leighton will sing, accompanied by Miss Gladys Billings. Mrs. Arthur
W. Lane, president of the Newton Federation, will be the guest of honor.

On Tuesday afternoon the Newton Highlands Monday Club will entertain the children of the club at Odd Fellows Hall.

Mrs. Nelson Freeman of Lexington street will be hostess for the meeting of the Auburndale Review Club on February 17. "Polish Music and Musicians" is the subject. Mrs. Freeman is also chairman for the day and will be assisted by Mrs. Charles E. Valentine and Mrs. Henry R. Turner.

Lieut. Harold B. Willis will give an illustrated lecture before the Newton-ville Woman's Club on "Chateaux of France." The speaker is a Newton boy and will receive a cordial welcome. The meeting is under the auspices of the Art committee, Mrs. P.
A. Evans, chairman. Tea will be served.

The monthly current events lecture by Mrs. W. C. Crawford is the program for the Social Science Club next Wednesday morning. Guests may be invited.

On Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock
the Newton Ladies' Home Circle
meets at G. A. R. Hall, Newtonville.

On February 19 the Newton Centre
Woman's Club will have a social service program. Dr. William Emerson will give an illustrated lecture on "Nutrition Clinics."

The postponed meeting of the Conservation class will be held on Friday, February 20, at the Newton Library. The subject will be, "Conservation of Human Life." A discussion will follow the presentation of the subject.

Local Happenings

The Waban Woman's Club had its annual musicale at the Neighborhood Club on Monday afternoon in charge of Mrs. Archie C. Burnett. The Boston Ensemble Club comprising Hildegarde Brandage, violinist, Marjorie Fatten Friend, cellist, and Marion Hyde, pianist, rendered a program of high order including groups for each of the three instruments and two ensemble numbers. It was greatly enjoyed by a large audience. Tea was served during the social hour. The meeting of the club, which would regularly come on February 23rd, will be omitted on account of the holiday.

The Social Science Club had a delightful musical morning on Wednesday, Mrs. Edward M. Hallett being the chairman. Mr. Guy Maier played for a half-hour, explaining his selections as he went along. Among those which he rendered may be mentioned a modern Russian composition, which he said could not be obtained in America, and which reflects all the turmoil now existing there.

Following his recital Mr. Maier told most interestingly of his experiences in entertaining the boys over seas and in making them entertain themselves.
He considers the Americans really emotional, dramatic and musical, but without a means of self-expression.

Echoes from the Federation Meeting

Illness and the difficulties of transportation combined to make the midwinter meeting of the State Federation at Revere on Wednesday much smaller than usual. Mrs. George Mi-not Baker, the president of the Federation, was detained by an attack of laryngitis, so that Mrs. Grace V. Hibbard, first vice-president was in the chair. Sickness also prevented the president of the hostess club, Revere Woman's Club, from being present to extend the club's greetings and this function devolved upon one of the vice-presidents.

The three legislative bills presented for action by the Federation were endorsed, that for Health Education receiving unanimous support; a small minority favored the substitution of another bill for that relative to Maternity Care introduced by Representative B. Loring Young; the greatest amount of discussion came on that of State Censorship of Moving Pictures and when put to vote it was finally endorsed by about 75 per cent. of those voting.

The afternoon addresses were fine, particularly that of Miss Georgie A.
Bacon on "Thrift as I See It."

The Newton Centre Woman's Club is most fortunate in being able to procure Dr. William R. P. Emerson to give them a lecture on "Nutrition Clinics," at the morning meeting of Thursday, February 19th. Dr. Emerson has specialized for many years in nutrition and malnutrition clinic work, that now being his entire practice. He began in Chicago and now runs three public clinics and one private in Boston, besides having a training school for clinic nurses.
The lecture will be illustrated with a lantern and chart and will be one of great interest to this community where at some future date a clinic of this sort is hoped to be started.
All members are urged to be present.

FARMINGTON ALUMNI

The Massachusetts Alumni Association of the Farmington, Me., Normal School held its annual meeting last Saturday night at the Hunnewell Club.
About 140 were present.

Mr. F. O. Stanley was chairman of the committee.

At the business meeting the following were chosen for the ensuing year: President, Miss Blanche S.
Minot of Waverley; vice-presidents,
Mrs. Sarah Willard, Mrs. Mabel Hutchinson, and Mrs. Alice Davidson; treasurer, Mr. Clarence Knowlton of Hingham; secretary, Miss Anna Chick of Chelsea; executive committee, Mr.
F. O. Stanley, Mrs. Grace Cowan, Mrs.
Grace Lilly Bullard, Mrs. Eva Hupper Gee. Mr. F. O. Stanley was the oldest alumni present.

After the banquet, a very pleasant evening was spent.

THE OWAISSA CAMP FIRE

The girls of the Owaisa Camp Fire of Auburndale gave a very successful cobweb party Thursday afternoon at the congregational Church. Each girl brought a friend, and each member of the group wore a costume.

During January, the membership of the Camp Fire increased from six to twenty-one.

On February 19, the Owaisa Camp
Fire is planning to hold a Patriotic Council Fire in their room in the Congregational Church. All who wish to join the camp fire, are requested to join now so that they may be officially admitted to the group at this time. A short business meeting will follow the Council meeting.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by DOROTHY DRAKE

Fessenden School

For the past week Fessenden has been snow-bound. The two great storms, one right on top of the other, succeeded in completely isolating the school and stopping all traffic through its grounds. Snow many feet deep is piled up on both sides of the road, and the wonderful ice on the rink is imprisoned under several layers of snow and crust. A cold spell immediately followed the first storm, causing a heavy crust to form and furnishing an abundance of fine sledding on the golf course hill. The second storm, however, cut this short, and the cold, since then, has not been sufficiently intense to form a second crust.

While the school was thus rendered helpless by these shackles of snow, no food whatsoever could be brought into the grounds and, for a few days, the boys had to "handle with care."

Mr. Fessenden, after careful thought and consideration, has decided upon "Memorial Hall" as the most suitable title for the new building. Under this name it will stand, for years to come, as a sacred monument to those Fessenden boys and masters who unselfishly laid down their lives for their land and humanity; and to those, also, whose hearts burned with the fire of patriotism but, because of their youth, could not make the supreme sacrifice.

Lincoln Day was celebrated at Fessenden by several exercises given in the school gymnasium. They consisted of the singing of several patriotic hymns and songs, the reading of "The Perfect Tribute" and the presentation of a scene from Dr. King's famous play, "Abraham Lincoln," by the school Dramatic Club, which proved to be a success.

Last Sunday noon, several of the boys were startled to see a brown figure leap lightly over the fence behind the cottage and disappear into the trees. They immediately started in pursuit and, after following its tracks for several yards, they discovered it to be a young deer which, as they later learned, had escaped from the Zoo. That afternoon it was again seen, when several men chased it into a back yard, where they succeeded in capturing it and returned it to the owner.

Plans for the sixth form dance, which is to come on the twenty-eighth, are now well under way. Invitations are being sent out and a dance committee has been selected whose duty it will be to see that the dance is a success.

Lasell

Today about 75 girls leave for the mid-winter excursion to the White Mountains. Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Towne will accompany them. While at Intervale they will occupy Hotel Bellevue.

On Tuesday and Thursday evenings large parties attended the concerts by John McCormack.

The Sunday night verses were held at the different dormitories. At Wood and Park, Dr. George S. Bates gave the address. At the main building at the close of the service Miss Nagel, an overseas nurse talked informally and interestingly to the students of her work in the hospitals in France.

Among the recent guests of the Seminary was Senor Valdez, a friend of Louis Cabrera's, the financial minister of Mexico, whose two daughters are members of the school. He came as a delegate from the Mexican government to the conference in Washington of Pan-American financiers.

In the interim between the sessions of the conference Senor Valdez made a study of the Washington Bureau of Standards. It is interesting to note in this connection that the currency of Mexico is firmly established on the gold basis, and that under the direction of Mr. Cabrera Mexico is now resuming the payment of interest on her national debt.

The seniors are enthusiastic over their conversation classes which begin their work with the new term.

Bigelow School

The Junior Audubon Class in Miss Dyer's room has elected the following officers: President, Walter Shanley; secretary, Catherine Cody; treasurer, Arthur Schindler. The class is studying winter birds.

Lincoln Day was celebrated in all the classrooms. The History Divisions of the Eighth Grade had a special Lincoln program.

Claflin School

Two interesting talks were given on Tuesday by the seventh grade pupils in the hall with the use of the lantern. Samuel Moore talked on the construction of bridges in France. John Canada explained the mechanics of an aeroplane.

The sixth grade went for a sleigh ride on Wednesday the 4th. They started from the school house directly after school and went as far as the Bird Cage Tea Room at Wellesley, where they had a light lunch. They sang on the way home and had a jolly time all round.

The members of the Claflin School football team have received white block C's to be put on blue sweaters. The members of the Class of 1919, held a reunion in Claflin School Hall on Wednesday, February 4th from 3.30 to 5.30.

The dancing class on Thursday afternoons is organized with 162 pupils taking advantage of the lessons in social dancing.

Roger Wolcott School

"Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," a farce in three acts, was presented by the entertainment committee of the seventh grade at the home of Mrs. White on Friday afternoon. The sixth and eighth grades were guests. Hot chocolate and cookies were served by Mrs. White to all in the social hour after the play.

The National Week of Song which comes during the week of the twenty-second will be celebrated in the Wolcott School with patriotic music and singing every morning during the opening exercises. Special programs are being prepared to awaken a love for God and Country, to stimulate a true spirit of devotion and loyalty and to develop that spirit of brotherhood which will make us a better people and a greater nation. This is done in accordance with the report of the song committee at the recent "Music Supervisors National Conference."

During the week of Washington's Birthday, it is hoped that Schuyler F. Herron of the Savings Division of the First Federal Reserve District will present his Thrift Talk to Children to the pupils of our school.

The parents, pupils, and teachers all welcomed most cordially Miss Julia McCarthy at the opening of school this week. Miss McCarthy has been ill for a week and confined to her home. The school rejoices that she winter returned well and strong.

Work on the new schoolhouse is at a standstill, the stormy weather having upset all plans.

Stearns School Notes

It has been found necessary to increase the cost of the school lunch which is served to the children during the morning recess period. The price of the lunch is three cents where formerly it was two.

Since the storm of last week the children of the Stearns School district have been enjoying unusually fine coasting. The hill in the school yard at the rear of the building is the place of attraction these days, taking the place of the skating rink which was a source of much pleasure earlier in the winter.

Miss Walker's class, Grade IV, and Miss Lewis' class, Grade VI, had the highest record of attendance for the month of January, each having a percentage of 95.4.

In Miss Stoddard's room, Grade VII, the pupils who have the highest average for the first half of the year are Gladys Mahoney, Fred Coletti and Larry Wazola.

The eighth grade plan to visit the plant of the Hood Rubber Company at Watertown on Friday afternoon. A very interesting and enlightening trip is looked for because of the magnitude and efficiency of the Hood factories.

The Hockey game scheduled with the Mason for Tuesday afternoon was again postponed until the weather is favorable.

The Teacher Training Class under Mr. Murray which meets at the Technical High school on Tuesday afternoons at 2.30 was postponed last week on account of the storm but will meet this coming Tuesday.

Newton High School (Classical)

At the last two meetings held on Wednesday morning of last week and the week before, several important school matters were brought to the attention of the classes. For a long time now, there has been a great deal of disturbance in the Lunch Room owing to the crowded conditions of affairs, and a rather unsystematic method of handling the noon-hour rush. This matter was discussed by the principal and left open for suggestions by the pupils. It is now hoped that a two-shift system will be adopted whereby the three upper classes may use the room for one-half hour, and the Freshman for the next half hour following. This scheme has many disadvantages because of the fact that the pupils eating lunch at a later hour will disturb the classes then in session, and vice versa. Among other announcements made, was one in regard to the Boston Symphony Orchestra, which has arranged a special concert for young boys and girls. This plan has been carried out by the distribution of tickets, selling at a reasonable price, throughout the schools of Greater Boston. To be sure there are nowhere near enough to satisfy the demand, but a few have been allotted to Newton High and it will be a question of "first come first served" when they arrive.

Since Wednesday of last week all activities have been suspended on account of the storm, and as a result, Hockey, Track, Basket-Ball, and other organizations have postponed most of their meetings and events until the regular school sessions recommence. On Saturday evening, February 7, at the B. A. A. meet in Mechanics Hall, Newton's Relay Team defeated the track men of Brookline and Noble & Greenough, Bell, Garrity, Clausen, and Peppard, winning for Newton. Moore of the class of '19, a brilliant track star ran for the Dartmouth Freshman Relay Team and brought his school the winning honors by some fine running. Steve Palmer, Captain of Track at Newton last year, ran in 660-yard run and showed some of the finest running of his career by winning that event.

On the night of February 28th a banquet will be held at the Boston City Club for all those fellows who made their "V" either in baseball or football during the season of 1919. This includes, however, only those who are now attending the High School, no graduates being eligible. This banquet will be held for all the "letter" men of the eight teams of the Suburban League, and it is anticipated that such a gathering ought to be a success.

DEATH OF MR. SCHASCHKE

Frederick Gilcreast Schaschke, an assistant supervisor of the Boston & Albany Railroad at the South Station died last week Thursday at his home, 69 Prince street, West Newton, at the age of twenty-six years. He became ill with a cold nearly a fortnight ago, and pneumonia developed.

Mr. Schaschke was born in Kearney, Neb., and was the only son of Harvey W. and Caroline Schaschke. For a time the family lived in Detroit, from there coming to Boston to make their home in Newton. He is a graduate of the Newton schools, and after graduation from the high school he entered the service of the Boston & Albany. His rapid promotion was due to his readiness to undertake any work asked of him. He had the respect of all his fellow-workers. About two years and a half ago he married Adeline Martha Howlett, and they have been active and well known in the younger social set in Newton. He is survived by his widow and by his parents, whose home is at 77 Page road, Newtonville.

DEATH OF MRS. EMERSON

Mrs. Martha T. Emerson widow, of Mr. R. V. C. Emerson, long a resident of Newton passed away early Tuesday morning, after a brief illness at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edward Hayward, in Cohoes, N. Y., where she had been making her home for the past few years. Mrs. Emerson, until recently lived at the old homestead on Richardson street, Newton and had been a member of Elliot Congregational Church a great many years.

Mrs. Emerson celebrated her 91st birthday last December and enjoyed good health until the last week.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Leila T. Hayward and Miss Emily F. Emerson, both of Cohoes, N. Y., and Mrs. Charles R. Fisher of West Newton.

The funeral services were held at Newton Cemetery Chapel this afternoon at 2.30. Rev. H. Grant Person, officiating.

—A most peculiar accident took place Monday afternoon, when a chimney from the roof of Eliot block on Centre street, crashed through a wooden shed in the rear of the upstairs tenement in Lancaster block and badly damaged the ceiling in Atkins grocery store. A man was putting coal into the wood shed at the time and the mass of bricks almost hit him as he was entering the shed with a basket of coal on his shoulder.

—Mr. John Cassidy, for many years a well known gardener in this village, died at his rooms in Coles Block, last week Thursday, following a brief illness, hastened by some work he had done shovelling snow. Mr. Cassidy in his younger days was a coachman for the late Thomas Nickerson in Newton Centre. He lived alone and so far as known has no relatives. His age is also uncertain but he was probably well over seventy years. He was reputed to be well off and the public administrator will probably take care of his estate. The funeral was held on Wednesday, with burial at Waltham.

GIRL SCOUTS

The Campaign is over and as usual Newton not only raised its quota but went over the top. The quota for the city was $2400 and the amount received so far is $2472.

West Newton led. The amount to be raised in that village was $600 and the amount the Committee has turned in is $518.

Waban came next in exceeding its quota. The quota for that village was $300 and they raised $367.

Newtonville went over the top also. Their quota was $300 and they raised $322.

Newton raised its quota of $600. Newton Centre was not so fortunate. Of their $500 to raise only $350 has been taken in thus far. The storm and so much illness has made it hard for the members of the Committee but they are still hopeful that they may yet get their full amount.

The Nonantum Scouts collected $14 in contributions and have sent that amount into the fund. This is the only troop where the girls themselves have asked for subscriptions and it is greatly to their credit that they have done so well.

The response to the appeal sent out has been most generous and the Girl Scout Organization of Newton wishes to thank its friends for their hearty response.

The interest and co-operation of the citizens of Newton in their local Girl Scout organization will do more towards strengthening and furthering that organization than any other thing. We find that this Campaign has been most successful in arousing this interest and we feel sure that Newton has become better will grow to depend more on its eager, responsive and reliable Girl acquainted with and as time goes on Scouts.

efficiency, but added that all this would be of little value unless they brought back with them the spirit of Jesus Christ.

It was then the turn of the guests to participate in the entertainment. Mr. Shen Hung gave a vocal selection which represented Chinese Opera, and Mr. T. H. King played a kind of oboe which gave forth a weird, melancholy sound. Following these, Messrs. C. C. Lowe, T. L. Hsi, H. C. Chen, P. L. Wong, gave a little play in which the plot turned upon the inability of one of their number to understand the words "registered letter." This was much enjoyed by the audience. Mr. H. Y. Tsai also told some Chinese jokes.

By special request, Mr. Alfred Szil then spoke on the Shantung question. He stated that in the original agreement by which Germany got control of this province, it was definitely stated that under no consideration should Germany lease any of her privileges to any other nation without the consent of China who was in the position of landlord, and that Japan had no right whatever to the province.

At the conclusion of his speech, Mr. Leverett Merrill sang several solos, accompanied by Mr. George Lincoln Parker, and the Eliot Church orchestra played selections. Refreshments were then served. These consisted of ice cream and cake, and of dainty Chinese cakes and candies together with cups of tea.

A splendid spirit of fellowship was evident throughout the evening, and all who came had a very enjoyable time.

DEATH OF MRS. CHURCHILL

Mrs. Anne Jaffray Churchill, who died Friday, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Walter A. Dyer, 56 Theford avenue, Dorchester, at the age of 85 years, was the widow of Henry P. Churchill and daughter of the late Captain Alexander H. Washburn of Kingston. Mrs. Churchill was born in Kingston and claimed a long line of Mayflower ancestors, including John Alden and Governor Bradford. She was third vice regent of the Old Blake House Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

For many years Mrs. Churchill made her home in Newton, where she was a member of the Eliot Congregational Church; later, for many years, and at the time of her death, she was a communicant at the Second Church in Dorchester.

The burial took place Monday at the Newton Cemetery.

NOTICE

On April 23rd, 1919 the Board of Aldermen established the rates of fare for the conveyance of passengers in taxicabs, to be not in excess of 50 cents for three-fourths of a mile, and not to exceed 25 cents for each additional half mile or fraction thereof.

We have been carrying passengers at the old rate and although this increase has been allowed for the past ten months, we have waited until absolute necessity due to the increased cost of operation has forced us to raise our price, and it is with regret that we wish to announce to our many patrons and friends that beginning February 1st, 1920, the rates for taxi services will be as follows:

1 Passenger with ordinary baggage not exceeding 100 pounds, three-fourths of a mile or less 50 cents, and 25 cents for each additional half mile or fraction thereof.

BOSTON OPERA HOUSE—One of the features of the new musical comedy, "Take It From Me," which comes to the Boston Opera House on Monday, February 16th, is the striking originality and beauty of the costumes of the big chorus of pretty girls and the amazing "class" and distinction of the gowns and hats worn by the principals. The papers have commented upon these sartorial excellences with quite as much enthusiasm as they showed for the originality and vim of the six big song hits, the wholesome comedy of the story and the clever miming of a great group of fun makers.

The excruciatingly funny incidents in the plot of "Take It From Me" are all taken from real life in a great city department store. Unlike most of the musical comedies, or so-called "plays with music," this extraordinary offering contains a group of comic characters so well defined, so perfectly identified with their environments and with the musical and comedy requirements of the piece, that "Take It From Me" is by way of immortalizing a number of types easily recognized by every one who patronizes the "Big" stores.

Capt. Andre Morize Guest of Newton Post 48 of the American Legion.

The Public Meeting held at the Classical High School last Tuesday night under the auspices of the Post was well attended; about 500 persons being present to listen to Lt. Gov. Channing Cox, Mayor Edwin O. Childs and "Sailor" Ryan expound the doctrine of Americanism, and hear the tribute paid to America's fighting men by Captain Morize of the French Army, who, in behalf of his Government distributed Memorial Certificates to the next of kin of those who died in the service; either in camp, hospital or in action. Fathers, mothers and wives of fallen heroes occupied reserved seats in the hall. Members of the Post assisted in distributing the certificates and all those not given out in the hall will be mailed to the person entitled to receive them.

Commander C. Sinclair Weeks presided and his assistants were Henry D. Cormerais, Dwight Brigham, Michael Murray and Arthur Stubbs. In his introductory address Commander Weeks said in part:

The preamble of the constitution of the American Legion from which I wish to quote reads as follows: "For God and country we unite ourselves together to uphold and defend the constitution of the United States, to maintain law and order, and to develop the spirit of one hundred percent Americanism."

The American Legion has a potential membership of four millions of men who believe in these doctrines and who will and can do everything in their power in the years to come to develop them into actuality. The World War has been brought to a victorious conclusion. The army and the navy, excepting of course the regular establishment have been disbanded and four millions of men have gone back into civilian life. I venture to assert that every man who has seen such service realizes as he never realized before that an American citizen can serve his country in time of peace as well as in time of war, that with enemies menacing our institutions within as well as without, with the forces of destruction threatening to overthrow by force the government under which we have lived and prospered for the last one hundred and forty-eight years, that the opportunity for such service in such times as these is as great as it was during the past war.

Following out this line of thought the Massachusetts Department of the American Legion has set aside the week of February 15 to 22 as "Make Friends with an Alien Week". We believe that a great proportion of the troubles of this country would be over if we were to take the alien as he lands on our shores, teach him our language, teach him our customs, and teach him the institutions and the form of government under which he will live, and make him a citizen in fact as well as in name. In order to develop and encourage this movement is one of the reasons for which we have met here tonight.

The Government of France, desiring to express their sympathy to the families of our comrades who have fallen during the late war has expressed the wish to present to the families of

JUMBLE SHOP

Smith Drive Given Substantial Boost at Newton Highlands

On Friday, Feb. 13th and Saturday, Feb. 14th a "Jumble Shop" was conducted by the Smith College Alumnae of Newton Highlands at 51 Lincoln street in that village. The proceeds are to be devoted to the Smith College Endowment Fund, the drive for which ends this month. In spite of the inclemency of the weather the sale was well attended. At the "Jumble Shop" there was everything to find. The windows were most attractive and suggestive of spring, with choice plants on one side and very smart and modish sport hats on the other. Inside the little people found great attractions in the grubs which Mrs. B. Walter Godsoe had attractively arranged with a suggestion of St. Valentine's season. Many found the "Home Cooking" most convenient to purchase and Mrs. M. Marsden Griswold and the committee had a most wonderful assortment of appetizing things. Another feature was the "Jumble Table," for which Mrs. John W. Locke had procured the most amazing assortment of things, even to an old warming pan which came from Plymouth and was considerably over one hundred years of age. Mrs. Harvey S. Hatch, an artist herself, had some exquisite hangings, brass work and photographs, which gave pleasure to the artistically inclined. While Mrs. Albert S. Hutchinson took orders for the most dainty dresses and lingerie. In the tea-room, Mrs. Donald Dana McKay and her efficient committee, served lunches and afternoon tea, making a special feature of Mrs. Geo. W. Mellen's "Victory Sandwich." All of the Smith graduates of the town together with their chairman, Miss Marion H. Doe, feel greatly indebted to all who helped to make this sale a success and contribute towards their quota for the endowment fund.

ATTENTION EX-OFFICERS

VICTORY CONVENTION

Middlesex W. C. T. U. Meets at Newton Centre Baptist Church

The victory convention of the Middlesex County Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held Wednesday at the Immanuel Baptist Church, Newton.

The convention was opened by the President, Mrs. Grace M. Hamilton from Winchester, Mass., who spoke of the work of the W. C. T. U., and of all that still remained to be done. Rev. H. Grant Person then gave the address of welcome from the Newton Churches. The business meeting followed. Mr. Frank Bagdasarian then sang several songs in a pleasing manner, accompanied by Miss Agnes Trowbridge.

Mrs. Jones of Weston spoke of the value of the Quiet Hour and Noon Tide Prayer. At 12.30 there was an adjournment for luncheon.

The devotional service of the afternoon was conducted by Rev. Newton A. Merrill, Jr. This was followed by "Echoes from the National Convention" by the President, after which a playlet, "Over the top for the Jubilee" was presented by members of the Winchester Union.

The concluding number on the program was a roll call and discussion on the "Jubilee Drive" led by the State President, Mrs. Ella S. Gleason. The meeting adjourned with the White Ribbon Benediction.

MORTGAGE BURNED

Cline Memorial M. E. Church celebrates its Freedom from Debt

In 1908 there was a mortgage debt on the Church of $7000.00 but at that time Mr. N. O. Cline of Newton Highlands, a member of the church, generously came to the aid of the society and paid $5000 of this amount. It was in memory of this good and liberal man that the church was named Cline Memorial. Within a few years the church has had a new roof costing $525 and a pipe organ installed costing $1500. The parsonage, a beautiful large house of 12 rooms was given the society, and is located on the next lot to the church. During the present year a mortgage which began in April, 1916, the remaining mortgage debt of $2,000 and a floating debt of $500, have been cancelled, beside this $250 has been expended on the parsonage, $400 on the church for repairs and improvements. The last $1000 of mortgage debt was practically all raised during the month of January. This means that $5175 has been raised by this organization during these last half dozen years of war and high cost of living beside its regular budget of expense and increased benevolences. The mortgage burning took place Friday evening, Feb. 13. The weather was unfavorable but notwithstanding this, there was a good attendance. The service began with the singing of that grand old hymn, "O God our Help in Ages Past." Reading of Scripture, A psalm of Thanksgiving, Prayer, Rev. George G. Phipps, former pastor of the Congregational Church of this place and an old and much loved resident of the city. Rev. George H. Spencer, D.D., corresponding secretary of the Massachusetts Bible Society of Boston, Mass., and former (Continued on Page 4)

CONFIRMATION REFUSED

Aldermen Object to Policemen Acting as Assistant Assessors.

The aldermen on Monday night put a stamp of disapproval on the proposed plan of the Assessors to use twelve police officers for the work of assistant assessors. This was done in spite of a comprehensive and favorable report from the special committee appointed last week to look into the matter. The report stated in substance that the Assessors find it necessary to find at least two new men for the work this year, and four of the present force are men so far along in years that it is doubtful if they can again do the work. Last year it took something like nine or ten weeks for the task, and this delay held up the work of the principal assessors themselves. This year it was necessary to get prompt returns from the poll assessments as the rate would be $5 instead of $2 and the state would require the city to pay for each poll assessed whether it had been collected or not and the earlier the collector received his warrant for poll taxes the quicker he would get to work on the collections. The policemen, who would act as assistant assessors, were men now on night duty and they would give what is known as their long day off to this work, but in case of emergency would respond to any call from the Chief of Police. The men named had been selected by the Chief and he had informed the committee that he saw no objection to the plan. Waltham had tried it last year and had completed its canvass of the city in seven days.

When the matter came up for action Alderman Forknall attacked the plan, stating that it had been illegally conceived as the assessors had arranged the whole scheme with the Chief of Police, before consulting with the mayor. He asked what would be done next year, in case any of these men had had their beats changed during the next twelve months, would new men be appointed in their places?

He wanted to know who was in control of these men, the Chief or the Assessors? He believed that this plan was to increase the efficiency of the Police Dept. Other policemen, he said, would be jealous. He thought the Assessors, themselves were to blame if there had been any laxity in previous years. To the suggestion that the Assessors would have hard work to find men willing and able to do this work under present conditions, Mr. Forknall instanced the response which had been given by the Constabulary and the State Guard.

Alderman Carier said that the plan had worked well in Waltham and suggested that as the appointments were for only a year, the plan could be tried this year and abandoned if found undesirable.

Alderman Young said it had been customary for mayors to consult the assessors when making appointments of assistant assessors and saw nothing wrong in what the assessors had done. He had found three policemen, who were strongly opposed to the plan.

Alderman Allen said that while he had approved the report of the committee, he had returned to his first impression that this was a dangerous policy for the city to open and believed it would injure the efficiency and morale of the police force.

Alderman Hollis thought that the plan gave the Chief of Police the opportunity to reward 12 men out of 80.

President Harriman believed that to pay these men $100 for work as assistant assessors would impair the efficiency of the police force. The listing by Boston police is done as a part of their regular duty. This plan, however, would create a class feeling and he believed that the police force should be kept absolutely for the protection of lives and property.

HOW TO SAVE

Distinguish between necessities and luxuries: reduce unnecessary expense: build an interest-bearing bank account with money formerly wasted on useless trifles. The happiness and content that come with a constantly growing surplus are ample reward for the small sacrifice involved.

Each passing week brings success and independence nearer for all who regularly deposit fixed amounts in a Savings Account here. Many are surprised at the sum they are able to lay aside as a result of systematically arranged expenditures.

Draw a line between necessary and unnecessary expense and open a Savings Account today.

Interest 4 1/2 per cent., subject to all Statutory conditions. Begins first day each month.

FRENCH WAR ORPHANS

A year ago, the class of '19 of the Newton High School raised money to support a French War orphan for two years. Through the Society of "Fatherless Children of France," little Roger Pomier became our protegee. He was born April 23, 1914, and lives at 83 Rue Didot, Paris. The father was killed at the front and Roger and his sister, Lucienne, are left with their mother, who is at present tired out and is resting at the hospital. The following is a letter from the mother.

My dear children join with me in sending you and your classmates all our best wishes for the New Year, and thank you for all the kindness shown us. We are glad when we receive your letters, and Lucienne is pleased to write to her American friends. Roger is very good and studies well at school, and will send a card when he learns to write.

Mademoiselle, we all three wish that the new year will be favorable and above all you will have good health.

Mme. Pomier,

Paris XIV.

It is hoped that members of the class of '19 will keep in touch with Roger and do what they can for one of so many saddened children.

CONFORMATION REFUSED

Alderman McAuslan believed that the $100 pay for this work would serve as a stimulus to the other men who might try it themselves and thereby increase the efficiency of the force.

Alderman Jewell thought that any work done by the police should be under the direction of the Chief and not of any other department.

Alderman Nichols said that the Assessing Dept. was one of the most important in the city. There is but a short time to do the street work and the board had been seriously handicapped last year and must get new men for the coming season. The police know their districts and are well acquainted with the residents and should do the work promptly and efficiently. Waltham has done well and Newton can profit by its example.

On the ballot to confirm the nominations of William J. Kiley, Edward P. O'Neill, Michael J. Keating, Michael J. Carroll, Richard L. Bannan, Nicholas Vedeucio, John J. Monaghan, William M. Riley, Patrick J. Burke, Daniel Cullen, Thomas J. Burke and Edward A. Moan as assistant assessors, there were 10 nays and 6 ayes and the nominations were not confirmed.

President Harriman presided and the only absentees were Aldermen Blake and Madden.

Hearings at which no one appeared were held on the reading of the corner of Jefferson street and the new boulevard, and for drain easement off Oak avenue.

On the hearing to locate two Edison poles on Church street, Mr. Odell for the Company said they were to furnish a Mr. Jones with service and to provide a street light at the corner of Church road. Mr. John W. Fisher strongly protested against the poles saying that Mr. Jones could get service by the extension of the present service to his own house. Written protests were filed by S. W. Tucker, Miss J. M. Fisher and others.

Mr. A. D. Locke opposed the proposed widening of Beacon street, Waban, and a building line of ten feet. He said the street needed improvement but did not believe the city would get a fair return on its investment as now proposed. The surface drainage from the street is now thru private land and the drainage conditions of the street and of Irvington street were deplorable. He was opposed to a 10 foot building line, saying that all the houses on the street were now set back at least 35 feet.

Mr. J. Earle Parker said that the city in selling the old city farm years ago had provided for a widening, which he carried out in developing his property, of 900 feet frontage. Others had followed that precedent and he thought it a grave mistake to have so small a building line.

Ex-alderman George M. Heathcote appeared for Miss McIntosh in opposition, saying that there were several trees on this property which ought not to be destroyed. If they could be located in the sidewalk line, it might be possible to effect a compromise. He said the present condition of the street was dangerous to children on account of its narrow width, but a change in the proposed line would be beneficial.

Letters in favor were read from T. W. Pelham, Jr. and C. H. Cook, and the hearing was closed.

Mayor Childs sent in the name of ex-alderman Joseph W. Bartlett of Waban as city solicitor and the nomination was unanimously confirmed.

The Mayor's request for $10,000 more for care of Snow and Ice was also granted after Alderman Forknall had again protested against the manner in which the street railway company was doing the work of opening up its lines.

The Mayor's request for $25,000 to purchase the Edge Avenue playground was also granted and the bond he submitted of $20,000 for Francis Newhall as city treasurer was approved.

Requests for $500 for clerical assistance for the City Treasurer and for $1194 for taxes on the Burr playground were also received.

J. Augustus Remington of Newtonville was drawn as a Grand Juror for the March session at Lowell.

Petition of Mrs. Mabel A. Smith for private garage on Lombard street was granted.

Other petitions were received for a sewer in Cabot street, a sewer in Cedar street, of M. S. Fraser for truck license, Mrs. L. F. McFarlane for soldiers relief, J. Hoffman to transfer junk license from Maguire street to Barreille court, Coakley Bros. for victualler license 248 Washington street, and the clerks in City Hall for a hearing on salary increases.

On recommendation of committees, leave to withdraw was granted the Texas Company to locate gas filling station at Commonwealth avenue and Lexington street, $9220 was granted for laying certain water mains, M. H. Tredden was granted $20 soldiers' relief monthly and the Edison Company was given pole locations on Beaumont avenue and Waban Hill road north.

Newton Vocational School

At the Monday Morning Assembly, Feb. 16, the Rev. M. H. Lichter, of the Central Church of Newtonville, addressed the school upon the work of the American Legion in extending the hand of friendship to those in America who were born in foreign lands.

Mr. Lichter gave many interesting facts and figures to show how large a percentage of the population of the industrial cities was composed of these foreign peoples.

He said that institutions cannot reach them in the best sense but that the Americanization of aliens was a matter of the spirit—of personal contact—and he advised each one in the audience to make a friend of a foreigner every little while. He said our attitude towards one not born in America should not be "I have much to give to you" but it should be "What have you to give to me?"

Mr. Murray spoke of the work being done for a group of Russians whom he had found trying to help themselves in the hard task of learning the English language.

57TH ANNUAL REPORT

President Roland O. Lamb in the 57th Annual report of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company states that the year 1919 was one of excellent progress in growth and general condition of finance and organization. The new business writings for the year have far exceeded any previous record; the total of new paid-for insurance for the year amounted to over 252 million dollars, and the insurance in force was increased during the year by over 171 million dollars. The total insurance in force on December 31, 1919, was $1,232,806,587. The unusual accession of new insurance is noteworthy, as is also the percentage of insurance cancellations or lapses so called, which was exceptionally low for the year.

These figures briefly summarize the results of the greatest year of business ever experienced by the Company, and are evidence not only of the effectiveness of the entire organization, but of the great and increasing demand for life insurance. The John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company transacts all modern forms of life insurance at lowest rates consistent with safety. Policies may be secured to meet practically all situations at a cost to suit all purses.

NEWTON CLUB

At the Newton Club on Monday the ladies held an afternoon bowling tournament which was continued on Wednesday afternoon and on Friday afternoon. On Wednesday the Club returned the visit of the Somerville Central Club. The weekly Neighborhood Dinner took place on Thursday followed by bowling, cards and dancing. On Saturday night following the supper the men will bowl.

Washington's Birthday will be celebrated by the Newton Club by keeping open house all day. In the afternoon there will be a members' and ladies' bowling tournament and a tea daisant at 2.30.

Messrs. McKenney & Waterbury Co., 181 Franklin street, corner Congress, Boston, Mass. have on exhibition in their showrooms the largest display of fire-place goods, andirons, screens, grates, bellows and gas logs in this country.

Carrying a Ton a Mile for less than a Cent

Freight rates have played a very small part in the rising cost of living.

Other causes—the waste of war, under-production, credit inflation—have added dollars to the cost of the necessities of life, while freight charges have added only cents.

The average charge for hauling a ton of freight a mile is less than a cent.

A suit of clothing that sold for $30 before the war was carried 2,265 miles by rail from Chicago to Los Angeles for 16 1/2 cents.

Now the freight charge is 22 cents and the suit sells for $50.

The cost of the suit has increased 20 dollars.

The freight on it has increased only 5 1/2 cents.

Other transportation charges enter into the cost of the finished article—carrying the wool to the mills and the cloth to the tailors—but these other charges amount to but a few cents more.

The $10 pair of shoes that used to sell for $5 goes from the New England factory to the Florida dealer for a freight charge of 5 1/2 cents—only one cent more than the pre-war rate.

Beef pays only two-thirds of a cent a pound freight from Chicago to New York.

American freight rates are the lowest in the world.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Board of Missions of District No. 4 was held Wednesday afternoon at the First Church, Newton Centre.

Reports were read from each of the churches in Newton in regard to the missionary work being done in that particular church, both among the women and young people. These reports showed a very real interest in the cause of missions among the churches represented. The presiding officer was Mrs. Abraham Polhemus who when she had listened to the reports telling of what the women were doing rather humorously asked what the men were doing along these lines. Among the innovations suggested was a Business Women's Study Class for Missions which is to be put into effect soon, in the Elliot Church, Newton.

The first speaker for the afternoon was Mrs. Charles Warren of Japan, who gave an account of her work in that country. She spoke of Japan as having 10,000 less square miles than Montana, and supporting a population of 50,000,000 or about one-half the population of the United States. She told of the great strength of the social evil in Japan and of its influence in the country, and said that the greatest influence for good in the country was the Christian home.

She also told of how difficult it was for the missionary to meet expenses, necessities in Japan having risen 105 per cent. in the last few years, and of the value of Christian hospitality. She added that wages were rising rapidly particularly those of women so that it was getting increasingly difficult to get Japanese domestic help. This made additional work for the missionary and limited her usefulness in other lines.

Mrs. Fitch of Framingham then spoke of the work among the young women in the churches and of its need if the board is to "carry on." She touched upon the need in the churches for greater education in regard to the objects of benevolence and dwelt upon the desirability of interesting children in mission work, and said that young people need only to know of difficulties to wish to overcome them.

Miss Adams followed. She gave a very stirring appeal for money with which to carry on the splendid work of the Woman's Board in this its critical hour of need.

A social hour with tea concluded the program.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Judson Burton Sanderson of 66 Davis avenue, West Newton, held an informal "At Home" last Sunday in recognition of their Golden Wedding. All their children were with them and many friends and neighbors.

Mr. Sanderson was born at Highgate, Vermont, Feb. 14, 1848. He was selectman of the town for several years, and was twice sent to the Legislature at Montpelier. Mrs. Sanderson who was Miss Catherine Cutler, was also born in Highgate, Vt. They were married Feb. 16, 1870.

In 1892 the family moved to West Newton where Mr. Sanderson became Superintendent at the Wauwinet Farm. Four years later he went into business here, retiring in 1910.

There are five children, Lynn J. Sanderson, who married Miss Maria McKay of Presque Isle, Me., being the only boy. His home is at Greenland, N. H., where he conducts a farm.

Adella J. Sanderson married Alfred C. Forbush in 1908. When he died she married Ira G. Studley, a manufacturer of Rochester, N. H. Gertrude E. Sanderson, the second daughter, married Fred R. Furbush, a Boston business man. Miss Eva A. Sanderson is supervisor of music in the Newton Public Schools, and Gladys A. Sanderson, the youngest of the children married Russell P. Berry in 1914. There are eight grandchildren.

Mr. Sanderson has been a member of Newton Lodge I. O. O. F. and has many friends in the Newtons. At the "At Home" some of these friends presented him with a purse of gold.

Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Sanderson were the guests of the Metropolitan Driving Club.

DEATH OF MR. ESTABROOK

Mr. Rufus Estabrook, a life long resident of Auburndale died last Saturday at his home on Central street, in that village after an illness of about two weeks with pneumonia. Mr. Estabrook was nearly 35 years of age and was born in this city. He was a member of the Centenary M. E. Church, of the Auburndale Men's Club, the Auburndale Improvement Society, the Newton Constabulary and the Boston Chamber of Commerce and took an active part in the life of the community. In business he was connected with R. Estabrook & Sons, iron founders, of South Boston.

He is survived by a widow and two children, a daughter, Dorothy, and a son, Robert.

The funeral services were held on Monday, Rev. Dr. George S. Butters, D. D., officiating, and the interment was at the Newton Cemetery.

LODGES

Newton Lodge, No. 110, Knights of Pythias will hold their regular convention in Odd Fellows' Hall, Newtonville on Tuesday evening, February 24th, at 8 o'clock.

Dalhousie Lodge, F. & A. M. entertained the officers and escort team of Gethsemane Commandery at a dinner in Temple Hall, Newtonville, Wednesday evening, February 18. The escort team gave an exhibition drill in the lodge room later in the evening.

AMERICAN LEGION NEWS

Despite the conditions in the transportation lines of the city there was a good crowd at the dance held at the Armory last Monday night, and the Post realized a little profit for the treasury. Socially, also, the dance was a success, and was one of the most enjoyable of the season. Much of the success of the affair is due to the untiring efforts of Chairman "Joe" Campbell and his energetic committee.

ATTENTION, NEWTON CENTRE!

Did you read in Monday's Boston Herald an editorial on "Smith and the Smiths"? It named many famous Americans, but neglected to mention Newton Centre's great Mr. Smith, Samuel Francis, the author of "America".

We want to put Newton Centre on the map!

We want to put Samuel F. Smith on the campus of Smith College!

Why not give his name to a room in the new music building, for which a part of our Four Millions is to go?

M. I. T. has had a "Mysterious Mr. Smith"; Newton Centre has had an actual Mr. Smith of national fame.

Come forward, friends of Smith College! Come forward, loyal residents of Newton Centre! Come forward, you have lifted your voices a thousand times to the strains of "My country 'tis of thee!"

Small gifts, large gifts, all gifts welcome, to honor the memory of Samuel Francis Smith by a gift to Smith College.

Cash contributions may be left at the Newton Trust Co., as Mr. Melcher has kindly consented to receive them.

STONE INSTITUTE AND NEWTON HOME FOR AGED PEOPLE

Notice is hereby given that the postponed Annual Meeting of the above-named Corporation will be held at the Newton Club, Newtonville, on Friday, March 5, 1920, at 4.15 P. M. for the following purposes:

1st. To fix the number of Directors and the quorum thereof, for the ensuing year.

2nd. To elect Officers and Directors for the ensuing year.

3rd. To transact such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

NORTH GATE CLUB VALENTINE PARTY

One of the prettiest events of the season was enjoyed by nearly one hundred people last Saturday evening in the North Gate Club Hall. The hall was appropriately and artistically decorated in colors significant of the day. Music, highly pleasing to all, was furnished by Knight's Orchestra. There were several feature dances which added greatly to the interest. Snappy punch and light refreshments were in evidence throughout the evening.

The committee in charge were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Somers, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Putnam. The party was voted a complete success, and was typical of the many enjoyable events the social committee has planned for the season at this homelike, thriving club.

SPOKE TO PUPILS

Schuyler F. Herron, educational director of the Savings Division of the First Federal Reserve District visited the Stearns, Wolcott and Burr schools in Newton on Wednesday, and spoke to the pupils on "Making the World Over." Mr. Herron discussed the economic conditions resulting from the waste, material and spiritual of the world war, the remedy in thrift and the definite ways in which thrift may be practised. He spoke briefly of his experiences with the American Expeditionary Force, having been on the Oronsa, which was torpedoed in the Irish Sea, with the Third Division along the Marne, and later Divisional Educational Secretary in France. Formerly he was superintendent of schools in Winchester.

NEWTON CO-OPERATIVE BANK

EDITORIAL

Theoretically, the Aldermen took the wiser course in refusing to allow our policemen to act as assistant assessors. Practically it would have worked admirably, both for the assessors and for the good of the city. The work would undoubtedly have been done promptly and efficiently and the city saved a good many dollars which under former conditions, has been practically wasted. One of the interesting features of the discussion on this matter was the fact that the party question did not enter into it. No one apparently cared whether these men were Republicans or Democrats, or if they did, this reason was well camouflaged by the various other objections advanced. Assistant assessors in the past have been supposed to represent both political parties, in order that votes might not be lost to one party or the other, by the failure to properly assess, the absence of such assessment being the cause of dropping the name of such voter from the voting list. As a matter of fact this condition has never occurred in Newton, but we will wager the party affiliation was in the minds of some of the aldermen when the vote was taken on confirmation.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

Compulsory voting is one of the matters of interest this year and Hon. Samuel L. Powers of this city was one of its advocates at the hearing last week. The commission on the matter of billboards has sent in its report but as yet it has not been printed for public distribution. The report is a rather severe arraignment of billboards and the outdoor advertising business. "These outdoor advertising structures," it says, "are dangerous to life and limb, they have a marked tendency to increase the fire risk from the nature of their structure and the places upon which they are constructed, they afford cover for immoral practices and afford concealment for the collection of rubbish, filth and garbage that results in the propagation of flies and the spread

It points out that outdoor advertising differs from that contained in newspapers and in circulars sent through the mails. So far as the latter are concerned, it is entirely optional with the individual as to whether he shall read them or not, but there is, despite the exercise of one's ordinary will, not a full opportunity to avoid giving more or less attention to outdoor advertisements, which may literally be said to be thrust upon one's attention.

These signs, the report says, always are located upon the most frequently traveled highways, upon which the Commonwealth, together with the various cities and towns, expend upward of $16,000,000 annually for maintenance, and toward the upkeep of which motorists contribute in fees more than $2,000,000 annually.

"Motorists are helping to pay for the cost of constructing and maintaining these highways," the report continues; "the cities and towns and every taxpayer are contributing toward the cost of their construction and maintenance as a part of their taxes. Might it not be fair that the advertisers, who secure such a benefit from their signs, or the persons on whose property they are erected and who secure, or should secure, an adequate yearly rental, should also pay their fair proportion of the cost of highway construction and maintenance?"

The bill to allow Newton to change its rate of sewer assessments has passed the House and should go through the Senate this week and be-

COPLEY THEATRE—"Hobson's Choice" by Harold Brighouse will be the next play to be produced by Henry Jewett's Repertory company at the Copley Theatre next Monday, and as Washington's Birthday is to be observed on that day there will be a special matinee. "Hobson's Choice" is a comedy of English provincial life and when it was produced in Boston four years ago it met with great success. Mr. Brighouse, the author has written a number of excellent plays several of which have been given by Mr. Jewett's company at the Copley. Plays of the type of "Hobson's Choice" have always been delightfully done by Mr. Jewett's company, and as this one has been carefully cast it is sure to give unstinted delight to the Copley audiences.

The bill of the Newton City Employees Union to include foremen in the laborer's pension act has been favorably reported, with a maximum pension of $400.

Representative Early was absent from the House for a few days this week due to a slight illness. Several Newton residents were remonstrants this week at the hearing on bills to allow Sunday baseball. Rev. Frederick Palladino of Newton Upper Falls and Rev. Chas. W. Bond of Newton Centre spoke.

SCHOOL NOTES

Newton Classical High School

Many of the students of the High School were very much grieved last Saturday to see coal being shovelled into the cellar of the building, because it obliterated all dreams of no school on Monday, Feb. 16. The rumor was widely published that there was not enough coal to last over the week end, but the arrival of fuel contradicted such an occurrence.

A careful lookout has been kept for all those who are absent, and the results show that since school reopened a week ago Tuesday the greatest number of absentees was under 200, and in comparison with several of the records for attendance one year ago, this last week's average is higher than a year ago. The influenza is not exceedingly widespread, in fact most sick cases are scholars with bad colds. The walking is not extra, and the street car service is so demoralized and tied up that none of the people on the south side of Newton can be accommodated by car. Thus it is a case of walk or ride around the circuit on the railroad.

Last Monday afternoon a special meeting was called in the Assembly Hall for all four classes, and the matter of transportation from the Highlands and elsewhere on the circuit, was taken up. The B. & A. have offered a good sized reduction in fares when brought in quantity, almost bringing the fare down to that of the street car. A plan has been made whereby all those pupils who used to travel exclusively by car and who now ride on the train will be refunded the difference in the prices of the two, as long as they are forced to travel by train. At this special meeting, Mr.

Adams spoke of the need of using every effort to reach school, because it meant so much more to each scholar to be present and not miss the valuable work which is being carried on, than to staying away on account of weather conditions, especially walking.

The Track Team is now fully prepared for a meet on Saturday, Feb. 21, to meet the other Greater Boston Schools at the Y. M. C. A. The practices have put much material in hand for the best kind of a struggle Saturday, and the outlook is quite promising. Among those who will be "on deck" are: Bell, Garrity, Cowing, Blodgett, Lovejoy, Clausen, Lyon, Letteney, Richards, Finch, Robinson, Woodworth and MacDavitt.

The Girls' Basketball team will stage its first contest Thursday in the Gym, when the annual class games will be held. The sophomores represented by one or two strange players, Marian Eaton and Alice Brace, will probably come through in good enough style to beat their opponents, while the seniors are very confident of their victory.

Last Saturday the Newton High Hockey Team faced Harvard 2nd team in a game at Brae-Burn. The visitors from Cambridge were lousy players, but they did not have an easy victory, for Newton flashed old-time form and let the opponents score only 3 goals to their 2. On Tuesday, Feb. 17, Newton won from the Tech Freshmen 14-0. It was a game marked by a great deal of rough playing, and as the score indicates a one-sided contest.

Wednesday, Feb. 18, the three upper classes heard a very interesting talk by Mr. Park of the West Newton Congregational Church. He spoke on the topic of Americanism and how the best method of Americanizing should be applied. He said that the one trouble about Americans is the fact that they are all too much the same, allowing no beautiful foreign custom to flourish, none of the fine financing which could be administered through the Americans, none of the true liberty experienced by the Swiss. His plan would be to have schools where art was taught by the Italians, gymnastics by the Swedes, manners by the Briton or Irish peasant, thus bringing the true meaning of Americanization to the front, by allowing foreign cus-

The above are Accident Policies, the most liberal ever written, also the endowment policy paid in installments, the safest asset which you could possibly leave your family. Experience shows that few people succeed in acquiring even a permanent principal. Presidents of the United States are, as a class, exceptionally able men, and have always enjoyed exceptionally large incomes, the total income of the President, including the various provisions besides actual salary, aggregates about $325,000, an income exceeded by few, yet President Jefferson was under constant danger of arrest for debt and six other ex-Presidents have been cared for in their advanced years by Acts of Congress or personal friends. The famous Tom Johnson, of Cleveland, at one time reputed to be worth $4,000,000 announced the loss of his own money and that of his brother.

The Endowment Policy paid in installments comes as regular as time and the Postman, they are not affected by hard times, mistakes or breaches of trust, they eliminate the possibility of mistakes, impairment of capital or income, they impose no consultation with attorneys, bankers or agents, no expense for care or collection, they accomplish the purpose of your insuring.

P. S. Women are now protected by Insurance the same as men. I call by request only, to explain policy and application, not to annoy you. I sell Insurance as the grocer sells you sugar, it is up to you, take it or not, as you like. On Dec. 22nd, 1919 a gentleman decided to take a $100,000 Life Policy. He thought that he could not find time to take examination until Jan. 1st. He died Dec. 28th. The above insurance is guaranteed by one of the strongest companies in the world.

District Superintendent, was the speaker of the evening. He gave an appropriate and excellent address and was greatly enjoyed.

Letters from Charter members and other members and friends who were unable to be present were read by Miss Edith McCann, secretary of the official board. Those who took part in the mortgage burning were Mrs. Anna A. Cline, Miss Alma Ross, Miss Edith McCann, secretary of the Mr. G. S. German and the pastor, Mrs. Cline, widow of Mr. N. O. Cline, for whom the church was named, and present treasurer of the church Miss Ross and Miss McCann representing those who had been members the longest. Mr. Wright representing the Trustees, Mr. G. S. German, treasurer of the "Fund," and G. W. Jones, Ph.D., pastor. While the mortgage was burning the audience stood and sang "Praise God from whom all blessing flow" and "Blest be the tie that binds."

After this all adjourned to the vestry where refreshments were served and a delightful social time enjoyed. The Fourth Quarterly Conference of the Church was held Sunday evening, Feb. 15th. It was conducted by Dr. Willis P. Odell, District Supt. after he had preached a forceful and impressive sermon on Evangelism. The reports given by different officials showed the society to be in a prosperous condition. The pastor, Rev. G. W. Jones, Ph.D., was given a unanimous rising vote to return for the fifth year with increased salary.

—The Second Church School will celebrate the birthdays of The Father and Preserver of Our Country on Washington's Birthday with special patriotic speaking, songs, and music. Dr. N. E. Paine, an authority on the subject of patriotism and loyalty of our countrymen during Civil War times will address the school on "The Patriotism of Lincoln." Mr. William B. Phelps, a man keen in his ability to analyze the trend of the times, will speak on "Today's America." Mr. Robert E. Perry, Assistant-Scoutmaster of Troop 7 of the Boy Scouts, a typical picture of virile young America, has the message of youth, "Don't Worry about the Future." Mr. M. Frank Lucas, director of the school orchestra, has arranged an especially attractive program with an augmented orchestra of twelve pieces. Harlan I. Crowell, Superintendent of the Church School will lead the meeting, which begins at 9.30 A. M. and is open to all who love to hear the names of Washington and Lincoln and the Heroes of The Great War extolled.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Troop 7 has developed a fighting spirit to be the first troop in the Newtons in number of scouts, in having the highest percentage of Merit Badge and First Class scouts, in the quality of drill and in the personality of a character of scouts. Assistant Scoutmaster C. C. Smith has been assigned the sole duty of making first class scouts of all the second class scouts in the troop. Assistant Scoutmaster Robert Perry has been assigned a similar duty with the tenderfoot, while Assistant Scoutmaster Quincy W. Wales has the responsibility of training all applicants to the troop. The Scoutmaster, Harlan I. Crowell, has charge of all first class and merit badge scouts.

Five applicants were examined at this week's meeting and the troop has asked for a Court of Honor for this Friday night, to pass upon their training, ability and character.

A human pyramid building team has been picked from the officers and scouts. Practice in all forms of pyramid building is going on with the hope of capturing a prize in the spring rally.

Troop 13 held a very successful musical and moving picture show at the Upper Falls recently. As no data or news has been received from the troop about it, particulars are missing.

There is a delay in the Wireless Club, owing to sickness in the family of the Scout Executive, but things will soon be started. Two shows are planned as soon as the weather improves so that people are able to get out.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

Mrs. George T. Rice, a member of the Industrial and Social Conditions department of the State Federation, who is known to many of the Newton women through her interest in women in industry and in prison reform has been working with Mr. O. F. Lewis, secretary of the Prison Association of New York, on a piece of social service work whereby a systematic line of constructive work to reduce juvenile delinquency by community effort may be done by the club women of the state. Mrs. Rice is thoroughly convinced that only by such means can results be obtained and is bending every effort to awaken women to their responsibility in the matter. The questionnaire which has been prepared will be sent to every federated club with the hope that a simple survey of local communities will result.

It will establish these main facts: what are the principal factors causing crime and delinquency in each community; what are the principal factors now combating delinquency in the community, and what can be done in each district, to stimulate, augment, and supplement the present beneficial activities—or in short, how can every community be made one of the best places in the country for children to grow up to be the best kind of men and women.

Then follow many brief questions relating to every form of community life and conditions, and answers to these can readily be secured with little effort, but the value of which will be of great importance to the success of the work. The women's division of the National Civic Federation is co-operating with the State Federation in conducting this investigation.

Consumers' League

The Newton members of the Massachusetts Consumers' League will find much of interest in the vital topics to be presented at the annual meeting on Thursday, February 26, at three o'clock, at the Twentieth Century Club, 3 Joy street. Mrs. G. Rotch, acting president, will speak on the "Present Machinery for the Enforcement of Labor Laws in Massachusetts." Mrs. Lois B. Rantoul will present "Some Needed Legislation for the Protection of Women Workers." Dr. H. Linenthal, Director of the Industrial Clinic of the Massachusetts General Hospital and a member of the Federal committee to establish minimum standards of health for children entering industry, will discuss "The Health of the Child from an Industrial Standpoint." Miss Mary C. Wiggins, Executive Secretary of the League, gives "A Forward Look on Industrial Problems" and Mrs. M. A. Crockett, chairman of the Food committee will speak on "Pending Legislation for more Sanitary Handling of Food." There will be singing by a club of girls from the Frances E. Willard Settlement.

Newton Federation of Women's Clubs

The midwinter meeting of the Newton City Federation, which will be held at 2.30 on February 25, in the Technical High School hall, Newtonville, promises to be an occasion of great interest. Mrs. Abbott B. Rice, chairman of the Legislative committee, will present the three bills which have been endorsed by the State Federation. There will also be a brief consideration of the proposed legislation regarding Sunday sports, both affirmative and negative sides being presented by able speakers.

The afternoon's entertainment, in charge of Miss Mary Lawrence, consists of striking and beautiful tableaux representing scenes in the life of the Prophet Elijah. The artistic and educational appeal of this program will be further carried out by the music, which is in charge of Mr. MacLane, organist of the First Congregational Church, Newton Centre. Selections from the Oratorio of "Elijah" will be rendered by a quartette of well known singers, assisted by a string quartette.

It is hoped that no one will be kept away from this meeting by the inadequacy of the present trolley service. The 2.05 train from Boston leaves Newton at 2.19, and arrives at Newtonville at 2.23. The train leaving Newton Centre at 2.14 connects at Riverdale with the 2.14 for Newtonville. After the meeting several trains on the main line reach Riverdale in time to connect with the 5.09 for Newton Centre. It is requested that Club membership tickets be shown at the door.

Local Announcements

Owing to the holiday on Monday there will be no meeting of the Waban Woman's Club next week.

The Newton Parliamentary Law Club will meet as usual on Tuesday morning, February 24, at 10.30, at 45 Boyd street.

The Newtonville Woman's Club has its monthly lecture on current events by Mrs. Grace H. Poole next Tuesday afternoon. For the open day on March 2nd Miss Amy Sacker of California, will tell of her work as art director of the production of motion pictures.

The Community Club is most fortunate in securing Prof. Dallas Lore Sharp of Boston University to speak before the club at its meeting on Thursday, February 26, in place of Mr. Orrin Lester, who is unable to keep his engagement. Prof. Sharp's subject is "Education for Democracy." He has a definite message, one that will arouse thought and discussion. Owing to the speaker's having to return to Boston for a late afternoon engagement the business meeting will follow the lecture.

On Thursday afternoon, at 2.30, the Newton Centre Woman's Club holds its regular monthly meeting with business. Mr. Alfred W. Martin will lecture under the auspices of the literature department on "Art as an Interpretation of Human Life." It will be illustrated by lantern slides.

Hen. Thomas Weston, Jr., will speak before the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands in the Congregational church on Tuesday, Feb. 24, at 2.30 P. M. His subject will be "The Massachusetts Legislature." Tea will be served.

At the meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club next Tuesday afternoon in the Congregational church, Beatrice Forbes-Robertson Hale, who has recently returned from England, will lecture on "Reconstruction in England and America." Vocal solos will be rendered by a trio composed of Mrs. Lyman Gore, Mrs. W. J. Spaulding and Mrs. Edward Legge.

Mrs. Wolcott Calkins will give the paper at the meeting of the Social Science Club next Wednesday morning, her subject being, "Some Present Day Solutions of Labor Problems."

Mrs. Clara Bancroft Beatley will speak before the West Newton Women's Educational Club on Friday, February 27, on "Julia Ward Howe."

The Home Economics Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will hold a luncheon next Thursday, February 26, at 1 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Henry K. Burrison, Lincoln Park. Any member of the class who cannot attend will kindly notify the hostess.

Local Happenings

On Monday of this week the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. met with Miss Mary E. Hyde. Mrs. W. T. Logan was the leader for the afternoon, presenting an account of the life of Vincente Blasco Ibanez, the Spanish writer, and reading selections from his writings. Miss Hyde also read selections. Mrs. Goddard presented several social and industrial questions.

At Upper Falls on Monday evening at the meeting of the Woman's Club Mrs. Leighton sang two songs which were much enjoyed. Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, president of the Newton Federation and special guest that evening, brought greetings from the Federation. Mrs. Ralph C. Kirtland of Malden spoke on State Censorship of moving pictures. The speaker, who had been announced was ill and his place was filled by Mr. Bagley, deputy commissioner of correction, who gave a very interesting account of the work of his department.

The Auburndale Review Club had one of its treats on Tuesday in the shape of a morning of Polish music at the home of Mrs. Nelson Freeman. Mrs. Henry R. Turner gave a piano on Polish musicians. Miss Fay Allen sang some of the folk songs, while Mrs. Valentine and Mrs. Freeman rendered selections for four hands on the piano. Mrs. Valentine interpreting them as they were given. Mrs. Freeman also contributed piano solos. These who are familiar with the work of these artists understand the pleasure the audience received.

Tuesday afternoon the children and members of the Newton Highlands Monday Club had a delightful time together at Odd Fellows Hall. The program opened with a piano solo by Charles Parker, then followed fancy dancing by Mary and Margaret Shannon, accompanied by Francis Shannon. Mrs. John Cronan then entertained the audience with stories after which Miss Mary Adams gave a piano solo. Ice cream and waters completed a very enjoyable valentine party.

Lieut. Harold Willis gave an extremely interesting account of his unusual experiences overseas before the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon, one of which was escaping from Germany by swimming across the Rhine. His pictures were also interesting, a number of them being taken from airplanes. Miss Edith Soden rendered artistically two "cello" solos. There was the usual quarter-hour of club singing and the first appearance of the chorus. Tea was served at the close under the direction of Mrs. L. J. Baringer. Mrs. Blair, Mrs. Whitney, Mrs. Wilkins and Mrs. J. W. Allen poured.

At the meeting of the Social Science Club on Wednesday morning Mrs. George W. Merrill, chairman of the Legislative committee, presented two of the bills endorsed by the State Federation, that for Maternity Care and for Health Education, both of which were endorsed by the club, as was the Federal bill known as the Smith-Townier bill.

Mrs. William C. Crawford in her monthly current events talk began with the recent cabinet incidents, referred the prospects of the passage of the Susan B. Anthony suffrage amendment and closed with a full explanation of the Flume question, giving both pros and cons.

NEWTON SPECIAL AID

A letter from Mrs. James C. Mumford, chairman of the American Committee for Devastated France, thanks the Special Aid for contributions which are so sadly needed and which have been forwarded to France, and hopes for its continued interest. Over 500 garments were sent to France, Italy and Serbia, during December and January and 319 knitted garments. 282 knitted articles were given to our men in service. The Special Aid Committee trusts that the women interested will not cease their work that much may be accomplished before summer.

Rooms at Y. M. C. A. open Thursdays, 9 A. M. to 5 P. M.

DO YOU LIKE TO SING?

A large and unlimited chorus, old and young, of Newton citizens is being organized. No qualifications necessary, excepting enthusiasm for song and a firm intention to be present at the fortnightly rehearsals. A fine conductor has been secured. The first rehearsal will be held at Central Church, Newtonville, Monday evening, February 23 at 8 o'clock. Details relative to organization and object will be announced.

MEETING OF THE SARAH HULL CHAPTER OF THE D. R.

The February meeting of the Sarah Hull Chapter of the D. R. was held at the Newton Club, Feb. 9th. At the business meeting, the following were chosen on the nominating committee for the ensuing year: Mrs. George A. Snyder, Mrs. William D. Tripp, Mrs. Sidney R. Porter, Mrs. George A. Salmon and Mrs. Ratcliffe. The date of the annual meeting was decided upon. It is to be held on Friday, March 5th, at ten o'clock. It was also decided that a luncheon be served at noon.

The hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Arthur Hill, Mrs. George B. King, Mrs. John Leavitt, Mrs. William L. Logan, Mrs. Clarence Laitwiler, and Mrs. Howard R. Mason. After several selections on the piano by Mrs. J. M. Oliver Hewitt, Rev. M. H. Lichter of the Central Congregational Church spoke on Lincoln.

He likened Lincoln to a vision seen by the prophet of Israel who described a figure with four faces, one a lion, the second, an ox, the third a man, and the last an eagle. Mr. Lichter showed how Lincoln possessed characteristics of each of these, and how his death was a tragedy for the nation.

The table decorations were red, white, and blue instead of the usual buff and blue. Mrs. George P. King, and Mrs. William H. Bliss poured.

WOMAN'S GUILD ENTERTAINMENT

The Woman's Guild, church of the Messiah, Auburndale, held a pro-Lenten supper and entertainment Saturday evening. The supper tables were artistically decorated for Lincoln. Valentine and Washington Birthday. The entertainment consisted of violin solos.

The play was followed by dancing enjoyed by all those present. The girls hope to clear enough for a generous donation to the Armenian relief and also to the prospective

WEST NEWTON MUSIC SCHOOL

The West Newton Music School announces a concert at Players' Hall, West Newton, on February 27th, at 8 o'clock. The proceeds of this concert are for the benefit of Dorothy Greeley, the talented young girl with a beautiful contralto voice whom the Music School hopes to enable to get the professional training she requires. Miss Greeley will be assisted by Miss Irene Forte, violinist, who was trained in the Music School and is now, through a Scholarship, a pupil of Mr. C. M. Loeffler, and is also a teacher in the School; and by Miss Edith Spinazzola, also trained in the School, and now a Scholarship pupil in the New England Conservatory. The string ensembles and the School's Senior Orchestra will also give numbers and will accompany community singing of popular and patriotic songs which will precede and follow the program. The Community singing will be led by Miss M. E. Blake, head of the Vocal Department, and the solos will be sung by pupils of the department. There will be dancing in the small hall after the program.

The Music School is very grateful for the support the public is increasingly giving it, and it takes this way to enable the many contributors and others interested in its work to see something of what that work is, both in giving talented pupils their fundamental training and later securing larger opportunities for their study, and in the simpler work which it believes fully as valuable. All these pupils are, in their turn, deeply interested in working in an effective and loyal way for the advancement of the School in the regard of the public which stands behind it with its financial help and its interest.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by DOROTHY DRAKE

Stearns School

A very interesting program is being prepared for Friday afternoon including suitable patriotic songs and poems. Because of the storm the trip of last Friday afternoon by the eighth grade, to Hoods' plant at Watertown was postponed. It is planned now to visit the plant on the afternoon of Friday, February 27.

The Allstearns Club has voted to put on a play immediately after Lent. A delightful entertainment was presented by the Newton Girls' Club last Wednesday under the personal direction of Miss Myrtle Weldon. The first part of the program consisted of an allegorical play entitled "The Follies of Youth and Love," taken from the well known drama "Experience." The play was expressed mainly by music and dancing. Youth, depicted by Mary Dath leaves Love (Kathleen Doherty) and goes forth into the world encountering Pleasure (Gertrude Perry), Forgetfulness (Mae Fisher), Intoxication (Lillian Swartz) and Passion (Myrtle Weldon). Memory represented by Zita Crandell finally brings Youth back to Love. Faith and Hope (Jeanne Dath and Margaret Morrison) bring the play to a happy conclusion. Eight wood nymphs and six imps by their charming costumes and graceful dancing added greatly to the pleasure of the entertainment. The costumes were designed and made by the girls themselves.

The second part of the entertainment was a minstrel show. The six endmen Anna Morrison, Mary Burgome, Mary Delaney, Irene Cyr, Donald Masse and Lillian Swartz, assisted by a chorus of fifty voices sang popular songs with remarkable talent. Attractive novelty dances were given by several of Miss Weldon's pupils. The entertainment was followed by dancing. About 100 enjoyed a program of stories and music on Tuesday evening when the Mothers' Club entertained the Girls' Club. Mrs. George Auryansen of Newtonville told a number of delightful stories and Miss Edith Rae of Newton rendered two very pleasing piano solos. Both piano and violin selections were given also by pupils of the West Newton Music School, as follows: Piano solos by Juliet Roy, Fannie Kilgman and Katharine McNeil; violin solos by Estelle Le Gros, Paul Lerkin and John McCarthy. The evening closed with refreshments and a little informal dancing.

Hyde School

Miss Kuntz's third grade is again the leader in thrift stamp purchases, having bought stamps to the amount of $17 last week. Miss Cowen's seventh grade came next with $13.50. Sales for the week amounted to $93.89. Appropriate Lincoln Day exercises were held in all the school rooms last week Thursday morning.

Miss Green's division of the fifth grade holds the record of attendance for Tuesday morning, February 10, following the big snow storm, 90 per cent. of her class being present. At a special Current Events meeting last Thursday, Elizabeth Savage, of Mrs. Blackmore's class gave an interesting talk on Japan. Many interesting curios were loaned for the occasion by Helen Bicknell. The pupils of Miss Cowen's class were guests.

A combination program of Washington's Birthday and Americanization day was given this afternoon. Among the numbers on the program were short plays entitled, "Washington's Birthday," "A True Patriot," "Our Washington," "For Love of Country," and a "Patriotic Song and Dance Festival," by children from the lower grades.

Americanization numbers consisted of talks on the subject by teachers and principal, a dramatization entitled, "Children of America," recitations and readings and the singing of patriotic songs.

Horace Mann School

A reflectoscope lesson was given by two eighth grade girls Tuesday and Wednesday. It was a very interesting lesson on "France." The Birthdays of Washington and Lincoln were appropriately observed this morning.

Philip Bruce, a youth who lives on Crafts street, Newtonville, started Thursday morning on a world round trip. The boy is ten years old and will be accompanied by his parents.

The Better Writing Campaign ends this week. Friday, February 13th, there was no session in the afternoon at the Horace Mann School on account of the snow storm.

Cliffin School

The seventh grade gave a colonial play today entitled "The Making of Our Flag." Those taking part were: Ralph Richardson, Gilman Lowery, Ernest Adams, Martha Wilson, Harriet Higgins, Dorothy Moran, Marian Young.

Roger Wolcott School

This week and the week of Washington's Birthday are being observed with special patriotic and thrift exercises. Our great national heroes are being reviewed, their life and work studied and emulated; the patriotic songs are being sung; and the problems of present day patriotism are being discussed.

Mr. Herron, who is at the head of the educational work of the War Savings Department of the First Federal Reserve District, gave a most interesting talk to the upper grades on "Thrift, a Patriotic Duty." A school blank honor list of our thirty pupils has been started and the names of all who buy thrift stamps, war savings stamps, or deposit money in any bank will be recorded. The first name entered is that of Katharine Tilton who deposited twenty-five dollars of her own money in the savings bank. The school attendance has increased greatly during the past week, which means that sickness is rapidly decreasing.

The Waban Women's Club has offered book prizes to all classes from the fourth thru the eighth for the best essays entitled "The Puritans." This is a splendid incentive to fine work and has created an excellent spirit among the pupils.

Bigelow School

In the Thrift stamp contest, for the last three weeks, Miss Searle's room has led, not only in value of stamps bought, but in the number of buyers. The orchestra continues to grow. Another new violinist this week.

Miss Lowe has returned from her home in New Ipswich, N. H.

Miss Coolidge has been out several days because of illness.

A snow fight which was planned for Thursday was effectually stopped by the "No Session Bells." Although ammunition continued to fall all day there was no one to use it.

Fessenden School

Last Thursday a hot battle was waged in the school gym when the school basketball team ran up against a team composed entirely of the faculty. Although the game was rather one-sided, it proved interesting at times, when one side or the other showed a streak of good playing.

Because of the icy, snow-packed streets automobiles have had to be confined to their garages, with the result that the usual Saturday evening dance had to be postponed as the female side of the party could not plow their way thru the snow.

Right at the most exciting point in a "Western Thriller," the moving picture machine, deciding that it needed a vacation, sprang a mainspring or something and left the villain hanging by his heels over the edge of the cliff. The machine will be in working order by next Saturday, however, and some good films are expected for that occasion.

After a two years' absence from the Fessenden faculty, Mr. J. T. Gilmour was welcomed back to the school. He left the school in the Spring of 1917 to join the American Expeditionary Forces, in which he attained the rank of captain, and has now returned to teach mathematics, filling temporarily the place of Mr. Giles, who is ill.

Following a short spell of warm weather came the coldest days of the year, freezing everything into one continuous glazing sheet of ice. The school driveway immediately became the center of attraction as nowhere could be found a better place for speedy, daring coasting. Such wild places as "Dead Man's Curve" and "The Devil's Jump" were soon established, around and over which great numbers boys and sleds were continually sliding, jumping, skidding, bumping, falling, slipping, tearing, ripping.

Burr School

The seventh and eighth grades of the Burr School have been writing letters to Miss Aiken, the teacher of the Kindergarten who has been ill. There were about forty in all. They all wish her a speedy return.

Colonel French gave a very interesting lecture before the Burr School Thursday evening. His talk was illustrated by very beautiful lantern slides taken while he was in the Yellowstone National Park.

This week is Americanization week in the schools. Four children of the eighth grade attended the Americanization meeting at the Technical High School Tuesday evening, and reported the meeting to the members of the school.

Renee Memiere, the French child in whom the children of the Burr School are interested sent her picture to them recently. Many of the pupils of the school are writing to her of the school, and are helping to support her.

A Lodge and Wilson debate took place Tuesday in Miss Kelley's room. Those who took part were Edward Denty and Wendell Reed on one side, and Winslow Howard and Nelson Goodman on the other. The debate was very interesting.

The children of the Burr School are already practicing the patriotic songs which they are to sing next week. Next week is known as "National Song Week" and will be observed all over the country by the school children.

Lasell

Lasell is making unusual preparations for the Washington Birthday celebration on Saturday evening. The dinners will be served in the two large dormitories, Bragdon Hall and Woodland Park, but later in the evening the entire school will unite in a Washington dance at the Woodland Park Dormitory arranged by a committee representing the various classes, the chairman of which is Miss Nellie Woodward, the head of the Physical Training Department.

The school has been favored in securing Rev. M. H. Lichter of Newtonville as the speaker for the Vesper Service on Sunday afternoon.

Plans are already forming for a school party to visit Washington, D. C., during the Easter Vacation.

At the usual Thursday afternoon lecture hour Miss Packard, the Registrar, spoke on the subject Methods of Study.

Friday the thirteenth from Track thirteen was the interesting beginning for the party of eighty-one for their annual outing at the White Mountains. From the departure of the two special cars under the care of Mr. Seth Bassett, conductor of the party, until the return to the Seminary on Monday evening, fun and merriment reigned supreme, while illness and accidents were conspicuous because of their absence. Toboggans, skis, snowshoes, double-runners, sleds and sliding devices of every description were in constant use from early morning till the last call at night. Betwixt these sports, snow-ball fights, rolling and hiking over the hills, the time passed all too quickly.

Probably the most interesting feature of the whole trip was the day at Crawford Notch. From Intervale the entire party took the train to Crawford where a lunch was provided, then divided into separate groups, some going over the road on snowshoes and others taking the five-mile trip on foot on the track to Willey Station where the journey was continued by train and the party arrived at the hotel just in time for the welcome sound of the dinner bell. "A wonderful trip" and "I never would have missed it" are but feeble efforts on the part of the girls to describe a most successful White Mountain trip.

DEATH OF MR. ENGLISH

Mr. Arthur I. English who died Sunday at his home, 1359 Centre street, Newton Centre, was a well-known resident of that village, having lived in Newton Centre 50 years. He was a carpenter, in business for himself. He leaves a widow, Julia English, and three children, Mrs. W. H. Waters, and Mrs. R. A. Vachon of Newton Centre, and a daughter in California. Services were held at the Church of the Sacred Heart, Wednesday morning, at 10 o'clock and the burial was in St. Joseph's Cemetery, Roxbury.

Games were played, and refreshments served and a very pleasant evening spent.

—The annual meeting of District No. 4 of the Suffolk Branch was held at the First Church, Newton Center, Wednesday at 2.30 P. M. Reports were read from nine churches. The speakers were Mrs. Charles Warren, Japan; Mrs. Blake of the New Goal Committee; Mrs. Fitch, chairman of the Young People's Work. A social hour followed the program.
—The fourth in the series of lectures by Dr. H. H. Powers was given at Channing Church Thursday evening on "The Shuffle in the Balkans."
Dr. Powers showed two maps, one of the Balkans previous to the present war, and one which indicated the present status of the Balkan States. He spoke first of Roumania, characterizing her as a descendant of the Roman Empire especially in language, though many of her people doubtless came from Russia. He indicated on the map the natural boundaries of Roumania, and showed what she was likely to obtain as a result of the allied agreement.
He then discussed the Jugo-Slavs, their situation, and their problems, speaking of them as the second great race in the Balkans. After touching upon Albania and her isolation, he took up the problem of Greece.
Greece, he said, has gained the most of all from this war. The Greeks have always been a commercial people occupying the sea coast, but this makes them a somewhat difficult problem, since to grant them all the sea coast where there are Greeks would be to deprive other inland nations of a sea coast essential to them. Greece is to be given the greater part of Thrace, the Islands of the Aegean and Crete. She has already taken possession of Smyrna on the Asiatic coast.
The really important change in the Balkans is that the two great nations, Austria and Russia, which have, hitherto, used the Balkans as a cat's paw, are out of it and these nations will be given a chance to develop from within without outside interference.
One of the great difficulties in the Balkans is the difference in religious belief, the conflict between Catholics and The Orthodox Church.
Another difficulty which has not yet been settled is what shall be done with the country lying immediately back of Constantinople.
At his next lecture on February 26, Dr. Powers will speak of the very complicated Italian question including what shall be done with Fiume.

CONCERT AT HUNNEWELL CLUB

A large and appreciative audience gathered last Sunday afternoon to listen to the first of the two concerts to be given for the benefit of the Smith College Fund.
Mr. Gebhard whose fine technique and wonderful tone are familiar to music lovers in and around Boston was most cordially welcomed and eagerly listened to from the stately gavotte of Bach-Saint Saens to his own Walse Caprice with which he closed the concert. Two of his most appreciated numbers were the Reflets dans l'eau of Debussy and Granger's Irish Tune.
The wonderful range and color of Mme. Hudson-Alexander's voice won instant recognition and appreciation. Hers was a varied program from the interesting Russian group to the second opening with Henschel's beautiful Spring Song and comprising one or two songs which delighted the many children present especially the Big Brown Bear which she sang to great applause. Her final number, Kom Kyra which showed to great advantage her absolute control of her beautiful voice was one of the famous and favorite songs of Jenny Lind. The Rev. Alden Clark, whose wife is one of the Newton Smith alumnae and who is a son of a former trustee of Smith College, and therefore intimately acquainted with its history, gave a "four minute talk" on the College its aims, its needs, and the reasons why the public should gladly come to its support.

We hope that Mr. Clark's earnest plea and the excellence of the concert such as Newton seldom has the opportunity of enjoying will enlist many friends in Smith's behalf.
The second concert of the pair will be given on Sunday, March 7, by Mrs. Laura Littlefield, soprano, and Mr. Harrison Fisher, violinist. It is hoped that many who were kept away from the first concert by the inclement weather will be able to enjoy the second.

HOTEL WESTMINSTER

E. F. Coulton, proprietor of Hotel Westminster, said in his speech to the Luncheon Club:

"I believe the sure road to success is to love your work and work hard. A man who does not love his work is easily discouraged. I started to learn the hotel business when 12 years of age on a salary of what would amount to $3 a year and did so well that the second year I was raised to $9; but I loved my work and stuck to it. What success I have achieved in America, if success it is, may be attributed to the hearty and sympathetic co-operation of my wife. She never bothered me in the cares of her household, but always had a bright smile, warm slippers and comfortable housecoat to greet me when I would go home, weary in mind and body, from the hard day's work in the hotel. The next morning I would start out again refreshed and with courage to tackle the day's problems."

Seventeen residents of Newton Highlands who, it was claimed, violated a city ordinance by not removing snow from their sidewalks, were arraigned in the Newton Court Wednesday. Three proved that they had shovelled narrow footpaths in the middle of the walks and were discharged. Mrs. Grace M. Atterbury pleaded guilty and her case was placed on file. Arthur P. Young, William J. Dewitt and Stephen A. Smith appealed from a fine of $10, the remaining cases were fined.

NAVY NEWS

Anton Johnson, C. Q. M., U. S. Navy of 51 Cornhill, Boston, was in town Tuesday boosting the naval service. Having served 18 years and being well satisfied he is only too glad to give information as to what the Navy offers.

A post card sent to the Boston Recruiting Station will call a Navy man to your club, lodge or home to give information in detail on any phase of Navy life.

Mr. Palmer and Mr. Adams of the High Schools were interviewed on the Navy Tuesday and were favorably impressed and imparted valuable information to help recruiting.

SOMERSET FARMS CREAM

It is worthy of note that many Newton users of cream give preference to the product distributed in Greater Boston by the Somerset Farms Creamery, F. H. Turgen, manager, of Boston. This company is the distributing agency for the entire output of the Solon Creamery Co., which has so many times in the past few years, won the First Prize at the dairy exhibits. At the recent Dairy exhibit, held in Bangor, Nov. 21, 1919, the Solon company easily carried off first prize notwithstanding competition from all over New England. The Boston department is conveniently located at the South End. If any of our readers wish further information a telephone query through Back Bay 3777 will bring satisfactory results.

BOY SCOUTS

Bits of Interesting News from Several Newton Troops

The Boy Scouts of Newton attended the meeting held by the Newton Post of the American Legion last week Tuesday 150 to 200 strong. This was the meeting at which the memorial certificates from the French Government were awarded to the families of the boys who died in service. Two members of the scout organization lost their lives in the service of their country, both of Troop 1 Newtonville, Assistant Scoutmaster Howard Mitchell and Scout Clifford Meekins.

The Radio Club of the North Side of Newton held an election of officers and formulated plans for the conduct of the club, at a meeting held Thursday night at the Second Church in West Newton. Speakers will talk to the scouts about once a month, and a complete receiving and sending set will shortly be installed. The meeting was well attended, and the scouts plan to put across a show full of "pep" and "sparks" about the last of March. It was planned to have this earlier, but the traveling being so bad it was thought best to wait a while. The Radio Club in the South side has arranged for a lecture at about the same time, the Rev. Oscar W. Hawes having kindly consented to give his well known talk on his experiences while with the French Army. It is interesting to note the Scout Executive, G. W. Talbot, also was with the French, and says that Mr. Hawes has the best talk and lecture he ever heard on the French.

The Executive Committee of the Local Council held a most interesting meeting last Tuesday at the Newton Club. Besides the regular business, the President, Mr. James A. Stafford gave an informal talk on ways of getting enthusiasm into the work.

The date for the spring rally of the Council has been set for May 22, and it is up to all the troops to get busy and prepare for the various contests. Troop 1 says they are going to have another walkaway, but the other troops are not so sure.

The certificates for the Patrol leaders school course have just arrived, and are being filled out and signed.

SERBIAN EXPERIENCES

Sergt. Ruth Farnum to Speak for Childs Welfare

Under the auspices of the Fabian Child Welfare Association of America, Sergt. Ruth Farnum will speak three times in Newton, telling of her experiences in the Serbian army.

The first lecture will be given at Player's Hall, West Newton on Monday evening, March 1st, at 8 o'clock and will be illustrated by lantern slides. The second lecture will be given Tuesday, March 2d at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Henry I. Harri-man, Newton. The third lecture will be given at Bray Hall, Newton Centre, March 3d at 8 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to these lectures.

Miss Helen Losanitch, daughter of a former Serbian minister of Agriculture, will also speak at Player's Hall.

The association has organized a cycle of godmothers in America, trying to raise $5,000,000 for the relief of Serbia. Mrs. Oliver Harman of New York, and Mr. Stanley H. Howe are the National chairmen. The Boston committee is headed by Mrs. James Lovell Little.

It is hoped that the people of Newton will be responsible for 85 Serbian children. The details of the plan will be announced later.

CELEBRATES 93RD BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Caroline J. Barker, who resides at "The Caroline," West Newton, celebrated her ninety-third birthday yesterday at the home of her son, George J. Barker in Waltham.

Mrs. Barker was born in West Newton, February 26th, 1827 and has always lived there. Her father and mother, Elias and Elizabeth Jennison, were also born in West Newton, in 1797 and 1798. Mrs. Barker who retains all her faculties, remembers distinctly the arrival of the first train that came to West Newton on the Boston & Albany. The railroad crossed what was their farm at the time. Her grandfather, who was in front of the house and saw the train coming, rushed to the door and called to them out saying, "The devil's coming."

Mrs. Barker has eight great grandchildren and one great great grandson. She recently entertained five generations at her home in West Newton.

GOLDEN JUBILEE

Boys' Work In Y. M. C. A. to Observe 50th Anniversary

In 1869 William H. Whipple of Salem, Mass., developed from the members of two Sunday School classes, one of which he was a teacher, the organization of the first boys' branch of the Young Men's Christian Association.

From this beginning, work among boys by the Young Men's Christian Association has spread throughout the world. One hundred eighty-six thousand six hundred and fifty-six boys now make up the membership of the Boys' Division of North America, of which 12,346 are in the membership of Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

The celebration of this Jubilee will be held at the Older Boys' Conference at Somerville, February 27th to 29th. One of the most important features of the program is the big banquet to be held in the High School Auditorium on Friday evening. The delegates representing Newton are: Edmund Woodward, J. Raymond Church, Chester Adams, Joseph Church, Arthur Carlson, Carleton Church, Thomas Gotshall, Jr., Dana Barber, Carleton Person, Emerson Murphy, Albert Richards, Frederick Potter, Robert Hayes, Hayden Chase, Harvey Macuen, Edward Harvey, Alfred Stafford, Robert Savory, Alfred Jalilian, Leslie Newcomb, Alfred O'Brien, A. T. Leary.

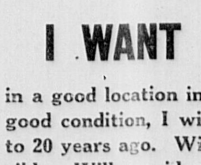

It is very interesting to note that nearly 30 years ago in October, 1891, twenty-nine boys of Newton asked the Directors of the Newton Y. M. C. A. for the privilege of organizing a boys' department. Many of these boys are still living in the city, where they hold responsible positions. Following is the petition and the names of the boys who signed:

October, 1891.
To the Directors of the Newton Y. M. C. A.
We, the undersigned, are Christian boys and would like to form an organization and be the Boys' Branch of the Newton Y. M. C. A. for social companionship of Christian boys. With God's help we wish to help each other and those boys who are not Christians. We want advice from the older members of the Association and help on Bible study. We would like a place to hold our meeting in and also one in which we can play games, read papers, and books, such as will be attractive and helpful.

CHANNING CHURCH

Church and Parish United at Recent Annual Meeting

The system of a separate organization for church and parish which has long existed in Channing Church of Newton, in common with many of the older Unitarian churches, was abolished by action of the Channing Religious Society at its annual meeting on Tuesday, February 17, when in concurrence with a vote passed by the church members on the previous Sunday it was voted that the church be united with the society. The corporation, Channing Religious Society, which holds the real estate and handles the business affairs of the parish, assumes the religious functions of the church and takes over its trust funds, in amendment to the by-laws was adopted providing for a meeting of the society every fall to consider the work and development of the church, the minister to preside. The qualification for membership was abandoned so as to enable any person of full age who has customarily attended the church for three months to be elected a member. The deacons are to be elected for three-year terms and to have supervision of the charitable work of the church.

An address was made at the meeting by the minister, Rev. Harry Lutz, who is in his tenth year in Channing Church, and his twentieth year in the ministry. Reports were made by Mrs. J. Porter Russell for the Women's Alliance, Mr. Oliver M. Fisher for the Laymen's League and Miss Frances M. Damm for the Sunday school. The following officers were elected: Moderator, J. Porter Russell; clerk, Herbert Stebbins; treasurer, Robert D. Holt; standing committee, J. Porter Russell, Philip Nichols, Dr. Edward Mellus, Frank H. Burt and Ralph W. Angier; deacons, Bruce R. Ware, Frank H. Burt, Alvin R. Bailey and Miss Nellie N. Cole; delegates to the American Unitarian Association, Abraham Byfield and Miss Helen L. Wells; alternates, Sidney Peterson and Mrs. George Deffen; nominating committee, Mrs. Fred A. Wetherbee, Joseph N. Palmer and Fred W. Stone.

DEATH OF STEPHEN MOORE

Well Known Resident of City for Over 40 years Passes Away

With the death last Sunday of Mr. Stephen Moore of Oakleigh road, the city loses an old time resident, the deceased having moved here over 41 years ago.

Until this winter he kept up active business life but with failing strength was finally confined to his bed.

Mr. Moore was born in Sudbury, Feb. 9, 1835. Early in life he entered business in Boston with S. B. and Homer Rogers as partners under the firm name of S. B. Rogers & Company.

Church, of which Mr. Moore was the senior deacon; George A. Marsh, representing the Market Trust Company of Brighton; L. B. Rogers, representing Mr. Moore's business interests; Albert H. Curtis, the Baptist Social Union; Robert Walker, the State Sunday School Association, and Mayor E. O. Childs, representing Mr. Moore's fellow citizens.

The active bearers all close friends and church associates were J. William Blaisdell, Edward P. Tuttle, Frank W. Chase, William A. Somerby, Harold P. Fuller, Walter C. Wye. The body was placed in a receiving tomb in Newton Cemetery, awaiting burial.

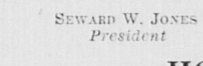

He is survived by his wife, who was Alice R. Goulding of Natick; two sons, Leslie R. of Concord and Clarence V. Moore of Newton; and two daughters, Mrs. Arthur J. Ball of Bloomfield, N. J., and Mrs. Leslie H. Naylor of Newton and ten grandchildren.

He had lost by death a son, S. Wallace; and a daughter Ethel A.

THE LATE STEPHEN MOORE
The manufacture of shoe stiffenings and fibre of different kinds finally resulted in the present corporation, the Rogers Fibre Company of which Mr. Moore was treasurer. In religious work especially in the Baptist denomination he had been an active factor. He had been president of the Baptist Social Union and president of the Massachusetts Baptist Sunday School Association for twenty-five years. He was director of the North End Mission and member of the building committee that built Ford Hall.
His long faithful interest in the erection and growth of the Immanuel Baptist Church of Newton and in all Sunday School work was known throughout New England. His poetic writings of which two or three books have been published are much prized.
Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at Immanuel Baptist Church, Newton. Rev. Newton A. Merritt, Jr. officiated, assisted by Rev. Carey Chamberlin of Beverly. Honorary pallbearers were Deacon John F. Lothrop, representing the Baptist

Distinguish between necessities and luxuries: reduce unnecessary expense; build an interest-bearing bank account with money formerly wasted on useless trifles. The happiness and content that come with a constantly growing surplus are ample reward for the small sacrifice involved.
Each passing week brings success and independence nearer for all who regularly deposit fixed amounts in a Savings Account here. Many are surprised at the sum they are able to lay aside as a result of systematically arranged expenditures.
Draw a line between necessary and unnecessary expense and open a Savings Account today.

To have done together great things in the past, to be minded to do great things in the present, that is the essential of a nation.

The binding more firmly together of this nation is the supreme purpose of the great Americanism movement which is rousing all parts of the United States. The problem of reconstruction the larger than at any other period in our history, forces us to look to the past and seek the wisdom of great statesmen who have in former crises, saved the nation. At the anniversaries of two of the greatest Americans, Lincoln and Washington, it is particularly fitting that we consider the qualities that make them stand out as examples of our greatest citizens. In the present industrial crisis, references to Lincoln are constantly emphasizing his belief in hard work, while as we face the serious condition of Wall Street and the foreign money market, Alexander Hamilton and his policies, the basis of the present monetary system, come to the fore. His keen arguments re-awaken our interest in the man and his unusual life and the circle wide to include his contemporaries—Jefferson, Adams, Madison, and Monroe. The next period calling to the front great men was that of the Civil War when in that tragic period of strain Lincoln and his cabinet appeared, also Grant, Lee, Sherman and Sheridan. The next most outstanding figure in the wedding of the nation is that of Theodore Roosevelt. Repeatedly in the last few months has this great man been quoted yet so great is the appeal to the American people of his virile personality that once more we quote from him. This week in Boston and its vicinity being especially devoted to Americanization, its importance as expressed by him is of interest. "The nation collectively will be able to be of real and genuine service to each of us individually; and on the other hand, the wisdom of the collective action will depend mainly on the high individual average of citizenship."

DEATH OF MR. D. H. MCWAIN

Mr. Daniel Hubbard McWain, for many years a prominent resident of Newton Centre, died at his home at 222 White street, Waverley, on Monday, last week, after a very long and trying illness.

Mr. McWain was a native of Watford, Maine, where he was born on August 8, 1847, and where he attended school in his youth. He came to Newton Centre about 40 years ago, and for 36 years was in the hardware and furniture business, first in White's block and later in the Associates' property on Centre street. Together with his family he made his home at 35 Pelham street, the property being sold only a few months ago, and Mr. and Mrs. McWain going to Waverley to live, because they were unable to find accommodations in Newton Centre.

Before coming to Newton Centre he married Miss Clara E. Cross, also a native of Maine, and he is survived by her, by one son, Mr. D. Ernest McWain, of Wellesley Hills, and one daughter, Mrs. Edith M. (Raymond) Spellman of New York.

The burial was in the Newton cemetery.

REAL ESTATE

Barbour & Travis report having sold for estate of Mary A. Nickerson the property situated at 31 Elm street, West Newton, consisting of dwelling of 11 rooms, large stable and 19700 feet of land, assessed at $7500, Arleta M. Miner being the purchaser.

The same office report the sale of cottage house and 6250 feet of land at 14 Gilbert street, for Joseph Lebowich to Catherine F. Blaquere.

—Next Sunday evening at half past seven in the Second Church, the Motets by Barnby, Mendelssohn and Gounod will be sung at the Choral Vespers by the chancel choir and solo voices.

—Miss Elizabeth Jack, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. H. Jack gave a very interesting piano recital Thursday evening at Steinhart Hall. Miss Jack was assisted by the Schubert Club and other artists.

—Troop 7 Boy Scouts had five applicants for examination last week before the Norumbega Council Court of Honor. They were Ben Crosby, Neale Lovell, Bingham Walsh, Alfred and Robert Lucas.

—Among those members of the Appalachian Mountain Club who went with the party to Randolph, N. H. for ten days' snow shoeing were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Fabian Bachrach and Mr. and Mrs. W. O. White.

—Rev. Julian Jaynes read a paper on Job before the Women's Alliance at the Parish House of the First Unitarian Church on Tuesday. Mrs. W. B. Nichols, president of the Cheerful Letter Department of the Alliance told of the work of this department.

—A very delightful children's party was held at the Neighborhood Club on Washington's Birthday. A magician showed his delighted audience many wonderful tricks. Dancing and refreshments concluded the afternoon. The program was in charge of Mrs. Charles Sidney Cook, Jr.

—The West Newton W. C. T. U. have arranged to have Dr. Lily Owen Burbank of the State Board of Health give a lecture in the Baptist Church vestry Monday, March 8th, at 8 P. M. Subject, "The responsibility of parents in the social hygiene movement."

—Mr. John Francis Burke died at his late home on Derby street, on Monday in his forty-first year. He was connected with the Prescott C. C. meat market. He leaves a wife, a brother, Michael Burke, a sister, Martha Burke of Waltham. Services were held Thursday, Father Cronin officiating. The burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

—Mr. and Mrs. Donald B. MacClellan are visiting at the home of Lieut. James B. Mullen on Adams avenue, after having just returned from an extensive tour of the country, taken in connection with Mr. MacClellan's work with Stone and Webster Co. Among some of the larger places which they have visited are Grand Rapids, Indianapolis, Norfolk, Va., and Greenville, N. J.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

The first of a course of lectures on "Events of the Day" was given at the Commonwealth Country Club, Chestnut Hill, on Monday, Feb. 9, at 3 o'clock. The lecturer was Barbara Bradford, (Mrs. J. W. Ferguson Kennedy), and the subject was Poland. This course is in aid of Devastated France.

The lecture was illustrated by a racial map of Europe. The impossibility of the Peace Conference at Versailles satisfying all races or racial groups was clearly shown by the map. The heroic sacrifices and martyrdom of Poland during the great war was dwelt upon. The necessity of a strong, safeguarded Poland was explained both against Bolshevism on the one hand and against German aggression on the other. The internationalization of the lower reaches of the River Vistula was also explained and the injustice the Poles felt had consequently been done to them. What and who were to guarantee this internationalization? In reply was read Paderewski's strong appeal for the League of Nations, which he stated was the only thing that could guarantee safety and security to Poland.

The lecture scheduled for Feb. 23, will be omitted, owing to the holiday and a lecture will be added to the course in its stead on Monday, April 26.

SPENCER—PARKS

On Saturday afternoon a wedding of much interest to all of the Newtons took place at the Unitarian Church, Newton Centre, when Miss Hope Thaxter Parks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Thaxter Parks of Devon road, Newton Centre, was married to Mr. Graham Parks Spencer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Franklin Spencer of New York city. The ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock in the Unitarian Church, the Rev. Oscar B. Hawes, pastor of the Unitarian Church, officiating. The bride was given away by her father.

The bride wore a gown of white satin made with a train and trimmed with rose point lace. Her veil was of tulle, and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Ward J. Parks, sister-in-law of the bride, and the bridesmaids were Miss Mildred Hammond of Brookline, Miss Vera Haas of Newton Centre, Miss Helen Taylor of Newtonville, and Miss Marion Tucker of Brookline, a cousin of the bride. The matron of honor wore a lavender satin gown; two of the bridesmaids, satin gowns of pale rose pink, and two gowns of a darker shade of rose. The matron carried Ophelia roses, and the bridesmaids bouquets of lavender sweet peas. All of the attendants wore bronze maline hats and slippers.

The bridal party included also three little flower girls—Rosamond and Dorothy Hall of Newton, and Nancy Parks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ward J. Parks, a niece of the bride. These little girls looked charming in their white frocks with their baskets of sweetheart roses.

The best man was Mr. Philip Worsley Wood of Cambridge, England.

The ushers were Mr. Ward J. Parks of Sherborn, brother of the bride, Mr. G. Mortimer Hatch of Boston, cousin of the bride, Mr. Stephen Oakes Jellerson of Norway, Me., Mr. F. Everett Winslow of Exeter, N. H., Mr. C. Bart Griffith of Newtonville and Mr. Bernard Durgin of Haverhill, Mass.

The church was decorated with smilax and pink roses, while at the house the decorations were of smilax, pink roses and jonquils.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer will be at home after March 15, at 255 West 90th street, New York city.

They couldn't be built now for twice $71,000

When the talk turns from politics to railroads, and the traveler with the cocksure air breaks in with, "There's an awful lot of 'water' in the railroads," here are some hard-pan facts to give him:

American railroads have cost $80,900 a mile—roadbed, structures, stations, yards, terminals, freight and passenger trains—everything from the great city terminals to the last spike.

English railways are capitalized at $274,000 a mile; the French at $155,000; German $132,000; even in Canada (still in pioneer development) they are capitalized at $67,000 a mile. The average for all foreign countries is $100,000.

Low capitalization and high operating efficiency have enabled American Railroads to pay the highest wages while charging the lowest rates.

EDITORIAL

While the clerks at City Hall have all received a substantial increase in salary the past two months, they are all stirred up over the fact that the school committee has used some of the money recently given it to increase salaries in their department, in making extremely large increases in the salaries of its clerks. A hearing will be given the clerks in the near future.

The city received a rare bargain in the purchase of the Eden avenue playground for the absurdly low price of $3500, or about five cents a foot.

Mr. Stephen Moore, whose death it is our sad duty to record this week, has been our ideal of a "Christian gentleman" for many years. We have been highly honored with his helpful friendship for over forty years and have always regarded him as a man of the highest type of Christian character. He was one who carried his religion into every hour and minute of his life and was as sincere and reverent in his business relations as he was in his church. His life has been long and useful and he has more than earned, from our earthly standpoint, all the honors that we hope and pray are waiting in the world beyond. The memory of his saintly character and simple, Christian life will be an inspiration for good among his wide circle of friends.

With all our faultfinding with weather conditions, let us not forget that the unusual conditions place a hard burden upon the men whose duty it is to make our ways pleasant and straight. The city laborers are standing up to the hard, grueling work of the past few weeks in splendid shape and they should have encouraging words instead of complaints. They are doing their best, and their best is considerable, but with nearly two hundred miles of streets and sidewalks, hundreds of catchbasins, and the most severe conditions possible in the removal of ashes and garbage, it is impossible to promptly satisfy everyone. Let us hear our inconveniences with as little complaint as we can and remember that summer is not so many weeks away as it seems.

ALEXANDER—SHOWLER

Announcement is made of the marriage in West Newton of Miss Ethel B. Showler to Alfred Augustus Alexander, who has taken his bride on a wedding journey to Florida. In that State they will visit Mr. Alexander's parents. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Showler, where the ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles Raymond Ross, Ph.D., of the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church. Miss Edith Showler, sister of the bride, was her maid of honor, and the best man was William Gregg of Dorchester. At the reception following the ceremony, the ushers were George W. Taylor of Newtonville and Dr. Henry D. Howard of West Newton. The bridegroom is an Ohio man, and is assistant manager for Massachusetts of a large business concern. Mr. and Mrs. Alexander are to reside in a new home in West Newton which is expected to be completed early in the spring.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The big feature of the week at the State House, was the visit on Wednesday of General John J. Pershing. The General was received with all due honor and heartily applauded both on his appearance in the House and when he was presented to speak. But Governor Coolidge also came in for as much applause when he rose to introduce the distinguished visitor.

Daylight Saving was the principal topic in committee work in the week and there were able advocates both for and against the change of an hour during the summer months. It is expected that the matter will be favorably reported and probably will pass, although the representatives from the country districts are apparently dead set against it.

Miss Cora S. Cobb and Mrs. William Z. Ripley were present at an evening session of the committee on Social Welfare on Tuesday when the bill was heard to raise the age of minors employed in business from 14 to 16 years.

There is considerable talk and probably some fire in regard to the bill for physical training and health inspection of the public schools, which is before Public Health and Education jointly. This bill was heard a week or so ago and strong opposition developed, principally from religious organizations. Newton has a representative on both of these committees and so will have quite a finger in the settlement of this important question.

The great big outstanding fact to a new member of the Legislature is the enormous waste of time in the routine work of the Great and General Court. The fact is always impressed upon busy men who attend the various matters to be heard, but the waste of time inside the House, itself, for instance, is also noticeable. During the past few weeks there have been roll calls of the entire 240 members of the House on some of the most trivial matters. A bill gets leave to withdraw on a committee report. The sponsor for the bill tries to get the bill substituted for the adverse report, loses on a voice vote, doubts the vote and is entitled to a standing vote. On this he is voted down three or four to one, but again insists on a roll call. On this, if 30 men stand up in favor, the roll call is ordered and twenty minutes of valuable time simply wasted in order that the mover of the motion can have the satisfaction of knowing who has voted against him on the matter. Time is also wasted in calling the roll just to allow some legislation to go into effect at once instead of waiting the 90 days required by the I. & R. amendment to the constitution.

In committee time is also wasted, first in waiting for enough members of the committee to appear, usually twenty minutes or a half hour and then in allowing persons to wander from the subject in hand or to allow a committee man to ask questions which could better be asked at some other time, when nobody is waiting.

These are some of the little but annoying things which can be easily seen by any one interested in legislation and the wonder of it all is, that the clear cut recommendations of a special committee made several years ago to expedite legislation, have not been adopted long since.

J. C. Brimblecom.

LIBRARY NOTES

At 10.30 Saturday morning Mrs. Cronan and Mrs. Powers will tell stories at the Public Library. Among these will be the story of Orpheus, the story of Nils, and the story of Thumbelina by Hans Christian Anderson. They will be illustrated by slides.

Books on Peary and on Pennell will be found in the Public Library. The Boston Public Library is exhibiting etchings by Pennell.

On account of the storm the services to the different branches of the Library were somewhat curtailed this week. Last year the automobile delivery of books once a week to the Chestnut Hill and Oak Hill districts numbered 16,180 books, and the delivery to Newton Lower Falls which was begun in June numbered 7,069 books.

AUTO INSURANCE

Automobile insurance at cost is becoming more and more popular with automobile-owners of New England.

The Twin Mutuals, 40 Central street, Boston, are two companies writing all kinds of automobile insurance, and they report an unusually good outlook for this year's business. The snow is bothering the motorists a little right now, but the middle of March should see a great many cars on the road.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by DOROTHY DRAKE

Lasell

Many quaint and lovely Colonial dresses and perhaps a dozen austere "Georges" helped to make the Washington party at Woodland Park a very gay affair last Saturday night. Dresses belonging to the great-grandmothers of some of the girls were brought to light once more and added a delightful touch of the long ago. While most of the costumes were of the "last moment" variety, nevertheless, they showed a great deal of ingenuity on the part of the girls.

A Washington dinner was given at Bragdon Hall and at Woodland, then at 8 o'clock the entire school assembled at the latter place for dancing. The grand march, led by Dr. and Mrs. Winslow and a tiny George Washington, wound back and forth around the many halls, finally making a tour out to the Casino, giving a surprise to the Men's Club.

One of the prettiest features of the party was the stately old Minuet, danced by three graceful Marthas and three very dignified Georges. The steps were so well done and the costumes were so lovely, that it presented a very charming picture. Every girl had such a good time that she felt well repaid for the effort of so much powder in her hair and is eagerly waiting for our Colonial party next year.

The students were privileged Tuesday afternoon to share with the Auburndale Women's Club the lecture on Reconstruction in England and France by Beatrice Forbes-Robertson Hale at the Congregational Church.

The first concert given by the Music Department was enjoyed Wednesday evening. All the departments including piano, organ, voice and violin were represented.

Miss Mullikin, head of the Art Department, has taken a leave of absence and will make an extended tour through the West and later will spend some time in Japan and China.

Mr. Charles F. Towne, associate principal, is attending the National Society for the Study of Education in Cleveland, Ohio, which he will address on "The Organization of Lessons in English for Immigration Classes."

Bligelow School

Several delegates from the older classes attended the public meeting of the American Legion in the High School Hall at Newtonville on the evening of February 17th. Not only did these delegates bring back to their classmates enthusiastic reports of the several speeches, but also some of the spirit of the occasion.

Last Friday, the upper classes assembled in the hall, where Major Raymond Cabot made a very interesting speech on "Americanism." Some patriotic songs were sung and the flag was saluted, after which the classes marched back to their respective rooms.

Allen School

The public exhibition and examination which was to have been held at the Allen School this week has been postponed until the Spring term on account of the prevalence of the grippe.

Richard T. Loring, Jr., is on the honor roll for the past term. "Post Echoes," the school paper, is to be revived.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

"Has your club provided any good music for your community suitable for children to hear?" is a question raised by the Music department of the State Federation in the current number of the Bulletin. The suggestion is made that the Women's Clubs over the State furnish good concerts for the children of their respective communities. If that is impossible, at least, there are in every community organs, where recitals could be given. It is not worth our best effort to give the youth an opportunity to know the best music?

"Can we, as clubs, help to improve the dance music of the times by having good orchestral orchestras furnish the music at our club dances?" Let us be sure that good songs are sung at our community sings. Remember the slogan of the Music department this year is, "Better music for the movies."

Lists of musical compositions containing nothing but good music that is appropriately arranged to fit different scenes of action in a motion picture have been made out with the hope that local music committees will urge that these be used in the local picture houses.

Newton Federation

The meeting postponed from Wednesday of this week will be held Wednesday, March 10, at the same place.

Local Announcements

At the meeting of the Christian Era Study Club, March 1st, which will be held at the home of Mrs. Ernest F. Drew, 324 Central street, the second Shakespearean reading, "The Tempest," will be given by Mrs. Drew, Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Edmonds.

Mrs. G. A. Salmon of Walnut street will be hostess for the meeting of the Monday Club of Newton Highlands on March 1st.

The Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. will meet with Mrs. Hiram A. Miller on Monday afternoon.

The March meeting of the Newton Mothers Club will be held on the fifteenth instead of the coming week.

On Monday evening the Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls will have a musical program given by professional musicians.

The Auburndale Review Club will continue its study of Poland at its meeting on Tuesday, March 2nd, which will be held at the home of Mrs. Herbert H. Longfellow of Grove street.

At the meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club on March 2nd, Miss Amy Sacker will tell of her work as art director of the moving picture studios of California, where for fifteen months she was in charge of the patriotic and allied propaganda. Club singing will begin at 2.30 with Mrs. A. L. Wakefield at the piano and Miss Eleanor Leete as director. The choral class will meet after the program.

After the business meeting of the Social Science Club next Wednesday morning Miss Bertha M. Boody, dean of Radcliffe, will make a brief address upon the importance of Latin in the high schools.

At ten o'clock on Thursday morning Miss Bessie Talbot Salmon will give her musical lecture on "Songs of Old France," before the Newton Centre Women's Club.

The Ladies' Home Circle will hold its regular meeting at the G. A. R. Hall, Newtonville, on Thursday, March 4. As the bad weather has interfered with the work it is hoped a large number will attend.

On Wednesday, March 3rd, at 2 o'clock, the Newton Community Club will act as hostess for the meeting of the Presidents' Club of Boston at the Hunnewell Club, Miss Katherine Dayton will give a program of acted songs followed by a reception and tea. Members of the Community Club are entitled to attend this meeting up to the seating capacity of the hall.

Professor Blakeslee's current events lecture will take place on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

On March 25 the Dramatic committee will present, "Her Husband's Wife," by A. E. Thomas. In order to have an adequate stage and room for all who may wish to attend, the play will be given at Players' Hall, West Newton, with performances both afternoon and evening. Members must send applications for tickets to Miss Sally Cutler, 44 Montrose street, Newton, before March 5th in accordance with the notice which is being mailed to each member.

The postponed meeting of the Current Events class, Woman's Club of Newton Highlands, with Mrs. W. C. Crawford, lecturer, will be held Friday morning, March 5th, at 10.30, in the vestry of the Congregational Church.

Local Happenings

On Tuesday afternoon, February 24, the Auburndale Woman's Club and the members of Lasele Seminary had the pleasure of hearing Bertrice Forbes-Robertson Hale. Her subject was "Reconstruction in England and America," and her talk intensely interesting and practical. In her introduction she said there is confusion of mind as to reconstruction, especially in countries where there has been no destruction. Since the war was for democracy, peace must justify democracy. The problems of reconstruction were divided into three parts: First, those bearing on the physical well-being of mother and child; secondly, the education of the child up to 18 years; and thirdly, the labor question. A large factor in the present unrest is due to the laborer having no personal relation to the work, hence the great need for joint industrial councils. In closing Mrs. Hale said, Woman's part in reconstruction is in the dual capacity of mother and of half-citizenship.

Mrs. Wolcott Calkins presented a very able paper on "Some Present-Day Solutions of Labor Problems" at the meeting of the Social Science Club on Wednesday morning. Mrs. Calkins divided her paper into two parts, in the first giving a brief historical survey of the causes of unrest and an account of the Craft, Trades, Industrial, and Labor Unions, of the American Federation of Labor and of the I. W. W. In the second part, she discussed some of the solutions, arbitration, profit-sharing and the present attempt on the part of labor to obtain some control of the industries themselves. The real solution, however, the time-old one, that every man look not to his own things alone, but to those of others as well.

It is many years since the club has had the privilege of listening to a paper by Mrs. Calkins, so that it is to be regretted that the storm should have deprived many of that opportunity. An added interest to the morning drive and the afternoon drive was the presence of Miss Mary Calkins, who was one of the charter members of the club, and who assisted her mother by entering into the discussion and in answering questions.

Professor Dallas Lore Sharp lectured before the Newton Community Club Thursday afternoon on "Education for Democracy." As Professor Sharp's address has already been reviewed in this column in connection with a previous meeting, any further account is unnecessary save to say that it was listened to with great interest and that it stimulated thought among his audience, although they may not have been ready to accept all his premises.

Miss Lena Farrar spoke briefly on behalf of the National Y. W. C. A. Drive and the chorus sang, "Come Sweet Morning."

LODGE NOTES

Newton Lodge No. 92, I. O. O. F. held an initiatory degree last evening, and two candidates were initiated. There was a very small attendance, owing to poor transportation and cold weather, next Thursday evening, March 4th, there will be another initiatory degree as several candidates to be initiated are sons of prominent Odd Fellows of this lodge. It is hoped a large attendance will be present. Refreshments will be served. The second whist party of a series of five will be held next Monday evening, March 1. All come and have a good time as well as making this a success. Refreshments.

DEATH OF MR. RUBY

Mr. Edward H. Ruby, the member of the school committee from Ward 5 died last Sunday at his home on Saxon terrace, Newton Highlands, after several months' illness with heart disease. Mr. Ruby was 41 years of age and a lawyer by profession and for more than ten years was associated with Judge George W. Anderson, now on the circuit bench. Mr. Ruby graduated from Harvard in the class of 1901. He was serving a three year term as a member of the school committee. He was a member of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church, a member of the Newton Highlands Improvement Association. He has always taken a deep interest in village affairs and was prominent in the work of the Improvement Association. He is survived by a widow and four children, Constance, Mary Adelaide, Richard G. and Virginia Ruby.

There was a large attendance of friends and business associates at the funeral services on Tuesday afternoon, at which Rev. Dr. George T. Smart, officiated.

Honorary pallbearers were Judge George W. Anderson, Seth Crawford, Mr. Ruby's partner; Dr. Mark Bradley of Hartford, Conn., and George H. Mirick of Worcester, brothers-in-law of Mr. Ruby; and Hubert Dennie and Albert Mellen of Newton Highlands. The body was taken to the Mt. Auburn Cemetery crematory.

WALDORF THEATRE, WALTHAM

In a play described as one of the most lavishly produced pictures of the season, Eugene O'Brien will appear before local patrons of the screen in his new Selznick Picture, "The Broken Melody" at the Waldorf Theatre, Waltham this week Friday and Saturday. "The Broken Melody" is a romantic story of two young artists, a painter and a singer, who attempt to climb the ladder of fame through the sacrifice of their love for one another, only to find that love is the force that drives all ambition to success.

The Monday Class of St. John's Church will have its first meeting March 1st, at 4.00 at the Church.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Willey and Master Raymond Willey, Jr. of Pittsburgh, Pa., are staying at "The Northfield."

Next Monday night will be Boy's Night of Central Club. It will be "Campers Night" with a typical army supper.

The Woman's Guild of St. John's Church met with Miss Casey on Otis street, on Wednesday. Members are sewing for a sale.

The Women's Auxiliary of St. John's Church will meet every Monday during Lent in the Choir Rooms and will sew until four o'clock.

The Woman's Association of Central Church met Wednesday to sew for Miss Kinney's school. Tea was served. Mrs. Wyatt and Mrs. Deatur acting as hostesses.

Sunday evenings at St. John's Church there will be no regular service, but there will be singing of hymns, led by Mr. H. B. Potter, and a Five Minute speaker.

Mrs. Nell Page Cony died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Stanley E. Horton of Otis street on Saturday. She was 69 years old. Services are to be held at Augusta, Maine, where the body was taken for burial.

The Central Guild of Central Church met Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Catherine Wakefield, Highland avenue. The topic was "The Crusade of Compassion" and the leader, Miss Ethel Sherman.

The new community chorus organized under the direction of the Sunday Evening Club of Central Church held its first rehearsal Monday evening. Mr. William Lester Bates is the conductor. All who enjoy singing are invited to join.

The bridge party given at the home of Mrs. A. I. Hunt on February 16th for the benefit of the Endowment Fund added $41. to the amount on hand. From the food sale held some time ago we netted $70.00. Every little bit helps. Make it grow.

The Every Saturday Club will meet on February 28th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Prescott, 271 Crafts street. The subject for the evening is "Puritans and Indians," with Mrs. J. R. Prescott, chairman, assisted by Mr. John Daboll and Mr. Fred S. Retan.

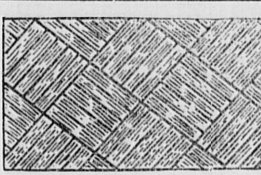

A 100 per cent subscription from Smith Alumnae in Newtonville is our record. To assist us in raising the additional amount necessary to reach our quota the following advisory committee of men has been formed: Mr. William B. Arnold, Mr. Charles F. Avery, Mr. H. H. Ballard, Jr., Mr. Howard Hackett, Mr. A. Ellis Hunt, Mr. Merton S. Keith, Jr., Mr. Isaac T. Litchfield, Mr. Albert M. Lyon, Mr. Henry J. Nichols, Mr. Rupert C. Thompson, Mr. Harry C. Wear.

Notwithstanding the storm there were 65 present at the first meeting of the Newton Community Chorus which met at Central Church, Monday evening. Mr. William Lester Bates conducted and has consented to take charge of future rehearsals. Under his inspiring and skilful leadership the organization bids fair to be a fine success. The next rehearsal will be Tuesday next at 8 P. M. (March 2), at Central Church. It is hoped that 100 singers will enroll.

We Make Deliveries in the Newtons

MEMORIAL CERTIFICATES

We are able to give this week the addresses made last week at the Newton High School by Lieut. Gov. Channing H. Cox, Mayor Edwin O. Childs and Sailor Ryan, when memorial certificates were presented by Captain Morize in behalf of the French government to the parents of Newton men who had given their lives in the great war.

Lieut. Gov. Channing H. Cox was the next speaker and said in part:

It is a privilege which I value highly to be permitted to come here tonight as a representative of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and join with you in giving honor to those men of Newton who gave the last full measure of devotion for their country's cause, for the cause of humanity. We rejoice that our great ally has seen fit to show her appreciation of the character of the services that were given, and to send to us certificates expressing the sympathy and the appreciation of the people of France. And in these days when there are those who would bring about misunderstandings between the nations, when there are those who would break asunder those historical ties of common respect and of historical and friendly co-operation between the nations, I believe that this act of simple justice, this message sent direct from the hearts of the people of France, this expression of sympathy and appreciation sent to the hearts of the American people will go far to hold in closer and stronger union those two great and strong republics who ought never to misunderstand one another, who through the dark days of the war stood shoulder to shoulder, fighting for the preservation of their ideals and the rights of humanity—those great free republics, America and France.

It becomes my great privilege to come here and say what every citizen of Massachusetts would say had he the opportunity, a word of appreciation and gratitude, and pledge ourselves to hold dear always the memory of those who by their voluntary and devoted service and by their great sacrifice made it possible for us of this day to say of Massachusetts, as has been possible for many a day, in every crisis of the nation, that Massachusetts answered the call.

It is also a great privilege to be permitted to say a word in appreciation of the American Legion under whose auspices we have gathered tonight. The American Legion—that great organization which has come into being and which shows such strong indications of its power of leadership in the right direction—that organization which today is not only teaching its own members how they may discharge their obligations to the community and to the country but are holding up the true standards of Americanism and making them attractive for all to follow and uphold. The American Legion, I believe, is the instrumentality by which the choicest memories of the war its noblest traditions and its costly lessons, may be preserved and may be disseminated and may be cherished for the benefit of all. Fortunate indeed are we when at a time when we need strong and virile leadership that we have promised to us the leadership of such a great body of men as are included in the American Legion. For today as never before we need a strong and virile leadership which will not compromise with wrong, which will not bow their heads in surrender to any individual or any group of individuals, who are seeking selfish privileges; and who hold tenaciously to the principles of Americanism as we have been taught to know true Americanism, daring to insist that the government follow its great purpose of providing opportunity for all men; then daring to insist that everyone in our boundaries make the most of his opportunity, that he play in tune, that he march in step, that he carry his own weight, and if he is willing to do that, then to go elsewhere; daring to insist that we follow the old tried and true doctrine that America must be only for those who love America and who are willing to support its institutions for all time. To such leadership, I believe, the American Legion can look forward with confidence and with great hope that those aims may be achieved.

But tonight we are saying something of sacrifice. When we think of young men giving months and years of their lives, when we think of fathers and mothers sending their sons to war, and we remember that some of them have not come back and some of them will never return, when we think of the great burdens which all of us have been obliged to assume and which are likely to be with us, lo, these many years, and when we think of all the sacrifices, all the wreckage, and all the waste, isn't it our duty while to preserve whatever there is that is good and helpful out of it all? When we were at war every good citizen tried to do everything within his power to make the cause of America triumph; every good citizen wanted to be a part of the great war machine to carry on, and in such a time as that every petty jealousy disappeared, and the barriers of race and religious prejudice were laid low, and we were called upon to put our Americanism above everything else, and we triumphed. If the institutions of America were worth going to war to preserve, then they are equally worth working to preserve in times of peace against any domestic foe.

So, let us keep alive the spirit of Americanism which we developed during the war, and let it be the glory of our day and my day and generation that we held true to the foundations of our great American institutions and that we stood ready to serve the interests of true humanity here and abroad and that we transmitted, not tarnished, but shining and bright, the priceless heritage of the fathers of our government to the end that freedom, justice, and righteousness might endure; and that we held true to the ideals of that emblem of the fathers—the adoration of one hundred millions of people—the hope of a divine humanity—the red and white and blue—Old Glory.

Mayor Edwin O. Childs said in part, "We have had an experience which we will never forget. 'Greater love hath no man than this: That he lay down his life for his friend.' And when he lays it down for his country, he does all that any man can do. And greater glory can no man have than when he gives all for his country. And so tonight we honor the living and the dead."

I just want to say to these fathers and mothers, and these brothers and sisters who are here tonight that with you there are more than forty thousand people in this city who share the Christian's hope. And I just want to ask you to remember one thing; for shadows are only cast where there is light behind, and the great light is our eternal hope.

First, to call to mind the achievements of the living and of the dead. And second, to so plan for the future as to justify the costly sacrifice that has been made in our behalf. One of the blessings of this war has been the birth of the American Legion. It is going to mean to this country in the future what the Grand Army of the Republic has meant for more than fifty years. It is going to be an influence and a power for good, because its aims are high and it is truly American. Already a great work has been cut out for this organization.

Conditions do not change very much, and circumstances and human nature do not change very much. And so at the close of the war we have a similar situation to what we had at the beginning. The same perils face us now as faced us then. There is still the danger of overconfidence; there is still the danger of a lack of unity and forbearance and foresight on the part of our people; there is still the danger of the unwillingness to pay the price of peace. It is a great deal easier to win war than it is to win peace and keep it, both for men and nations. Let us not lose the fruits of victory. Those things which the war was won to achieve—all those we must guard against losing. It seems to me that our bulwark is going to be the American Legion. So in these critical days when great performances face us and great tasks are ahead of us—withal, it is a great time indeed to be alive, and it is a great time to be alive and young, and I am glad there are so many of the young people here tonight—the boys and girls—to witness these exercises and ceremonies. I say it is a great thing to be alive and young these days, and I feel if we are going to have a part in the making of that history which lies immediately ahead of us, that history that is going to be made a day at a time and by an act at a time and to feel also the responsibility that is going to rest upon us, not only in the eyes of those who are coming after us but in the eyes of God. It is a great responsibility and a great honor.

The keynote of the American Legion is Americanism, and that is the process by which we get into the hearts of men. The real American spirit—and there is need of that spirit today, not only in the hearts of the foreign born but in the hearts of some of us who are native born. I have some very good friends who believe that the government of this country ought to be a government of the few, by the few and for the few. And I have some mighty good friends who believe that this government ought to be a government of the capitalists, by the capitalists, and for the capitalists. And I have some equally good friends, who think ought to be a government of the laboring men, by the laboring men, and for the laboring men. But my friends, the truly American idea is this: That it is a government by all the people, of all the people and for all the people. And that, it seems to me, is the idea that the American Legion is going to strive to defend. If it is true, then we have a particular duty, and that is the duty of starting right. And so, let us not lay the emphasis at the start so much on party, nor so much on condition in life. Let us not lay the emphasis on the fact that we are Republicans or Democrats or Independents; let us not lay the emphasis on the fact that we are Catholics or Protestants or Jews. Let us not lay the emphasis on the fact that we are rich men or poor men, or that we are wise men or ignorant men. But let us lay the emphasis where the American Legion lays it, on the fact that we are Americans and brothers sharing responsibilities of citizenship in what we believe to be the greatest nation on the earth.

Mr. Henry J. (Sailor) Ryan spoke as follows:—

Remembering the deep and fine sense of appreciation that is always a characteristic of the French people especially when we go back to the days of the American Revolution when the most perfect government of all the experiments of man was formed, and Lafayette said, "The moment that I heard the name America, I loved her; from the moment that I learned of her struggle for liberty, I was seized with a desire to shed my life's blood in her cause."

I thought for a word of appreciation to express to those nearest and dearest to the fallen, the appreciation and the esteem, the eternal esteem, in which these boys are held in the hearts of the French people, and I feel that the occasion is too solemn for any words of mine.

But I am doubly impressed because of the significance of this week and of this occasion, of these hours in which we are living. Three years ago America met to most of us not much more than a geographical name; it represented a particular portion on the map. It appeared to be a good country to live in, and the highest ambition of most of us was to see how much we could make out of it. America was a sponge saturated with riches, and we all hoped to squeeze out our share of them. And then across the shining countenance of the land came the somber shadow of war. We heard a voice calling to us, "What have you to give to your country?" Then we began to realize that America was something more than a playground for us; something more than a field for selfish exploitation. In those sands of souls new thought were stirring; thoughts of liberty, of national security, of national honor. In a thousand small homes a new light was breaking, a light that shone with inspiring radiance upon the flag of flags, Stars and Stripes. On that day a new generation was born; heedless boys became men, and mere wanderers across the land became the defenders and protectors of their country.

During the Boxer Revolution in China, a representative of the United States was explaining to the group around him the nationality of the Allied flags as the relief column entered the city of Peking. "That," said he, pointing to one of the banners, "is the flag of the German Kaiser. And that," as another flag passed by, "is the flag of France; and that," as a flaming emblem went by, "is the flag of Great Britain, upon whose dominion the sun never sets." And then, as another swept into view, electrified with pride, he stood erect. With respectful admiration and a strange beauty illuminating his face, and in solemn words that seemed like a benediction, he said, "That is my flag; not the flag of Kaiser, king or emperor, but my flag and your flag."

So, today to four million young men that flag has a new meaning and a new significance. It is their flag as never before, and their country. Into the fabric of our national life has been woven their thoughts, their hope and their ideals, and that flag is now interwoven with the white of their hope, the blue of their courage, and is dyed with the warm red of their blood.

America, great mother of us all, and the hope of the world, in the strong hearts of these young men, awakened and reborn, is your bulwark, your defense, and your glory. But what is this great glory that is America that we speak of tonight? The answer of a poet would be, "America is the most beautiful flower in the garden of humanity." The answer of a student of history would be, "America is the nearest approach to perfection in government that weak and fallible men can attain." The clergyman would answer, "America is the crowning majesty of Almighty God's handiwork." But neither the imagination of the poet, nor the deep study of the historian, nor the eloquence of the clergyman, can answer this question. You cannot answer this question, my friends, in a hundred or a hundred thousand words of histories of its glories. Thousands have written about it, but its depths remain untouched. The poet has sung its praises in a hundred thousand pages, but the heights of its glory remain unsung. The pulpit of the country have used the spirit of America as an example for a better life, devoted to their fellow men, to their God, and to their country.

And pray, what is this unsung and untouched glory that has inspired the world? What is this great spirit to which our fathers dedicated our lives and for which our brothers sleep in the bosom of French battlefields? It is my country, you will say. Yes, it is your country, and it is my country. It is America, but what is America? Is it this vast domain of three thousand miles stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific, with its rolling fields and its lofty mountains? Is it these wonderful cities with their beautiful homes and churches? Is it our unparalleled wealth?

No, my friends, these things are not America. America is something more than all these material things. All these things might be destroyed tomorrow, but America cannot be destroyed. America is eternal, for America is truth, and truth is eternal. Let this nation be torn by revolution and dissension; let the flame of anarchy sweep over the land; let the despot and the demagogue deny the people the right to rule themselves; let this great government cease to function, but America will still live on.

What then is this invisible glory, this intangible greatness, that is America? Of what does it consist? It consists, my friends, of the hopes, the ideals and the beliefs that grip our hearts and hold us. These three elements made America. Before America was discovered, they made America, back in the bygone day when our forefathers risked a thousand dangers of the unknown seas to seek in the New World a better relationship between man and man, and between man and his character. These three relationships—their belief, their living and their death—these three things, America made her what she is, and left to us the unbroken and unforgettable spirit of democracy. America, thy great worth is eternal in the human heart. These are things that move us to pledge to thee our sacred honor and our unflinching loyalty.

But how comes it in this hour of victory, in this hour that should be filled with rejoicing, that we are fearful of America's future and the future of the world? How comes it that we rejoice tonight, still we are fearful? How comes it that while America is admired by all the world, she is also despised by many who live among us, enjoying our prosperity and the privilege of our freedom? It so happens, my friends, because of ignorance, of cowardice and of distrust. Ignorance can be and must be overcome by truth and understanding. The great Washington said in his Farewell Address, "We must teach the people to learn and to protect their own rights, to observe and provide against invasion of them, to discriminate the spirit of liberty from licentiousness, guarding the first, and repelling the last." It is well to listen to this warning in these trying hours. Let us teach men and women to learn their own rights. Let us teach all men so that they do not in ignorance tear down, but that they shall be willing to live for, and if need be, die for our ideals. Let us teach them a respect for our government, and they will have it when they learn of our history, because they will know its splendid traditions, and that it is a bulwark provided against wrong and injustice. To those who are engaged in secret work to overthrow our government let us say, "We know you and we know your works. Freedom of action, freedom of speech is yours, as it is ours. The protection of our flag is your protection. The honor of our cit-

—Mr. Harold Dougherty and members of the whist club of which he belongs, spent Washington's Birthday at Jaffrey, N. H.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Webber and Miss Anna M. Whiting of Washington street have gone to Florida for several weeks stay.

—Owing to weather conditions the meeting of the Unitarian Club which was to have been held on Wednesday evening was postponed.

—Buildings Commissioner Walter R. Forbush has returned from a convention of the National Building Commissioners held in Chicago.

—Mrs. Francis E. Stanley and her daughter, Mrs. Prescott Warren, leave Saturday for Pinehurst, North Carolina, where they will spend the month of March at The Carolina Hotel.

—Mr. William R. Balch, formerly war correspondent of the Transcript gave a stimulating lecture on Monday evening at Hunnewell Hall under the auspices of the Read Fund. He scored the government for its apparent indifference to the moral issues of the war, but felt confident that eventually the American people would do what was right.

—Channing Alliance held an interesting meeting on Tuesday afternoon when Rev. Oscar B. Hawes was the speaker. Mr. Hawes drew his thoughts from out of his experience overseas and from the unsettled conditions of this reconstruction period. To meet the present needs, it is the duty of the churches to hold fast to the truth and to see to it that the principles of righteousness and justice are maintained. Tea and a social hour followed.

Newton

—Mr. George Banks, son of Mr. William F. Banks, the sexton of Grace Church, died at his home in Belmont last Sunday. He leaves a widow, and two children, Harold and Frederick. Mr. Banks was a printer in the Liberty Bell Press, Cambridge, Mass. Services were held at Grace Church on Wednesday at 2:30, the Rev. Laurens MacLean, officiating.

DEATH OF MR. WHITTEMORE

Mr. George Reed Whittemore died on Tuesday at the Newton Hospital as the result of injuries received on Oct. 27th, when he was run down by an automobile. He was struck after leaving an electric car at the corner of Commonwealth avenue and Centre street, Newton Centre and taken to the Newton Hospital where he has endured four months of intense suffering.

The funeral services will be held this afternoon at the home of his only son, Mr. Henry R. Whittemore, 126 Glen avenue, Newton Centre and the interment will be in the family lot at Hillsboro, N. H.

Mr. Whittemore was born at Andover, N. H., May 21, 1845, the son of Reed Page and Sarah Elizabeth Dodge Whittemore. He married Helen D. Grimes of Hillsboro, N. H., Nov. 24, 1870. He was engaged in the wholesale produce business in the market district of Boston from 1868 to 1916. He was a member of White Mountain Lodge I. O. O. F. and Pennacook Encampment of Concord, N. H., and a charter member of Dorchester Lodge of Masons. He made his home for 30 years at Ashmont and since the death of his wife in May, 1917, he has lived with his son, removing with him to Newton Centre last June. Besides his son he is survived by two grandchildren, Helen Coes and Richard D. Whittemore.

PROF. H. H. POWERS' LECTURE

Italian problem is the most difficult problem from the great war.

The mouth of the Adriatic is very narrow—only 40 miles across and easy to bottle up. The eastern coast of the Adriatic is very different in character from the Italian.

As to the Istrian peninsula—Trieste on west side has a fine harbor, and Fiume on east side has a landlocked bay.

In 1910, with consent of England, Italy made war on Turkey and seized Tripoli. She tried to take Avlona, but failed, so she took the islands including Rhodes, Turkey passively resisting until Balkan war when Turkey made peace with Italy which still holds those islands, an utterly unnatural arrangement—as there are no Italians there.

In the great war, Italy remained neutral on the ground that Germany had made aggressive war and therefore she was not bound by the terms of the Triple Alliance. Germany tried to keep Italy neutral. France and England needed Italy to engage forces of Austria so that they could not join Germans on the western front. In return they promised Italy the eastern coast of the Adriatic, including Avlona, and Corfu—ideal naval bases—Durazzo and Cattaro. Trieste is an Italian city but not connected with Italy by Italian territory.

The original city of Fiume is over 50 per cent. Italian, but the suburbs are almost entirely Slavonic. Of entire Dalmatian coast, only about 6 per cent. is Italian—rest is Croat or Slav. Allies have promised Trieste to Italy, this will enable Italy to levy tribute on other nations with whom she is not in sympathy. The pact of London did not mention city of Fiume, which Italy also wants.

Italy wants Trieste and Fiume because she does not want Jugo-Slavia to have access to the sea, and so would make the development of that new country impossible. Italy is entitled to a naval base on the Adriatic, and Avlona in Albania would give her control of both sides of the narrow straits of Otranto.

Italy should have the Trentino. The Dalmatian coast should go largely to Jugo-Slavia to whom it really belongs.

If Italy gets what she wants—the entire east coast of Adriatic. She will have no fear of a hostile navy developing, and will be safe by sea—but the long and arbitrary line where there is no natural line—necessitating an army of occupation against a people who would be bitterly hostile and outraged, constitutes a real danger and the whole Balkan peninsula will be hostile, and the peace of world requires that she be satisfied with much less than she demands.

NEWTON CLUB

The Newton Club had a most enjoyable tea on Washington's Birthday afternoon which was very well attended. The ladies also had a bowling tournament. The tournament is to be continued on Wednesdays and Fridays.

Wednesday, Feb. 25, a ladies' and gentlemen's bridge was held.

On Thursday the regular Neighborhood dinner was held, followed by bowling, billiards, cards, and dancing.

Stolen Fruit.

From the Inland Printer, Chicago, Ill.: "On the bottom of a printer's calendar we read the following statement: 'Dull business is often traced to economy in printers' ink.' True, indeed. As we look out over the great field of business we find that the firms which have made the most notable successes are those that have used printers' ink most freely. Emphasize these facts when talking to customers—but first take a dose of your own medicine."

Covered Them All.

At Leicester, England, there is an inn upon the wall of which years ago a pastor wrote: "I pray for all." The village lawyer, seeing in this a means for free advertising, wrote underneath: "I plead for all." One day a farmer thought he was justified in adding: "I feed all," and an army officer passing through the village left: "I fight for all." But an unknown author added the last line by writing: "I take them all—the devil." The host, not wishing to show any partiality, has hung out his sign: "The House of All Five."

DEATH OF MRS. RICHARDSON

Mrs. Frances S. Richardson, who died Monday at the family home, 109 Highland avenue, Newtonville, was the wife of William Cummings Richardson, a Boston architect. Mrs. Richardson was born at Wheeling, West Virginia, and was the daughter of Rev. George W. Webster. She came North when a child, and was married to Mr. Richardson in 1882. She had been active in the Saturday Club of Newtonville, and was a member of the Swendenborgian Church.

Besides her husband she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. W. A. Kemper of Butte, Mont., and two sons, Webster Richardson of Spokane, Washington, and Hadwin H. Richardson, of Newtonville.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday at 2 o'clock at her late residence, the Rev. John Goddard and the Rev. E. M. L. Gould officiating. The burial was in Newton Cemetery.
